and an area wai在

್ಕು ಕೃತ್ತಿ ಕ್ರಾಂಡಿಯ ಪ್ರ

NAT IN WAIT p.J.

(- : - II s

..... ALL 1823 E

Tars

assisting U.N. activity Golan Heights.

India ready for talks with Personal Control of the Contr assisting U.N. activity on the Settlers Start new Settlers Start new Settlers Start new Line Start new Settlers Start new Line enclave there, Palestinians said on Wednesday. The Israeli army lifted a daytime curfew imposed on the city after security forces ambushed and killed three Palestinians on Sunday. An army spokesman said a dusk-to-dawn curfew will remain in effect in Hebron. Settlers laid the cornerstone on Tuesday for a new building which they said would add five families to the city's 400 Jewish settlers. Thousands of Israelis on Passover holiday visited the town on Tuesday as Hebron's 110,000 Palestinians were confined to their homes under the military curfew. Hebron city officials said the settlers did not apply for a building permit and therefore the construction was being carried out illegally. A spokesman for the army's civil administration occupation arm said he was checking who authorised the building.

Syria rejects indefinite NPT extension

UNITED NATIONS (AFP) - Syria announced Wednesday it would reject an indefinite extension of the nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty (NPT) unless Israel also signed it allowed international inspections of its nuclear sites. Syrian Foreign Minister Farouk Al Sharaa's statement at the international NPT renewal conference here was a direct challenge to Israel, which is believed to have nuclear weapons. "Syria cannot agree to the extension of the nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty unless Israel accedes to the treaty and subjects its nuclear installations to international inspections," he said. Earlier Wednesday U.S. Vice President Al Gore urged NPT signatories to take their "one-time" option to extend it indefinitely and unconditionally. "The United States believes that it is vital that we take advantage of this non-time option to extend the treaty indefinitely — without conditions," Mr. Gore said. Syria is among the 178 signatories of the 25-year treaty, which took effect in 1970. Only a few countries do not belong. In addition to Israel, India and Pakistan are considered nuclear powers.

Volume 19 Number 5898

AMMAN THURSDAY-FRIDAY, APRIL 20-21, 1995, THU ALQ'EDAH 20-21, 1415

Price: Jordan 150 Fil

guide Spartage CAIRO (AFP) — The air-

international flights for the international flights flights for the international flights flights for the international flights flight Actions involved airport director, Salah Abdul Nam, said Wednesday. For Nam, said Wednesday.

Nam, said Wednesday. flights are to leave interest from for Palestinians coming from for Palestinians coming from Strip and West for Palestinians coming from Palestinians coming from the Gaza Strip and West Bank to conduct the annual pilgrimage to Saudi Arabia."

Penn Daniel to the Palestinians coming from Palestinians comi Published by Sie American and Sank to consider the airmost placed option of the published by Sie American and the airmost and the airmost and the airmost are distant. facilities to passengal port facilities to passengal port facilities in nodernised the airport for the occasion." and silk at equipment for the occasion. equipment to the airport of Al he addes. The day north-Ansa, Sou America Space west of Cairo, has been used west of Canto, man street flights solely for domestic flights solely for domestic inguis-since it was reopened in 1982.
Only Yasser Arafat has used Only rasser Create Only rasser of the Control of th to Tunisia, since moving the autonomous Gaza Strip in July 1994, Mr. Abdul Naim added.

Tunisian official visits Jerusalem

(AP) — A senior Tunisian official visited Jerusalem Wednesday and met with an least adviser of Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat. Said Ben Mustafa, Tunisia's secretary of state for North African affairs, arrived in the West Bank Tuesday from Jordan in I same Jericho and the Gaza Strip. Talifi akat Mr. Ben Mustafa met Wednesday in Arab East Jerusalem with Ahmad Tibi. ----- who same who is an adviser to Mr. ாafat. "We discussed ways and any to strengthen the relationship the minimizer between Tunis and the Palestinian Authority," Dr.

11.00 TEL AVIV (R) — Israel disclosed on Wednesday it has held a Russian spy imprisoned since he was caught in 1988, Israel Radio said. "The spy was Gregory Londin, an engineer by profession, who was recruited in the former Soviet Union to serve as a KGB secret agent, and emigrated to Israel 22 years ago equipped with technical pment," the, radio said. It said he spied for the Soviet Union for 15 years. Mr. Londin was sentenced in 1988 to 13 years for espionage and contact with a foreign agent. it said. Israel's supreme court, which in the past rejected an appeal by Mr. Lon-din, allowed publication of the story for the first time on de de Wednesday, the radio said.

Japan may send experts to Golan

TOKYO (AFP) — Japan may dispatch a team of Self--etence Force personnel to the Israeli-held Golan Heights to assist U.N. peacekeeping activities, news reports said Wednesday. The A CONTRACT OF THE CONTRACT OF possibility of sending such a team grew after a fact-finding mission sent to the Middle East by Japan's three ruling parties supported the patch. patch of a military contingent to the Golan Heights. the reports said. They could leave as early as October. Kvodo News Service said, while Jiji Press said the team could engage in transportation work. The United Nations has asked Japan to replace Canadian troops now talks with Pakistan NEW DELHI (AFP) — Indi-dib, an Foreign Minister Pranab come "a no-man's land" in Mukherjee said Wednesday mukherjee said Wednesday that he was ready for talks with Pakistan "anyplace. rakıstan "anyplace.

anytime" but an upcoming South Asian summit was not the forum for such bilateral fiscussions. "Let us sit down myplace, anytime. at of the job is done and over iscussions. "Let us sit down hyplace, anytime, at any like anytime, at any like anytime, at any like anytime, at a was concerned for her safety. or worried about civil unrest in her country, following the

|Crown Prince urges Arab scholars| CAIRO (AFP) — The airfurnhout last year Al Arish will be used for abuse and slavery on international flights for the international flights flights for the international flights fligh objective dialogue to chart future

HRH, opening Arab Thought Forum meeting in Doha, stresses need for fresh approach

Special to the Jordan Times from Qatar

IN A FRESH bid to reassert Jordan's Arab credentials and explore new avenues of inter-Arab cooperation following the Oct. 26 peace treaty with Israel, His Royal Highness Crown Prince Hassan Wednesday joined forces with his Qatari counterpart to launch a long-awaited meeting of influential intellectuals and thinkers grouped under the Arab Thought Forum.

Most members of the Amman-based forum, which has not met since the start of the Gulf crisis and war, came to this Gulf state not only to overcome the differences that arose among them since Aug. 2, 1990 but also to assess the ments that the Arabs have struck with Israel since then.

When we established the Arab Thought Forum (after the Arab economic summit in Amman) fourteen years ago," Crown Prince Hassan. who is the chairman of the forum, told the group, "we were talking about a decade of development and a joint Arab economic strategy. At the time we thought we were on the threshold of a new stage of joint work. But today we live in an era of uncertainty about and futile search for a new course of action that we could pursue." The Crown Prince went on to explain that a two-pronged strategy was needed now to prepare the Arab World for a brighter future. First, it was the duty of the Arab intellectuals to study what happened in the Gulf, not in order to apportion blame, but to reach understanding and resolutions which would make the recurrence of that tragic situation impossible or near impossible. And, second, to start an objective dialogue based on facts and analysis, on the implications of peace

"Just as we still have different stories to tell about what happened during the Gulf crisis... the peace process (with Israel) is likewise being subjected to positions of justification or rejection without with Israel on Arab coun-

(Continued on page 7)

OKLABOMA CITY (Agencies) — A carbomb ripped a nine-storey hole in a downtown federal office building Wednesday, kill-ing at least 19 people, in-children, and injuring at least 200. Other victims were trapped in the wreckage. Cable News Network said 80 were killed. Paramedic Heather Taylor said 17 children were dead at the scene.

Earlier, officials had said at least two adults were killed. In Washington Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) officials said they had not ruled out a possible terrorist attack as the motive behind the deadly carbombing, but they say for sure. In Oklahoma City, John Magaw, the director of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (ATF), said the blast resulted from the detonation of explosives packed in a vehicle parked in front of the building. Spokesman John Cox

WASHINGTON (Agencies)

— President Bill Clinton

pressed Turkey Wednesday for an early withdrawal from northern Iraq, but Prime Minister Tansu Ciller said she still cannot set a timetable

even though "the majority of Turkish forces are trying to wipe out camps used by Kurdish separatists in the invasion that began four weeks ago. The separatist rebels are fighting for autonomy in

But on the subject of a timetable, Mr. Clinton yielded to Ms. Ciller.

"The reason I cannot announce a date is that would not be fair to those people up in the mountains," she said.

She said her forces were "searching the caves in the mountains for the guns and ammunition that would have been used to kill the inno-

Turkey'ss objectives were limited and were forced because northern Iraq had be-the aftermath of the Gulf limited time. We have gotten hold of the bases that we wanted to do. The majority with," she said in the Oval

She was asked whether she arrests in Turkey earlier

Wednesday of suspects accused of plotting to assassin-

Office session.

"We are there only for a

Even so, she promised that cent.'

the job is done."

southern Turkey.

said scores of others were injured in the explosion, which gutted the ninestorey building in central Oklahoma City.

The explosion was felt 45 kilometres away and left a portion of Oklahoma City littered with injured people Mr. Magaw said about 400 kilogrammes of explosives caused the blast that occurred as people were on their way to work or had ist arrived He said the size of the bomb was similar to the Feb. 26, 1993 World Trade Centre bombing. Six people were killed and more than 1,000 injured in that attack, which cautioned it was too early to authorities said was carried out by a radical group. Asked if Wednesday bombing was a "terrorist" attack, Mr. Magaw said "Anytime you have this kind of explosion, this kind

Clinton presses Ciller

for pullout from Iraq

of damage you have to look there first. Clearly that would be the direction of interest to begin with."

The explosion occurred on the second anniversary of the fiery, fatal ending of the federal siege of the Branch Davidian compound in Waco, Texas. That siege began with a raid by ATF agents on Feb. 28,

White House spokesman Michael McCurry said that security precautions around federal buildings nationwide as well the White "we would normally take following an incident like

President Bill Clinton went ahead with a scheduled meeting with Turkish Prime Minister Tansu Ciller scheduled, but was being kept abreast of developments by his advisors, Mr. McCurry said.

People ran down the streets away from the building where more than 500 normally work, streaming past charred cars and streets cluttered with debris and congested with emergency vehicles.

Medical personnel treated dazed and lightly injured people on the streets while more seriously injured victims were taken away by ambulance to area

A boy and girl under the age of one-year-old were found uninjured in the debris and were taken to an area hospital while calls went out on the airwaves

Randy Sachs, a spokes-man for the Baptist Medical Centre in Oklahoma City, told CNN television that the bospital was "preparing for hundreds of people. We're getting ready for an onslaught of patients."

Dan Voget, an FBI spokesman, said that every available agent and an evidence response team have been dispatched to the scene to interview witnesses and determine the cause of the councillors from the Golan at Council chief Yehuda

Wollman warned Mr. Rabin that Mr. Peres was "trying to drive him into a corner," meaning a position in which he would have to return all the Heights.

Mr. Wollman said that a bill requiring a big majority for a withdrawal from the Golan could soon go before parliament and would be supported by several Labour de-considered that drawn up when Palestine was under agreement with Syria on July 20, 1949.

By June 4, 1967, two days

The international border is the main town Katzrin.

Joint Chiefs of Staff, Admiral William Arthur

His Majesty King Hussein on Wednesday Joint Chiefs of Staff, Admiral holds talks with the vice-chairman of the U.S. Ownes (Armed Forces photo)

King meets vice-chairman of U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff

defence minister, and Adm.

Owens reviewed Jordanian-

American cooperation, especially in military fields, and his meeting with President

Bill Clinton, members of the American administration and also focused on regional developments and the Middle East peace process. The prime minister stressed the Discussion at the meeting congressmen.

AMMAN (Petra) — His Majesty King Hussein, the Supreme Commander of the Armed Forces, on Wednesday received in his office at the Army General Headquarters the vice chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, Admiral William Arthur Owens, who arrived in Amman earlier in the day on a two-day visit to Jordan as part of a regional tour.

King Hussein and Adm. Owens exchanged views on several regional and international issues of concern to Jordan and the U.S.

The meeting was attended by the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, General Abdul Hafez Mirai Al Kaabneh, and the American charge d'affaires in Amman.

need to reach a comprehensive and just solution to the Arab-Israeli conflict. Adm. Owens was also re-

Sharif Zeid also underlined Jordan's keenness to continue the process to ensure a better future for the region. The American admiral

Sharif Zeid, who is also voiced his country's support of Jordan in all fields to enable it to achieve the progress it is seeking, especially in defence. Gen: Mirai also received discussed issues of common Adm. Owens and reviewed interest to the two countries. They also discussed the with him the situation in the outcome of King Hussein's recent visit to the U.S. and

They discussed the Jordanian army's role in peacekeeping operations in various parts of the world and means of enhancing bilateral cooperation.

Adm. Owens is a naval officer who advanced from ensign to full admiral. He is the highest ranking officer in the U.S. Navy and has been the vice-chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff at the Pentagon in Washington since

He was born in Bismarck in North Dakota on May 8,

ceived by Prime Minister Sharif Zeid Ben Shaker. Peace process in peril if Israel does not join NPT — Jordan

nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty (NPT) has not succeeded in stopping the spread of nuclear weapons and certain countries like Israel have succeeded in breaching international controls, Foreign Minister Abdul Karim Al Kabariti said Wednesday.

Delivering Jordan's address to the conference on renewing the NPT, Mr. Kabariti said the world should find suitable controls to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons to deter the exporters as well as the importers of such weapons. "If we consider the situation in the Middle East we find that Israel has maintained its rejection of calls to join the NPT over the past quarter of a century, despite the success of peace efforts between Egypt and Israel, Israel and the Palestinians and Jordan and Israel," he Forcing Israel to sign the NPT and subjecting Israeli nuclear installations to international inspection would prevent any nuclear accidents that result in grave destructive consequences, he said.

he stressed that Israel's signing of the NPT would lead also to further progress in the Middle East peace process and a reduction in the arms race of its countries.

Such move, he added. would also liberate funds which are being wasted on arms and weapons to be utilised in development. The Jordanian-Israeli peace treaty calls for the cretion of a nuclear-free zone and therefore Israel's signing of the NPT would be in conthat led to peace agreements.

formity with the spirit of the peace treaty, Mr. Kabariti

Before considering the idea of extending the NPT, he said. "we should examine the original NPT's objectives and compare them with the achievements on the ground with a view to finding impediments in its way."
Nevertheless, he added,

'we should stress the important role which the NPT had played over the past years, especially that the NPT has succeeded in limiting the number of nations that declared their possession of nuclear weapons."

However, the world community has succeeded in putting an end to the nuclear arms between the two superpowers as a result of ending

(Continued on page 7)

Compromise found in Libyan pilgrimage flights to Mecca

CAIRO (Agencies) — Libya agreed Wednesday to transfer pilgrims bound for Mecca to Egyptian planes rather than violate the U.N. air embargo, Egypt's official news agency MENA reported.

It said Libyan leader Col-onel Muammar Qadhafi, in a telephone call with Egypt's President Hosni Mubarak, decided to keep two Libyan planes which took off with pilgrims earlier the same day at Tobruk airport, 100 kilometres from the Egyptian

The pilgrims would wait for Egypt Air planes to take them to Mecca in Saudi Arabia for the pilgrimage in keeping with a U.N. special Mr. Peres tried Wednesday exemption, MENA said.

"The decision was taken by Col. Qadhafi after a telephone conversation with the Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak after a second Libyan plane took off from Benghazi," the agency said.

The second plane landed at Tobruk, joining a first jet which arrived earlier from Tripoli with 159 passengers, a Libyan diplomat told AFP. He did not specify the number of passengers on the second flight. MENA added that "during the past two days a number of contacts were made between Mr. Mubarak and Col. Qadhafi to exchange views on the matter."

The head of the national carrier, Fahim Rayan, said the Egypt Air planes would go to Tripoli and Benghazi on Thursday to fly pilgrims directly to the Red Sea city of Jeddah near Mecca.

They will be the first foreign aircraft to land in Libya

since the United Nations slapped an air embargo on the country in April 1992 in connection with the 1988

Lockerbie plane bombing. In New York, after the first Libyan plane left Tripoli, the U.N. Sanctions Committee authorised 45 Egypt Air flights between Libya and Saudi Arabia to allow 6,000 Libyans to make the Haj.

Mr. Rayan said that "UN delegates will inspect the passengers and airplanes in Tripoli and Benghazi airports and confirm their flight

(Continued on page 7)

Mark on Your Calendar

Bani Hamida Presents

" Doors of Opportunity "

Thursday, April 27 - Saturday, April 6

at the Jordanian Construction Contractors Association Bldg/Abdoun, Tel 658696

Peres sparks row over Golan pullout

"I am not worried about TEL AVIV (Agencies) the security of my country or myself," she said, "I have a mission — and that mission is a peace mission for the area. And that's what I'm going to discuss with President Clin-

Turkish police said they detained 21 people in Istanbul on Wednesday suspected of belonging to far-left group planning to assassinate Ms. Ciller.

Istanbul anti-terrorist branch seized a pistol and a hand-drawn map of an area in the city where Ms. Ciller has a mansion on the Bosphorus strait, the Anatolian agency said.

Anatolian said the suspects, eight of them women. were members of the outlawed revolutionary People's Liberation Party — Front (DHKP-C) and were planning to kill Ms. Ciller in her private Istanbul residence.

A police spokesman confirmed the agency report. Meanwhile several hundred Kurdish rebels trapped by about 25,000 Turkish troops in a labyrinthine gorge in eastern Turkey are attempting to break out of the army stranglehold, military offi-

"They are trying to escape but we are killing them all," a security official in the eastern province of Tunceli told Reu-

He said 14 Kurdish Labour Party (PKK) guerrillas fleeing Alibogazi ravine and

(Continued on page 7)

Foreign Minister Shimon Peres was at the centre of a storm on Wednesday after saying that Israel was negotiating a withdrawal from the Golan Heights to the international border with Syria.

"In our negotiations with Syria, we are talking about withdrawing to the interna-tional border," Mr. Peres told Israel Television late

He recalled that former Prime Minister Kevy Eshkol had proposed a similar withdrawal in 1967 when Menachem Begin, who became right-wing premier in 1977, was a minister without portfolio in the "national unity" government.

"But Syria is talking about a return to the lines of June 4. 1967," Mr. Peres said, which would give Damascus control of a narow band of land by the Sea of Galilee.

"Peres' statement shows the true face of the prime minister which was hidden during the last elections." raged deputy Uzi Landau. head of the parliamentary party of the right-wing opposition Likud Party.

Before the 1992 elections. Yitzhak Rabin who is now premier swore that Israel would never quit the Golan Heights, but has since made veiled references to the possibility of a full withdrawal.

Likud leader Benjamin

Netanyahu said he would answer Mr. Peres at an emergency meeting of Israeli

British mandate and Syria under the French after World It was adopted by the United Nations partition plan in 1947 and in the armistice before war broke out again, Syria held a small strip of land beyond the border, no wider than three kilometres. Six days later Israel had seized all the Golan, which was "annexed" de facto in to cool anger to his statement telling journalists the government had not agreed to the principle of a withdrawal to the international border. Mr. Rabin has offered a limited withdrawal on the Golan Heights in exchange for a peace treaty covering security arrangements and di-

(Continued on page 7)

CURFEW IN HEBRON: An Israeli soldier patrols the Hebron market in the Israeli-occupied West Bank. Hun-dreds of Israelis paraded and prayed in Hebron on Tuesday while troops kept Palestinians residents under a strict curiew for a third day running (AFP photo)

Egypt and Algeria were already cooperating in training and exchanges of information to combat anti-government militant groups. Egypt hosted a U.N. Conference on Population and Development in September

1994 without incident, despite threats from militants.

tremists aimed at toppling the Egyptian government has left

745 people dead since March 1992.

The justice minister said

Egypt would propose creating a regional centre based in Cairo and grouping

Mediterranean nations for training in crime prevention.

against the environment"

ence agenda, he added.

would also be on the confer-states, as well as the Vatican,

Switzerland and Monaco,

have been invited to the conference. Most are expected to be represented by their justice or interior ministers.

U.N. crimes conferences have been held every five years since 1955. The last one, held in Havana, brought together 123 countries.

Egyptian President Hosmi

Mubarak and U.N.

Secretary-General Boutros

Ghali are to address the Corruption and "crimes

All the U.N. member

A violent campaign by ex-

GCC pledges to fight extremism The head of Egyptian security said Monday that

MANAMA (Agencies) — The six Arab Gulf states on Tuesday vowed to fight "extremism and terrorism" and appealed for increased public vicilance to foil attempts at sedition in the region.

Interior ministers from the six states also pledged their "total support to measures taken by Bahrain to ensure security and stability.' Bahrain has been shaken by violent anti-government demonstrations and attacks on policemen since last December. Bahrain authorities have tacitly accused Iran of exerting its influence on part of the majority Bahraini Shiite community

Bahrain and its allies Kuwait, Saudi Arabia, Oman, the United Arab Emirates and Qatar are members of the Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC).

The council condemns extremism, which leads to violence and terrorism, and totally rejects such actions in all their forms," said a communique issued after an emergency meeting here.
"The GCC is determined to confront this destructive phenomenon, which is incompatible with the spirit of Islam.

The statement called on the people of the region to "increase their vigilance and to take precautions to reject agated by certain parties who are trying to incite discord and perpetrate acts of violence and territorism" in the

Before the start of the meeting, Bahrain Interior Minister Sheikh Mohammad Ben Khalifa Al Khalifa insisted that "the situation is stable in Bahrain and acts of violence and terrorism are coming to an end."

He charged that the recent unrest had been "planned and premeditated," adding that investigations and the religious beliefs of those accused revealed that "an extremist operation" had been behind the violence. But authorities here, while never explicity naming Iran, have indirectly denounced what they say has been Iranian influence on the local Shiite activists. The violence, blamed by western diplomats on economic difficulties, has left 12 people dead, including three policemen. "Bahrain was to be the springboard for destabilising the domestic conditions in the GCC member states... to spread extremism and sedi-He called for the reinforcement of joint security efforts, saying they were "a comprehensive siege against terrorfundamentalism," the minister said. "The incidents were not spontaneous but provoked in implementation of an imported foreign-grown

Egypt conference

Egypt will seek international cooperation to fight terrorism during a U.N. conference on crime prevention to be held in Cairo from April 29 to May 8, Egyptian Interior Minister Hassan Al Alfi said Tuesday.

"There are numerous links between organised crime and terrorism, which creates a need for international cooperation and support under the auspices of the United Nations," Mr. Alfi said. "Terrorism has become world. Therefore it had to be included on the conference agenda," he added. Mr. Alfi was speaking at a joint press conference in Cairo with Justice Minister pervasive throughout the Farouk Seif Al Nasr and Tourism Minister Mamduh -Al Beltagui. Those responsible attacks in Egypt "receive support, funds and orders from abroad," Mr. Alfi said.

"Terrorists in several European and African countries

munications. telegraph and communications system. India is already involved in railways and fertiliser projects in Iran.

India and Iran also agreed

Mr. Rafsanjani repeated an Iranian offer to construct a pipeline to carry petroleum from Iran to refineries in India via Afghanistan and Pakistan.

JORDAN TIMES DAILY GUIDE AND CALENDAR

Bank of Egypt demands compensation from U.N.

GENEVA (Agencies) - A panel of lawyers from Ger-many, the Philippines and Tunisia were on Wednesday and Thursday to examine a claim to the United Nations Compensation Commission (UNCC) from the Bank of Egypt for Gulf war victims. Sources close to the UNCC said the claim was on behalf of more than 900,000 Egyptian workers in Iraq for the alleged non-transference by Iraqi banks of remittances to their families in Egypt.

Sources in Geneva said that Baghdad had questioned the competence of the arbitration committee.

A U.N. spokesman, and an aide to Guiseppe Baldocci, the Italian comm ission chairman, confirmed there were "Iraqi reservations," but did not comment further in the absence of clarification from Baghdad.

The consolidated Egyptian claim - with an asserted value of approximately $500 million — is being examined by a specially appointed panel of commissioners, in-cluding jurists from Germany, the Philippines and Tunisia, said the U.N. statement.

First the panel must decide whether the commission has jurisdiction over the claim, said the statement.

If the decision on jurisdiction is positive, the proceedings will progress to a second round to decide on the substance of the claim.

Both Iraqi and Egyptian representatives were expected to make formal presentations at the oral hearing. Prior to a deadline in July last year for claims related to the Gulf war, the U.N. fund financed by Iraqi holdings blocked abroad reportedly received nearly 2.5 million requests from individuals, companies or governments from 90 countries. They demanded compensation totalling $160 billion.

The governments of Egypt and Iraq filed separate written submissions with the UNCC in Geneva on March presenting their respective views concerning the consolidated claims by the Central Bank of Egypt, said the U.N. statement.
Diplomats said Iraq had told the commission that it would not attend the hearing, submitted a written response snubbing the panel.

to the Egyptian claim.
"The timing is rather suspicious," one diplomat said. "The feeling is that the commission is getting caught up in the broader issue of oil

Iraq's parliament was formally considering the latest U.N. Security Council resolution laying out the conditions for Iraq's return to the oil market.

The resolution, adopted on Friday, would allow Iraq to sell $2 billion worth of oil in the next six months for food and medicine. Thirty per cent of the proceeds would go to the commission to fund compensation payments. Baghdad's reaction to the resolution has been uniformly negative. The Iraqi cabinet, chaired by President Saddam Hussein, rejected it and called it a "dangerous violation of Iraq's sovereign-

Diplomats said the panel, led by German Karl-Heinz Boeckstiegel, would meet irrespective of whether the Iraqis turned up. Egypt would still make its case before the panel.

The panel's first task is to decide whether the Egyptian claim is within the jurisdiction of the commission, whose mandate is to compensate "direct losses" caused by the Iraqi invasion of Kuwait or is a bilateral issue as argued by Baghdad.

Because of Iraq's refusal to make limited oil sales, the commission has so far been starved of funds.

According to the Egyptian claim, Iraqi banks withheld hundreds of millions of dollars in remittances earned by about 900,000 Egyptian workers in Iraq before and just after the invasion. Egypt says that the banks stopped transferring the remittances on August 2, 1990, the day Iraq occupied Kuwait.

Diplomats said the Iraqi Foreign Ministry had sent a letter on Monday to Ambassador Baldocci saying it had not time to prepare properly for the hearing.

But one diplomatic source said the fact that the Iraqis had replied on time to the written submission by Egypt and had indicated last week that they would come suggested that Baghdad had an

NEWS IN BRIEF

Turkish Cypriots fire on Syrian fishing boat

NICOSIA (AP) - A Syrian fisherman was shot dead when his boat was intercepted in waters off Turkish-controlled northern Cyprus, an official radio station reported Tuesday. Three other fisherman were arrested after the vessel was stopped off the Karpas peninsula, Byrak Radio said. The three crewmen were taken before a court and remanded in custody for three days, the report added. It was the second such incident in a week. Last Thursday, Turkish Cypriot authorities opened fire on a Greek Cypriot boat, saying it had crossed into forbidden waters. They arrested the four-man crew, who were still held in a Turkish Cypriot prison.

Cyprus buys Russian armoured vehicles

NICOSIA (AFP) — Cyprus has agreed to buy 43 Russian armoured vehicles for its national guard, at a cost of 40 million Cyprus pounds ($85 million). Government spokesman Yiannakis Cassoulides, quoted by the Cyprus News Agency, said Tuesday the deal was clinched after the Russian government had guaranteed maintenance of the Toma BMP3 vehicles. The Cypriot national guard consists of 10,000 regular troops and nearly 90,000 reservists, all of them Greek-Cypriots.

Boudiaf accused to stand trial next week

en apen

gess Bas

ort tow

Sant Bertieren Section of the section of the

ASS We B WALL

grant news

िंगी भी किया गाउँकी

EARTH WE

of a street

Latin Mich

A Drope Committee of the tien grif up a

"Piper in the

Promit rearty

FILMS

of parts of the same Folia to Dr A 31 5 30 P.m

ALGIERS (AFP) - The much-postponed trial of the alleged assassin of Algeria's former President Mohaham-mad Boudiaf is due to begin next week, legal sources said. But lawyers said trial of the Algerian army officer, Second Lieutenant Lembarek Boumaarafi, could yet be delayed again because of his refusal to mount a defence for the murder of Boudiaf, who was gunned down as he gave a speech in June 1992. Judicial authorities have also been unable to find a lawyer to defend the officer, the sources said. Lt. Bournaarafi is currently being held in Blida military prison in the south of the country, having being transferred from Algiers' Serkadji jail following a riot by prisoners during which he received slight leg injuries. Lt. Boumaarafi told investigators he acted alone out of "religious conviction" in the killing. He was part of the presidential guard when he was alleged to have thrown a grenade at the official stand and shot Boudiaf in the back with a machine-gun as the president made a speech in the eastern town of Annaba on June 1992.

War may be solution for Jerusalem — Shenuda

CAIRO (AFP) — Pope Shenuda III, head of the Coptic Orthodox Church, said war may be the only way for the Arabs to win back Jerusalem, in an interview published Wednesday. Israel "might make concessions on a number of territories but I think Jerusalem is a major obstacle which perhaps can only be solved by war," the partriarch of Egypt's Christians told the government weekly Al Musawwar. "The Israelis are prepared to fight for Jerusalem down to the last bullet and the last man," which will require "a unified Arab position," he added. Pope Shenuda, who opposes visits by Egyptian Christians to the Holy City, has said he would forbid from communion anyone who went to Jerusalem for the Orthodox Easter on April 23. Egypt is home to some eight million Christians, according to unofficial estimates.

8 drug smugglers beheaded in Jeddah

RIYADH (AP) — Seven Pakistanis and a Nigerian were beheaded in Jeddah Wednesday for drug smuggling. matching the record for the number of traffickers executed in a single day in the kingdom. Eight narcotics smugglers, including five Pakistanis and an Afghani, were beheaded in Saudi Arabia Monday. The Interior Ministry said the eight men executed Wednesday were convicted by Islamic courts

ism." "The regrettable incidents maintain links." Cairo gathering. the destructive ideas prop-Iran demands pullout of U.S. warships from Gulf

NEW DELHI (Agencies) — President Hashemi Rafsanjani of Iran on Tuesday demanded an immediate pullout of U.S. warships from the Gulf.

We also believe that it is with the regional states to preserve security and stability in this region, not foreign powers," Mr. Rafsanjani said in a speech in the Indian parliament. The presence of foreign fleets "tend to aggravate tensions," the Iranian president U.S. forces are deployed in the Gulf, ostensibly to guard against renewed Iraqi aggression. The Iranians, who have long aspired to dominate the Gulf, resent the presence of U.S. and European forces in what they consider their sphere of influence.

"We are opposed to the domineering policies of the great powers, particularly U.S.A. and their efforts to exploit international organisations and fora for their illegitimate goals," Mr. Rafsanjani said.

three-day visit to India to seek closer cooperation in modernising its economy. Iran's economy has suffered because of trade restrictions imposed by the United States and a few other Western nations that accuse Iran of sponsoring "international terrorism.

India wants Iranian help in reaching its exports to the emerging markets of Central Asia. On Tuesday, the two nations along with Turkmenistan signed a trilateral agreement to create a trade route from India to Central Asia through the Iranian port city of Bandar Abbas. Indian exports to the Central Asian republics are expensive because they have to go through Russian ports.

Officials said the agreement on extending transit facilities to Indian goods was signed after hectic consultations between the representatives of the three countries. Mr. Rafsanjani was on a

Boris Shikhmuradov, Turkmenistan's deputy prime minister and foreign minister, Iranian Foreign Minister Ali Akbar Velayati and his Indian counterpart Pranab Mukherjee signed the agree-Under the scheme, Indian goods would be shipped to the Iranian port of Bandar-Abbas where they would be taken by road to the Central Asian republics.

India, seeking to increase trade with Central Asia and reducing the growing influence of its arch-rival Pakistan in the region, sought fran's help to win access to a traditional market after losing it following the break up of the former Soviet Union.

India and Iran also signed bilateral agreements covering environmental protection, drug trafficking, cultural ex-

Yesterday's high temperatures; Amman 17 Aqaba 25, Humidity readings; Amman 37 per cent.

USEFUL

TELEPHONE

NUMBERS

NIGHT DUTY

Aqaba 33 per cent.

Dr. Fakher Bilbeisi ...... Dr. Khaldoun Asfour ....

Dr. Yousef Abdo ...

Firas pharmacy ....

Ferdows pharmacy

Al Asema pharmacy

Al Salam pharmacy

Yacoub pharmacy ... Shincisani pharmacy

Nairoujh pharmac

Dr. Favez Al Oadi

Al Quds pharmacy ..... (—)

Dr. Abdul Karim Khashashach

Najib pharmacy.

IRBID:

AMMAN:

11 /28 3 / 22

661912

. 637055

644945 637660

623672

248743

983023

changes, promotion of tourism and cooperation in com-

Officials said India would help Iran in upgrading its to form a joint venture company for exploration and production of oil.

Although Mr. Rafsanjani's visit would lead to closer economic ties, it was unlikely that the two countries would move politically closer. Pursuing free-market reforms. India has improved its relations with the United States. one of Iran's main foes. India also is uncomfortable about Iran's support to Pakistan.

Securing border with Iraq headache for Turkey have any chance of success, ment failed to work for a about the workability of the

ANKARA (AFP) — Protecting its border with Iraq once the military push against Kurdish rebels in northern Iraq is over is a major headache for Turkey.

Ruling out a multinational solution, Turkey is banking on cooperation with the main Kurdish movements of Iraq to patrol the border and stop infiltration by the Kurds of the separatist Kurdish Labour Party (PKK) fighting for its own homeland in Turkey since 1984.

The first obstacle to such a deal is that the Kurdistan Democratic Party (KDP) of Massoud Barzani and the Patriotic Union of Kurdistan (PUK) under Jalai Talabani have been involved in intermittent armed clashes for the past year as they wrestle for control of northern Iraq, where President Saddam Hussein's writ has failed to run since the end of the Guif war in February-March 1991.

Those hostilities are partially to blame for the power vacuum in the frontier zone which allows the PKK for its part to operate at will. To Turkey needs to effect reconciliation between the Iraqi Kurd rivals, an uphill task at present.

The KDP announced a two-week unilateral ceasefire on April 8, but at talks in Tehran with Iranian officials also trying to mediate be-tween the Iraqi Kurds, it demanded that PUK evacuate Erbil, the biggest northern town, before any direct contacts were made. The lack of trust between Turkey and the two rivals is uneven. The authorities here feel closer to the Barzani group, suspecting the Talabanis of being sympathetic to the PKK cause.

After a first mass armed incursion against the PKK in north Iraq in October 1992, Turkey reached agreement with the Barzani movement on policing of the border. It was a logical choice of partnership, as Mr. Barzani's Peshmergas neld the Iraqi-Turkish frontier zone while PUK units were down towards the south-east near the Iranian border. But the policing arrange-variety of reasons, including KDP-PUK clashes. The Talabanis want Turkey to treat them on an equal footing with the Barzanis. They have their eye in particular on a share of the lucrative border trade authorised by Ankara and tolerated by the international community despite the U.N. embargo against Baghdad. The trading, in trucks using the single border post at Habur, consists of bartering Turkish foodstuffs for Iraqi fuel oil. Mr. Barzani's movement controls Habur, and raises taxes on the trading worth some $100,000 a day. Beyond those tactical calculations in the manoeuvring for local power, the nub of the problem for the Turks is how to persuade one lot of Kurds it is in their own interest to make an alliance with Ankara against other Kurds. Contacts with Barzani stalwarts in the Zakho region bode ill for a successful outcome. Politburo member Fadil Mirani voiced doubts Turkish plan and wished Turkey and the rebels "would settle their scores in Turkey, not in the north of Iraq" to force the Iraqi Kurds to help out, Turkey has two not inconsiderable means of pressure available. Firstly, it can threaten to close down Habur, which would dry up KDP revenues. Secondly, as a Turkish di-plomat hinted, it could make the much tougher move to stop offering "protection" to Iraqi Kurds through Operation Provide Comfort, whereby U.N. surveillance of northern Iraq relies on Turkish rearbase facilities. The mandate is renewable every six months, and the next vote by the Turkish parliament is due in June. But that threat would be difficult to carry out because of certain opposition from the United States, which wants current anti-Saddam policy to stay in place, as Deputy Secretary of State Strobe Talbott reminded the government on a visit last

JORDAN TELEVISION

	161: 7/3111-19
13:90 13:36	MME TWO Denise the Menace My Secret Identity NBA
15: 00  6:00  6:30  16:40	Survival Blue Heelers Cartoon for Children L'Ecole Des Fans
19:00 19:15 19:30	Les Cles de Fort Boyard News in French Hancte En Equation The Album Show The Blue Revolution
21:15 22:90 22:20	E. N. G
22-50	Diee Che

PRAYER TIMES

05:57	(Sunrisc) Du
19:12	Maghr
20:34
	CHURCHES

St. Mary of Nazareth Church Sweifleb, Tel. 810740 of God Church, Tcl. St. Joseph Church Tel. 624590.

Church of the Annunciation Tel. 637440. De la Suile Church Tel. 661757 Terrasancia Church Tel: 622366 Church of the Annunciation Tel. Anglican Church Tel. 630851, Tel. Armenian Catholic Church Tel. Orthodox Church Tel. 775261. St. Ephralm Church Tcl. 771751. an International Church Tel.

Evangelical Latheran Church Tel: German-speaking Evangelical Congregation Tel: 684195 The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints Tel. 654932 Church of Nazarene Tel. 675691 The Evangelical Local Church in

WEATHER

Tel. 811295

ment of Meteorology.

Temperatures are expected to rise slightly with winds north-westerly moderate. In Agaba, prevail with winds northerly mod-

Min./Max. temp.

EMERGENCIES Food Control Centre ...... 637111

Civil Detence Department 051111 Civil Defence Immediate Rescue 630341
Civil Defence Emergency 199
Rescue Police 192, 621111, 637777
Fire Brigade 617101
Blood Bank 775121
Highway Police 843402
Traffic Police 896390
Public Security Department 630321
Hotel Complaints 605800
Price Complaints 661176
Water and Sewerage
Complaints 897467
Amman Municipality
Camplaine 200111
Complaints 787111
Telephone Information (directory assistance) 121
Overseas Calls 010230
Central Amman Telephone
Repairs 623101
Abdali Telephone Repairs 661101
Jordan Television 773111
Radio Jordan
Water Authority 680100
Jordan Electricity Authority
815615

Electric Power

HOSPITALS AMMAN:

Hussein Medical Centre 813813/32

Hussein Medical Centre 813813/32
Khalidi Maternity, J. Amn 644281/6
Akileh Maternity, J. Amn.
642441/2
Jabel Amman Maternity 642362
Maller I American (2016)
Malhas, J. Amman 636140
Palestine, Shmeisani 664171/4
Shmeisani Hospital 669131	- (
University Hospital 845845	- (
Al-Mussher Hospital 667227/9	•
The Islamic. Abdali 666127/37	ì
Al-Ahli, Abdali 664164/6	ì
Italian, Al-Muhajreen 777101/3	- 1
Al-Bashir, J. Ashrafich 775111/26	- 1
Army,§Marka 891611/15	- 1
Queen Alia Hospital 602240/50
Amal Userital 474155
Amal Hospital 674155	1
The Arab Centre for Heart and	1
Special Surgery 865199	i
74504.	1
ZARQA:	1
Zarqa Govt. Hospital (09)983323	- 2
Zarqa National Hospital	2
(09)900560	-
Ibn Sina Hospital (09)986732
Al Hikma Modern Hospital (09)990990
IRBID:	-
Princess Basma Hospital (02)275555
Greek Catholic Hospital (02)272275	•
The Al Notes Warned Constitution

Princess Haya Hospital ...... (03)314111

VIETTINE
uman Maternity 642362
J. Amman 636140	ARRIVALS
., Shmeisani 664171/4	Royal Jordanian (RJ)
ni Hospital 669131	(Terminal 1)
ry Hospital 845845
her Hospital 667227/9	05:25 Singapore, Kuala
nic. Abdali 666127/37	06:00 A 08:20 Si
Abdali 664164/6	10:15 Ac
U-Muhajreen 777101/3	10:15 Riy
r, J. Ashrafich 775111/26	19:40 New D
Aarka 891611/15	10:55 Bo
Alia Hospital 602240/50	11:25 Color
spital 674155	18:09 New York, Amster
ab Centre for Heart and	18:15 Vienna (
urgery 865199	10.15 VICIUS (
-igo.,	19:00 Cairo, Ac
1	19:30 Rome (a
ovt. Hospital (09)983323	19:30 London, Be ational Hospital	28:00 Abu Dhabi, Al
(09)900560	20:00 Casablanca, T
Hospital (09)986732	20:00 Ati
Modern Hospital (09)990990	20:05 Bangkok, Calc
מאלמיגלאח! ממולכחנו מוסמחוו	23:30 Rome, Lan sava Uomital (20132-ccc
asma Hospital (02)275555	Other Flights (Term
holic Hospital (02)272275
ices Hospital (02)247100

FOR THE TRAVELLER QUEEN ALIA

INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

Flights Aden (RJ) Senaa (RJ) Agaba (RJ) iyadh (RJ) Delhi (RJ) rdam (RJ) ladd) (RJ) qaba (RJ) (add) (RJ) (crlin (RJ) 'Ain (RJ)

ninal 2) . Doha (Q7) Shrjah (AH)

Abu Dhabi, Doha (GF) . Riyadh (SV) .. Rome (AZ) Dubai (EK Cairo (MS) 21:20 23:20 Beirut (ME) Istanbul (TK

DEPARTURES Royal Jordanian (PJ) Flights (Terminal 1)

Beirut (1 Anaba ( Vicens (add) ( Vienna (add) (i Jeddah (add) (i Abu Dhabi Al'Ain / I Amsterdam, Chicago ( Aqaba, Rome (
Montreal, Toronto Larnaca, Athens ( ······ Paris (I London (1 ······ Cairo (I Bahrain Doha / I leddab (1 Jeddah (i Dubai, Muscat (i Cuala Lumono Iskaria (1 Jeddah (add) (1
Flights (Terminal 2)

Abu Dhabi (GF)

...... Riyadh (SV) Dubai (EK) Cairo (MS) Amsterdam (KL) 18:45 22:60 HUAZ RAILWAY TRAIN Dep. Ammun ... 8:00 a.m. every Mooday Arr. Damascus 5:00 p.m. every Mooday Dep. Damascus 7:30 a.m. every Sunday Art. America .... 5:00 p.m. every Sunday

MARKET PRICES Upper/lower price in fils per kg.

	Apple	700/
Beirut (RJ)	Banana
Agaba (RJ)	Banana (Mukammar)
Vienna (add) (RJ)	Cabbage	140
Jeddah (add) (RJ)	Carrot	180/
Abu Dhabi, Al Ain (RJ)	Contiffeen	140
Amsterdam, Chicago (RJ)	Cauliflower	160/
Acobe Design	Cucumbers (large)	80
Aqaba, Rome (R1)	Cucumbers (small)	170
Montreal, Toronto (RJ)	Eggplant	250/
Lamaca, Athens (R.I)	Garlic	400/
······ Paris (RJ)	Grape Leaves
London (RJ)	Green beans
······ Cairo (RJ)	Lemon
Bahrain, Doha (RJ)	Marrow (large)
Jeddah (RJ)	Marrow (small)
Dubai. Muscat (RJ)	Mulukhia	300 /
Kuala Lumpur, Jakarta (RJ)	Mulukhia	300 /
····· Jeddah (add) (RJ)	Onion (dry)	170/
······································	Orange
Elichte (Territoria)	Pcas
Flights (Terminal 2)	Pepper (hot)	450 /
Beirut (ME)	Pepper (sweet)	400 /
Damasuc, Doha (Q7)	Potato	280/

Colombia

String Beans

fire on Syrian fishing box Wind Suberman was shot deady in waters off Turkishe State waters on turnshoom states radio station seponding states after the or three days, the report additions opened fire on a Greek () cent, who were still held; seism armoured vehicle print has agreed to buy 43 kg. sabonal guard, at a continue of Government of (385 million). Government of the deal was clinched and ad guaranteed maintenance of

Y-PRIDAY, APRIL 20-21,

The Cyprior national guard on a sand nearly 90,000 reserver.

I to stand trial next

The much-postponed may di

aria i former President Mobile

the Algerian army officer, to Bournaarafi, could yet be the straight to mount a defence by Man guaned down as he maintenant authorities have also he so defend the officer be so outh of the country barne to Serkadji jad following and he received slight leg toland mentors he acted alone or a the killing. He was pande

a he was alleged to have those stand and shot Boudal in the

the president made a Special

n for Jerusalem - Shend

& Shenudo III. head of nelogman that he the call to he andem, if an intentity policy

the make concession of the lerusaiem na naving

be sidered to a set the contract.

Statement, Mars, 4 /

spared to the test to test to

I last that the transfer

an Christians to belling

CONTROL TO LOW THE PROPERTY AND ADDRESS.

ada basic dan I in

audium Caretan Lang

rs beheaded in Jeddah

🖮 Pakratani (122 Najera

Anna Eight in Tark

and an African consults

The Internet Vin in 12.2.

my were consected to make

e for Turkey

Turken par arestir

key and the god the settle their semalist

and in the armini:

force the loss fireign

out. Turkey ha news considerate makes

First 22 mm

ciose Jan Hill E

would dr. of iDies

plential hinted during the much the tr

Map offering product

Iray Russ to the

than Provide Contract

Do I Surveille

nonthern is a related kish tertions from mandair is referring at months, and ment

by the Turkish Person difficult to carrie of certain opposite wants current and pulled to stat in P.

Deputs Secretary

Serute Tallon remain

guscrament of 2 8.

MILAZ RAILWAY TEN

MARKET PRICE

E programme of the second

Hanalia . Caratera

Carlette and

SPECIAL T

Cappage Larged Larged

E PROPERTY OF STATES

IL MEN

Musikasi Manarata

Property in the second

LANGE

are sales.

due in June But that threat sale

Secretic Extragi

nie aratigie

be added Programme

se on June 1992

Her Majesty Queen Noor Wednesday Obstetrics and Gynaecology (Photo by opens the first Pan-Arab Congress of Crystal)

Queen opens first pan-Arab congress of obstetrics and gynaecology Health and Development.

AMMAN (J.T.) — Her Majesty Queen Noor Wednesday opened the first Pan-Arab Congress of Obstetrics and Gynaecology organised by the Jordanian Society of Obstetricians and (JSOG), a Royal Court statement said.

Queen Noor, who is the Honorary President of the JSOG, also opened a medical exhibition on the sidelines of the conference, the statement

The Queen was welcomed by Ahmad Abdul Wahed, the secretary-general of the congress, who praised her contributions in raising the health and social standards of Jordanian women, and expressed the JSOG's eagerness to cooperate with the Noor Al Hussein Foundation's Institute of Child

Queen Noor toured the medical exhibition, which featured obstetrical and gynaecological surgery equipment and medicines manufactured in Jordan by national and international companies, and commended the high standard and diversity of Jordanian-manufactured pro-

The Queen concluded her visit by personally thanking the speakers and the members of the executive committee of the congress, the state-

The first Pan-Arab Congress of Obstetrics and Synaecology, which is also the third national congress, comprises 500 participants from Jordan, Palestine, Iraq, Lebanon, Syria, Bahrain,

Saudi Arabia, Egypt, Tunis, the United States, England, Belgium, Germany and Rus-

The congress agenda includes 42 lectures and papers on infertility, gynaecology, obstetrics and cancer, which are followed by discussion sessions; it also offers one workshop on hypertension in pregnancy, said the state-

Queen Noor, accompanied by Mrs. Aref Batayneh, was received by Minister of Health Aref Batayneh, Mohammad Al Zu'bi, the chairman of the congress, and Bassem Dajani, the president of the Jordan Medical Association.

The 3-day conference is being held at the Royal Cultural Centre (RCC).

Princess Basma stresses importance of effort towards women's health

Royal Highness Princess Basma returned from Perth, Australia, where she attended the third meeting of the Global Commission on Women's Health, a Queen Alia Fund for Social De-result of the disadvantaged velopment statement Wednesday said.

At the meeting, Princess who loined the commission earlier this year, stressed the importance of cooperation on women's health issues on the regional and global levels, the statement said.

The commission was established by the General Assembly of the United Nations and comprises eminent personali-

AMMAN (J.T.) — Her ties, including political, scientific and professional leaders throughout the world.

It is concerned that women suffer a disadvantaged health status throughout their lives. as compared to men. This is a legal, economic and social status of women, whose specific needs and characteristics health policy, delivery and research, the commission be-

The Global Commission on Women's Health has several goals related to its aim of fully achieving the realisation of women's health based upon the inalienable right of everyone to the highest attainable standard of physical and mental health. according to the commission. The third meeting focused on the discussion of a global platform of action for the health chapter of the World Conference on Women to be held in Beijing in September and which emerged from the Preparatory Committee

November. The meeting resulted in a declaration on the points which the commission felt should be stressed in Beijing as well as a coordination plan of action that is to set the tasks of the commission and the individual members during the Beijing conference.

'Zafagwa' dance as part of the ceremonies Programme and has been partly funded to inaugurate the Women's Programme by a $25.738 grant from the U.S. (Photo Centre in Sukhneh near Zarqa. The by Nidal Zuheir) centre is part of the United Nations Relief

Circassian youth perform a traditional and Works Agency Peace Implementation

Jordan, Lebanon sign 'milestone' travel, transportation agreement

port Minister Samir Kawar and Lebanon's Ambassador to Jordan William Habib Wednesday signed an agreement to organise travel and transportation between their two countries and described the deal as a major milestone in cementing bilateral ties.

The agreement, which is designed to facilitate and stimulate the transportation of goods and travellers across the borders of the two countries, is expected also to open the door for other mutual agreements on cooperation in trade, economic and industrial fields, said Mr. Kawar at the signing ceremony. Replying. the Lebanese ambassador echoed the hope that Lebanon and Jordan would take further steps towards concluding other agreements, noting that the deal was aimed at safeguarding the interests of the two cooperation in all fields.

in a statement after the ceremony Mr. Kawar said that the accord, provides for facilitating the passage of goods and travel from either country into the other, and organising tourist and school children's visits to the two

Lebanese and Jordanian importers and exporters will benefit from the agreement which allows Lebanese and Jordnian empty trucks to enter either country for loading goods, said the minister. Under the agreement, transporters of Jordanian and Lebanese goods will be exempted from paying a $150 fee a month for loading goods' from either location and another $150 for crossing the border.

The reciprocal move, said the minister, was bound to

Minister of Transportation Samir Kawar and Lebanese Ambassador to Jordan William Habib Wednesday sign an agreement on travel and transportation (Petra photo)

trade relations between the two sides and relieve traders

He noted however, that the agreement does not exempt the transporters from paying the transit fees as pro-

New tourist transport company ends JETT monopoly

By Amy Henderson Jordan Times Staff Reporter

AMMAN - The licensing this week of a new tourist transport company brought to an actual end JETT Bus Company's more than 20year monopoly on tourist transportation.

The Jordan Investment and Tourism Transport Company is the first transport company licensed by the Ministry of Tourism to operate in the Kingdom since the official end of JETT's monopoly in June 1994. Since that time, JETT had enjoyed a de facto monopoly while regulations for transport companies were being approved by the Cabinet.

Vice Chairman of the Board Michael Nazzal, said that the company could wait

up until five months for the delivery of new buses. In the meantime, he said, the company is searching for buses available worldwide to provide transportation, which is desperately lacking during this tourist season.

JETT, with its fleet of 150. has rented 65 additional buses already this year from private companies to meet demand for transport, which is expected to increase as the heaviest traffic of the tourist season is yet to come.

"We are trying to find buses in free trade zones," Mr. Nazzal said. "If it is cost effective, we may bring them." He said that the company may have found 10-15 buses from Mercedes, and that if the "price was right," the buses could be in Jordan

"We are trying to operate as soon as possible," he The company's immediate plans are to purchase 50 large- and 30 medium-sized buses with the intention to increase the volume of the fleet as demand necessitates. According to Mr. Nazzal, the company has already closed tenders and is reviewing offers from 13 companies. Under transport regulations established last month, all new companies are required to have a minimum of 50 buses and a JD 10 million

New regulations also stipulate that the Ministry of Tourism will regulate the rental price of buses, which now stands at approximately $300 per day. While some agents have been critical of this regulation, Mr. Nazzal contends that $300 is a fair price. "We have a comparable price to the rest of the region," he said. "And the minister is open enough to debate this if we decide that we want to change the price." "We are not really here to compete," he said, "but rather complement the current demand on the market - no one should expect a reduction in prices, just more services." In a statement to Al Aswac Arabic daily, the company's president, Raja'i Muasher, said that the total investment will reach JD 12 million including the capital and JD 2 million in bank loans. The company expects to regain its capital in four and a half years with an annual average

18.15% for the next five years, he said. Mr. Nazzal said that the company has leased land on University Road for its headquarters and is looking for a plot for the buses. He estimates that the company will. employ between 130-140 peo-

Members of the ninemember board of directors, were elected Monday night. They are as follows: Senior representatives of Raja'i Muasher & Brothers (Raja'i Muasher president), Nazzal and Brothers (Michael Nazzal, vice-president); Grand Palace Hotels; the Housing Bank; the Social Security Corporation; the National Shipping Lines Company; Regency Hotels (Sami Sawalha); Rami Bargouthi

Lloyd's Register workshop highlights ways to benefit from international quality control experts

By a Jordan Times Staff Reporter

AMMAN — Jordan could take advantage of the services offered by a reputed international organisation to ensure that the Kingdom's industries use the right technology and equipment and improve the quality of its products to international standards and specifications, a one-day workshop heard on Wednesday.

The workshop, organised by the Lloyd's Register of Shipping in coordination with the Ministry of Planning, came amid a strong debate among Jordanian industries on how to improve their production methods as well as quality standards and in- e crease exports.

The gathering, attended by about 50 participants representing the government as well as the private sector, was the first of its kind to be held

As participants put it, oversights that lead to slack in quality control and buyer's specifications could be devastating for small companies.

They cited the instance of a Jordanian company which sent a consignment of finished goods to Ukraine but could not get paid simply because the goods did not conform to the buyer's specifications.

The buyer, who was protected by a clause that said payment was contingent upon successful inspection of try in the country." the goods, simply refused to

This would not have hap pened had there been a mechanism under which an international organisation acceptable to both the seller and buyer carried out the inspection and made sure that the goods were not shipped without meeting the required specifications. That is where Lloyd's Register comes into play, said its representatives at the workshop. They noted that the organisation had offices/ representatives in almost every country who could be called upon to carry out inspections on exports and issue certificates to the satisfaction of both parties.

Another problem is to do with the environment. In many cases, potential West-ern donors and financiers balk at extending funds to projects which might harm the environment, noted Tawfig Kawar, who chaired the working sessions of the semi-

'We in Jordan do not have a law on the environment," noted Mr. Kawar, a prominent businessman and presi-dent of the Jordan Shipping Agents Association.
"What we urgently need is the enactment of a law on the environment that will be conforming with international and United Nations specifications that would eventually be applicable to every indus-

The importance of efforts to improve production and was strongly underlined by Minister of Planning Rima Khalaf in an opening address delivered on her behalf by Minister of Planning

Secretary-General Nabil "The timing (of the work-shop) is particularly relevant for Jordan, considering the planning initiatives now being adopted, the increase in industrial activity in general and construction projects particular that this would incur," the minister said. "The acceptability of Jordanian products and commodities is also of growing significance, and we shall be hearing how Lloyd's Register can support us on this," said the minister.

During the discussions that followed, Lloyd's Register representatives presented the nportance of maintaining high and efficient production standards and quality as well as means to realise the best returns from investments.

Leading the Lloyd's Register team to the presentation was A.J. Sanders, director of the Industrial Division and Advisory Serivces of the London-based organisation, who summarised the concepts, standards and terminology used in management of industrial plants, equipment and projects "from inception through to comple-

A Lloyds Register Industrial Division quality inspection and advisory services site for wind energy projects

"Lloyd's Register has more than 2,000 qualified engineers spread all over the world," said Mr. Sanders. noting that they could carry out inspection of production equipment to ensure that the buyer "would get the best return for his investment."

"The long-term experience of Lloyd's Register as a third party inspectorate of plant and equipment for and on behalf of governments worldwide has been recently applied to the privatisation of state-run statutory inspectorates with resulting gains in efficiency and effectiveness," said a general summary of Lloyd's Register activities.

Lloyd's Register describes itself as a non-profit, independent organisation with no affiliation to any government ... or non-governmental institu-

It was founded in 1760 and constituted as the world's leading shippping classifica-tion society; today, the organisation offers all kinds of marine, offshore and industrial survey and advisory services, "improving quality, enhance safety and protecting the environment," it says.

WHAT'S GOING ON

The following listings are compiled from monthly bulletins and the daily Arabic press. Readers are advised to verify the listed time and place with the concerned institutions.

EARTH WEEK

Earth Week activities (consisting of an exhibition of catalogues by major environment-oriented companies, student and school presentations, business seminars for professionals, electronic dialogues between experts in the U.S. and their Jordanian counterparts, public awareness. demonstrations and more) at the American Center.

FILMS

☆ Film entitled "Madonna With Chancellor Rolin" at Darat Al Funun (with commentary in Arabic by Dr. Khalid Khreis) on Thursday at 5:30 p.m.

☆ Film entitled "El Tiempo de Neville" at Instituto Cervantes (the Spanish Cultural Centre) on Thursday at 6:00 p.m.

JEWELLERY DISPLAY

An exhibition of jewellery inspired by the nature of Dhana (designed by Ammar Khammash in cooperation with the Royal Society for Conservation of Nature) at Darat Al Funun).

EXHIBITION

A Exhibition of paintings by Mahmoud Sadeq at Alia Art Gallery. ☆ Photography exhibition entitled "Fuentes de la Memoria" at Instituto Cervantes (the Spanish Cultural Centre). ☆ Exhibition of water colour and oil paintings by Jordanian artist Sa'id Haddadin at Orfali Art Gallery.

★ Exhibition of paintings by Samer Osama at the French Cultural Centre.

★ Exhibition of paintings by 13 leading Jordanian artists at the Italian Language Centre (Tel. 699348).

Mahrul Din Adhim at Balqa Art Gallery,

& Exhibition of art by Ahmad Na'wash at Ab'ad Art Gallery.

A collection of photos of Middle East doors by Julia Reinholt at the Gallery, off the main lobby, Inter.Continental Hotel.

A Exhibition of art by Moroccan artist Farid Belkhahia at Darat Al Funun of the Abdul Hameed Shoman Foundation. ★ Exhibiton of copper sculptures by Iraqi artist Mohammad Hussein Judi at the Phoenix Gallery for Culture and Art. Exhibition of graphic works by Rafiq Lahham at Darat Al Funun. Also displaying works by contemporary Arab artists.

Easter Special All Baskets... Reduced 30% Noor Al-Hussein Foundation Off the Wadi Sagra Road Between Safeway & King Abdullah Gardens Open Sat. - Thurz., 9:00 n.m. - 7:00 p.m. Tel. 699141/699142

More than 260 ill after odour detected at Japan rail station

reports said.

ma incident.

bu Aoyama.

Police suspect the doomsday cult Aum Supreme Truth

in the Tokyo subway attack, but cult leaders denied

Wednesday any involvement in that gasing or the Yokoha-

the real perpetrators soon," said Aum attorneys Yoshino-

they saw suspicious looking men, one carrying a brown bag, at stations in Yokohama about the time the smell broke out in the train, reports works at a store at the train station, said she saw a large crowd of painc-stricken commuters stampede immediately after the smell was detected at about 1:00 p.m.

like it, they were all running

Police beefed up patrols in the Tokyo subway late

Kei Inukai, 22, a businessman who passed through one of the corridors where the smell originated said. "It's

"I've never seen anything

Ryoko Akimoto, 19,a who

"I wish they would catch

Witnesses told police that

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AFP) — More than 260 people fell ill Wednesday from fumes detected at a railway station in the Tokyo commuter belt, triggering fears of a new nerve gas attack on the Japanese transport system.

Japanese police said they were investigating the incident at Yokohama. 30 kilometres southwest of Tokyo, as a case of "assault and battery."

"It was not a natural phenomenon but involved a foreign object," a spokesman for Yokohama's prefectural police told AFP. "We are investigating it as a case of assault and battery."

Police are still trying to determine the source of the deadly nerve gas sarin that killed 12 people and injured 5,500 in a random attack on the Tokyo subway only a month earlier.

Home Affairs Minister Hiromu Nonaka said checks on the casualties from Yokohama showed no traces of the highly toxic gas.

A police spokesman said at least 261 people reported feeling ill, and 19 were hospi-

The Japan Broadcasting Corp., NHK, said 304 people had been treated at hospitals, trail train station, and on a

INDIANAPOLIS, Indiana

(R) — Indiana Senator

Richard Lugar Wednesday

becomes the eighth Republican to enter the 1996 presidential race, running on a foreign affairs and radical tax

Sen. Lugar, 63, is highly respected in Washington.

especially for his expertise on foreign policy. But he is little known outside his home

state, and his restrained, intellectual style - some might call it boring — may not wear

well on the campaign trail.

time when people are looking for someone hot," said David

Caputo, a professor of political science at Purdue Uni-field for 1996 is almost complete. It will become so when

California Governor Pete

Wilson declares his candidacy versity in Indiana.

"Lugar is a cool person at a programme of competence in with some saying that they smelled a pungent odour similar to sulphur or paint thinner.

"When everybody around me was coughing, the word sarin popped up and fear came to me immediately," Kyoko Amano, 52, told AFP. She was treated for a minor headache after inhaling fumes in the train station's underground corridor. Ms. Amano said her husband, Kiyosuke, 51, was hospitalised with high blood pressure and a headache after the pair rushed to a police box at the train station after inhaling the fumes. She said scores of other victims were already there, complaining of similar symptoms. The vast majority of the casualties were not seriously hurt and all were conscious, officials said. They mainly complained of throat pains, nausea, irritated eyes and

A doctor at a hospital in Yokohama, Shigehiko Hattori, ruled out sarin poisoning and said "they may have possibly inhaled chlorine-based or other chemicals." The fumes were detected in the main underground concourse of Yokohama's cen-

Phil Gramm, former Tennessee Governor Lamar Alexander. Pennsylvania Senator

representastive Robert Dor-nana and conservative com-

just scary. "I thought such incidents

(0400 GMT).

Wednesday.

so fast," she said.

train that stopped there, local were far from us. It appears that there is no safe place left in Japan."

Scores of passengers also reported ill at two neighbouring stations on the Tokyo-Yokohama liine after arriving by train from Yokohama. Three female passengers were treated for throat pains and other ailments after they arrived at two Tokyo train stations from Yokohama, police said.

Dozens of fire engines, police cars and ambulances were rushed to Yokohama station and rescue workers clad in chemical protection suits with air tanks walked among commuters on the train station platform.

Police also cordoned off a station underpass where the smell originated, and hundreds of soldiers and police officers scoured the area for evidence.

The station and the underpass were later reopened in time for the evening rush

Sarin, devised by the Nazis in the 1930s, is so lethal that a small droplet is enough to kill an adult. It is also odourless, although survivors of the March 20 atrocity reported a vile, pungent smell.

Pastor Tuihani Martial (right) presides over her mether's home in Tahiti. She was buried in funeral services for Cheyenne Brando, the daughter of U.S. actor Marlon Brando, in the family crypt of her boyfriend Dag Drollet, who was killed in 1990 by her half-brother Papeete, Tahiti. Brando, 25, hanged herself at Christian Brando (AFP photo)

Brando misses daughter's funeral in Tahiti

Brando's agent Ed Limato said in Los Angeles the actor

PAPEETE, French town, Papeete. Polynesia (R) - Actor Marion Brando's Daughter Cheyenne, who hanged herself Sunday, was buried Tuesday alongside her murdered boyfriend on the South Pacific island of Tahiti. There was no sign of her father as Cheyenne was laid to rest in the Uranie Cemetery on the French Polynesian island in a flower-covered coffin alongside Dag Drollet, shot by her half-brother Christian nearly five years

She was found hanged in her bedroom in Punaauia on the west of the island Sunday. Relatives said she had been depressed since the murder of Drollet, for which Christian is serving a jail sentence. She had made three previous attempts to kill herself and had been treated for depression in France and the United States as well as Tahi-

She was said to be particularly upset by a Papeete judge's decision to leave her young son Tuki in the care of Cheyenne's mother Tarita, a Tahitian actress who was Brando's third wife.

Tarita was among more than 200 mourners. Cheyenne's half-brother Miko also attended the funeral.

The ceremony was led by a Protestant priest at a church

Charges against Cheyenne for complicity in the murder were dropped in 1993 after legal wrangling.

During his son's trial.

would not comment on his "This (Hollywood) is a daughter's death. Brando, 71, has zealously guarded his privacy for de-

Christian Brando was sentenced to 10 years' imprisonment in 1991 for the murder of Drollet. The California Department of Correction said he could be released as early as January 1996.

The proposal for Cheyenne to be buried next to her murdered boyfriend was made by Drollet's father Jacques-Denis in an agreement with Cheyenne's Tahitian family.

During Christian's trial. the court was told that before Drollet was killed, Cheyenne, then four months pre-gnant, had complained of having been beaten by her lover.

Her lawyer Jacques Verges, a colourful French advocate who has also represented Carlos "the Jackal" and Gestapo chief Klaus Barbie, argued that because of her depression, the proceedings were a threat to her life.

in Faaa, west of Tahiti's main Brando broke a long public silence, telling reporters and photographers he had become a recluse to preserve his false world, and it's been a struggle to try to preserve your sanity in a world that has been taken away from you," he said at the time.

More recently, he returned to the screen with a role in the comedy The Freshman as well as an acclaimed performance as a psychiatrist in the romantic comedy Don Juan De Marco.

Last year, he published his autobiography and appeared in a long and rambling live interview with Larry King on CNN television. One of the United States' great actors, Brando's performances in A Streetcar Named Desire (1951). The Wild One (1953) and On The Waterfront (1954) were acclaimed as classics. Brando won Academy Awards for his roles in On The Waterfront and The Godfather (1972). But much of his later career was an anti-climax and his family life was full of turmoil.

Critics both hailed and panned his performances in later movies, such as Last Tango In Paris (1972) and Apocalypse Now (1979), mirroring the entertainment industry's ambivalent attitude

Chinese road deaths up 9.7%

BEIJING (AFP) — China's roads claimed 15.562 lives in the first three months of this year, up 9.7 per cent from the same 1994 period, the Xinhua News Agency said. The number of accidents was up 4.1 per cent to 61,227. while economic losses result. ing from crashes surged 35.1 per cent to 389 million yuan ($46 million) the agency said late Tuesday. China's economic growth has been mirrored by a sharp rise in road accidents and fatalities amid a boom in the number of privately owned vehicles. More than 66,000 people died on the roads in the whole of 1994, up 4.5 per cent from the previous year. Xinhua quoted Ministry of Public Security officials as urging transport departments nationwide to improve order on the country's roads and take strict measures to reduce the number of major acci-

French musician wins damages over article

PARIS (AFP) - A judge

ordered a weekly scandal magazine Tuesday to pay 50,000 francs ($10,000) to French synthesizer superstar Jean-Michel Jarre for invasion of privacy — but did not entirely spare his blushes in the case. Judge Marie-Therese Feydeau said the composer of Oxygene and Equinoxe and his British wife Charlotte Rampling had not always shown complete discretion and should not be surprised at their treatment. Jarre had been demanding the withdrawal of this week's edition of the magazine Voici over an article and photographs suggesting he has been seeing another woman. He had also been demanding one million francs in damages against the magazine "incontestably pried on the private life of Jean-Michel Jarre," and she therefore ordered the 50.000 francs damages to be paid by the publishers of the magazine, Prisma Presse, But she added that the article should not have surprised Jarre. "It does not seem he was surprised in an intimate 🗲 situation, since the photos were taken in a public place." she said, she added that the couple "have not always shown the utmost discretion when it comes to their relations as a couple" and there-

China to lift foreign film quota

fore rejected their demand

BEUING (AFP) — China has decided to lift its quota on foreign film imports, while brushing aside concerns that overseas blockbusters will hurt the ailing domestic movie industry. As well as lifting the quota — which has stood at around 60 films a year — the director of the China Film Export and Import Corp. (CHINAFILM), Wang Zengfu, said that China would see through its 1994

True Lies — starring Arnold Schwarzenegger — is due to open in cinemas across China later this month. It would be "unwise" to protect domestic studios by closing their market to the outside world, Mr. . Wang was quoted as saying by the Xinhua News Agency. Overseas competition will ... "help develop the Chinese film industry," Mr. Wang said, adding that the imports were needed to satisfy popular demand. China's state-run film industry, dogged by poor quality production, has been in free-fall since 1979, with box office receipts plunging from 29.3 billion yuan ($3.4 billion) to 9.5 billion yuan in 1993. Following the lifting of the quota, CHINAFILM will continue to act as the sole importer of foreign films, the number of which will be determined by CHINAFLIM's capacity and "market fluctua-

Crews freeze ground for cables under used liquid nitrogen to the ground around the Learning Tower of Pisa Tuesday ing Tower to install cables more upright. Hundreds of visitors watched columns of white vapor from the super cold material rise from boles around the 54-metre (180foot) tower. Liquid nitrogen was used to avoid dangerous ground vibrations during work intended to salvage the

Bob Dole, Texas Senator Rhodes scholar, business-

Mr. Clinton himself raised the issue of his own relevance during a Tuesday night news conference that he wanted to use to score some political points while Congress is on Easter recess. The news conference was carried live by CBS and CNN but ignored by the two other major net-works, ABC and NBC.

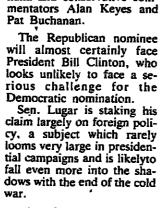

about making sure his voice was heard, Mr. Clinton volunteered: "The president is relevant here, especially an activist president, and the fact that I am willing to work with the Republicans. The question is are they willing to work with me?'

ton's relevancy engulfs bold action to reassert himre-election battle. But Mr. constitution gives me re-nominee for surgeon general — the top U.S. health official - Henry Foster, despite a threat by Senate majority leader Bob Dole, a Republican presidential candidate. not to bring the nomination up for Senate confirmation.

But he continued to resist one popular Republican idea - replacing the graduated income tax system with a flat tax that charges the wealthy and the middle-class at the same percentage.

in trouble over his conflicting port to U.S. Trade Repreate to do so," haccounts of how many abor-sentative Mickey Kantor's news conference. accounts of how many abor-

"Americans want à leader they can trust," Sen. Lugar With Sen. Lugar's entry into the race, the Republican said when he announced his intention of running. "Perhaps charisma substitutes for experience, but I

"All of my life's experi-

Lugar enters U.S. presidential race man, mayor of Indianapolis and senator for 18 years. He has recently tried to Arlen Specter, California broaden his appeal by proposing to scrap the federal income tax and replace it with a 17 per cent sales tax. The suggestion has met with a mixed response, even from Republican faithful.

Sen. Lugar says his experience as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee for six years and now as chairman of Agriculture Committee and eight years as mayor of Indianapolis gives him the background a president

Polls show Sen. Lugar has a large mountain to climb. Sen. Dole leads the race by a wide margin while one recent poll of Republican voters showed only five per cent wanted Sen. Lugar as their

> Meanwhile former Pennsylvania Governor Robert Casey announced Tuesday he has decided not to challenge Party's presidential nominavehicle's armour plating.

About an hour later police and firemen rushed to the scene of a second explosion near a major railway station in northern Madrid. They said the car bombers had apparently blown up their own getaway car and no in-

Justice and Interior Minis-

Spanish opposition chief escapes car bomb attack

MADRID (R) — Basque separatists tried to kill Spanish opposition leader Jose Maria Aznar Wednesday but the Popular Party (PP) chief escaped with minor cuts and bruises from a car bomb which injured eight in Mad-

Police said the guerrillas packed a small black Fiat with some 25 kilos of explosives which were detonated near Mr. Aznar's car in the residential Arturo Soria district of northeast Madrid just after 8 a.m. (0600 GMT).

They said Mr. Aznar's vehicle was virtually destroyed by the explosion and the politician was almost certainly saved from serious injury or even death by the

One of the injured, an elderly woman crushed under a wall brought down by the blast, was in critical condijuries were reported.

ter Juan Alberto Belloch quickly put the blame for the attack on ETA (Basque Homeland and Freedom), who have killed some 800 people in a 26-year fight for an independent Basque state.

U.S. seeks extradition of 25 Pakistanis Pakistan became a haven

ISLAMABAD (Agencies) — The United Stastes is seeking the extradition of 25 Pakistanis, many alleged drug barons, in an effort to crack down on international terrorism and narcotics smuggling, a U.S. official said Wednes-

While most of the suspects are believed to be drug kingpings, the list also includes suspects such as Aimal Kansi, charged with killing two CIA employees in the 1993 outside the agency's headquarters in Virginia.

Five drug suspects are cur-rently in Pakistani jails and have appealed to the country's Supreme Court to prevent their extradition to the United States, said John Parker, counsellor for narcotics affairs at the U.S. embassy in Islamabd.

The Pakistani court is expected to hand down its ruling this month, and if it does not block the extraditions the men could soon be facing charges in U.S. courts. The Americans have been pressuring Pakistan to crack down on Islamic militants and drug smugglers for the past several years, and the campaign now appears to gaining momentum. Prime Minister Benazir

Bhutto, who returned Sunday from an official visit to the United States, has been cooperating with the Americans as part of her effort to rebuild strained relations. Her government this year has extradited three men much sought after by the Americans.

Ramzi Yousef, charged with masterminding the 1993 World Trade Centre bombing in New York, was captured in Islamabad on Feb. 7 and immediately flown to New York where he's to stand trial.

Iqbal Baig and Anwar Khattak, already convicted in Pakistan of running a huge drug cartel, were handed over to the Americans on April 2 and flown to Brooklyn, New York, to face drug for drug smugglers and Islamic militants after the outbreak of the war in neighbouring Afghanistan 16 years As law and order collapsed in Afghanistan, farmers began growing opium poppies, which were transported to western Pakistan, refined into heroin, and sent to the United States and Europe. Also, young Muslim militants descended on western Pakistan to join Afghan re-sistance groups battling the Communist Afghan govern-Pakistani President Faroog

Ahmad Leghari Wednesday called for a universal policy to combat international terrorism, official sources here Mr. Leghari, speaking to the visiting Secretary General of Interpol, Raymond Edward Kendall, said Pakistan was "conscious of the magnitude of the problem" and had stepped up anti-crime and drug measures in the country.

Top journalism award goes to Virgin Islands daily

NEW YORK (AFP) - The highest U.S. award for journalism, the Pulitzer Prize. was awarded Tuesday to the Virgin Islands Daily News of St. Thomas for public service journalism. The Virgin Islands daily won its prize for exposing the gional crime wave and corruption in the criminal justice Other awards included two for the New York daily Newsday for investigative reporting and commentary and two to the Wall Street Jour-

connections between a renal for national reporting and feature writing. Two awards went to The Washington Post for explanatory journalism and spot news photography and two to the Associated Press for international reporting and feature photography. Other awards included best spot news coverage for the Los Angeles Times, best beat reporting for the Boston Globe, editorial writing for the St. Petersburg (Florida) Times, and editorial carrooning for the Atlanta Constitu-

The cultural criticism prize went to The New York Times.

award seven years ago." Saul said, referring to Walt Bogdanich who was with the Wall Stephanie Saul and Brian Street Journal at the time. He

This photo, provided by Columbia University, children pleading with Zairian soldiers to be is part of the Pulitzer Prize winning portfolio let across the bridge separating Rwanda and of the Associated Press staff in Rwanda. The Zaire where their mother had crossed mophoto by Jean-Marc Bouju moved on the wire ments earlier (AFP photo) Aug. 20, 1994, and shows Rwandan refugee awarded the investigative reporting Pulitzer for their stor-

"My husband won the abuses by police.

Donovan of Newsday were has since become an ABC producer.

ies on disability pension

"It didn't help his career

much but he used it as an excuse to stop doing work around the house. I told him just now on the phone that my seven years is just about to begin," she added.

The Pulitzer Prize -

named after newspaper mogul Joseph Pulitzer, has been awarded each May since 1917 for achievements in journalism, letters and music. Each prize carries an award of $3,000 with the exception of the Public Service Award which is marked by a for a larger payout.

pledge to import 10 topgrossing foreign films annually. The U.S. blockbuster tions," Mr. Wang said.

Pisa Tower

PISA, Italy (AP) — Crew 12th century landmark ences have prepared me for President Clinton in the 1996 this challenge. Sen. Lugar campaign for the Democratic said, citing his record as Party's presidential nominasome time next month. Those already in the race are: Senate majority leader Clinton declares he is relevant WASHINGTON (R) -President Bill Clinton's voice may not be as loud as it once was, given Republican control of Congress, but he is insisting he is relevant and determined to prove it.

Asked if he was worried

The question of Mr. Clin-Washington, with political experts saying he must take self heading into his 1996 Clinton's point was that "the car industries. And Mr. Clinton vowed to fight for his embattled the reactors at their summit

To prove it, Mr. Clinton challenged Congress to submit a welfare reform bill by July 4 that he can sign. The Democratic president said he did not want a "pile of vetoes" of Republican legislation, but has deep problems with the Houseapproved $189 billion tax cut.

Mr. Foster's nomination is at the White House (AFP photo) tions he performed. aggressive efforts in negotiations on cars and car parts. "Yes, I'm going to the mat for the nomination," Mr. He also said he did not Clinton said. "He is qualmean, to hurt anyone's feelified. He should be conings in Japan by saying refirmed. He should not be cently that the United States owed no apology to the Japanese for the U.S. nuclear caught up in any kind of

U.S. President Bill Clinton speaks during a press conference

Mr. Clinton also faces a attack in World War II. "No one can fail to sensinumber of pressing international concerns, from Rustive to the loss. Do I wish sia's plans to sell two nuclear none of it had happened? Of reactors to Iran, to faltering course I do. But that does not U.S. talks with Japan over mean that President Truman, in the moment of decision, made the wrong decision or The president said he hoped to persuade Russian that the United States can President Boris Yeltsin to now apologise for a decision give up the planned sale to that we did not believe then,

next month, and to reassure

Moscow that NATO's plans to expand should not be seen

On Japan, Mr. Clinton said

Washington and Tokyo

"should not be at risk of a trade war" but gave full sup-

as a threat.

the wrong one," he said. President Clinton said the West could not give Russia a Veto over NATO expansion.

and I do not believe now, was

"We cannot and we should not give any nation a veto over the expansion of NATO when it is otherwise appropriate to do so," he told the

Chinese road Juppe accuses Balladur of hate campaign

BEILING (AFP)

Description of the part of per cent of all Jacques Chirac, injecting all Jacques Chirac, injecting new venom five days before the first round of the election.

He said Mr. Balladur was deliberately distorting Mr. deliberately distorting Mr. deliberately distorting Mr.

the party of the state of the s o shap he mands and economic policy. Balladur's possible successor as premier if, as polls foreast. Mr. Chirac wins the resonant election on Sunine med day day and May 7.
"It is not normal for things

##T#1#1 131

Lieniting

hiti

The south of the

The result was the

the hamber of the French music

wins damage

Tara Mariente Mariente

143E Å

- - : : ao 2/8~

.. Dankie

***

ing -

8 32

Chicatelli

Over article

to have taken this turn, which wide to imbidi is almost hateful. If Mr. Balladur spent one-tenth of the energy fighting (Socialist candidate) Lionel Jospin that he spends attacking Jacques Chirac, he would have a better chance of reaching the second round," Mr. Juppe told France-Inter radio.

"Mr. Balladur is using arguments in bad faith," he said, accusing the prime minister of distorting Mr. Chirac's expression of sympathy for some wage claims by claiming that the Paris mayor wanted to give everyone a pay rise immediately.

Mr. Juppe also charged Mr. Balladur with using tactics "unworthy of a statesman" by accusing Mr. Chirac of weakening the French franc on currency markets with his criticism of Bank of France Governor Jean-Claude Trichet's call for wage restraint. The franc slipped against the German mark Monday in what dealers said was a reaction to Mr. Chirac's comments that Mr. Trichet had no right to dictate economic policy to the government.

The last opinion polls published before a blackout took effect last Sunday showed Mr. Chirac with a comfortable lead on about 26 per cent, followed by Mr. Jospin on about 20 per cent and Mr. Balladur with just over 16 per

Comments by several

Lionel Jospin meets supporters in the central paign meeting. The first round of elections is city of Lyon with former Socialist Minister prominent Balladur supporters in the cabinet Tuesday suggested they doubted the prime minister would reach the run-off between the two best-placed candidates to succeed Socialist President Francois Mitterrand.

French Socialist Party presidential candidate Martine Aubry (right) before holding a camset for April 23 (AFP photo)

"Many French people are still questioning themselves." he told Radio Classique before addressing a rally of about 8,000 people in Nantes, west France, in which he urged supporters to keep up their enthusiasm in the final days.

"French voters... believed at the last election that things were going to change, but now they have the feeling that they haven't," he said. projecting himself as the candidate best able to unite the French.

Philippe Mechet of the Louis Harris Polling Institute said the weakness of the left made the election hard to predict.

"Jospin has a potential far higher than his current vote. The problem is that he has not managed to convince the undecided that he can be elected," he told la Chaine Info Television. Many leftists, dismayed by would lose to both Mr. Chirac and Mr. Balladur in the run-off, are tempted to vote for new Communist leader Robert Huer or veteran Trotskyist Arlette Laguiller, who sound more militant. Urging the left to rally behind him on the first ballot. former Education Minister Jospin told about 8,000 supporters in Lyona in central France that France needed real changes and he was the only one able to provide them. Among his pledges are to cut the working week to 37 hours in 1997 from 39 now.

Mr. Balladur insisted Wednesday his economic policies for low-inflationary growth and a stable franc were the best recipe for the

Speaking on French radio,

Mr. Balladur said his policies since taking office two years ago had "succeeded" and were preferable to those offered by Mr. Chirac. Mr. Balladur said Mr. Chirac's policies meant

"more expenditure and thus more deficits." "Everything he (Chirac) says is an accumulation of spending, subsidies and allocations in all directions. which will lead to an aggravation of deficits and can only lead to disillusionment," Mr. Balladur charged.

The premier said the monetary crisis France experienced in the summer of 1993 resulted from "doubts" in the world community over Paris pursuing a policy of competitive disinflation.

On Tuesday, Mr. Balladur had lashed out at what he termed Mr. Chirac's "irresponsibility" in calling for wage hikes to bolster recovery, saying such a call risked "putting the brake on job creation.

On the issue of a single European currency, which the Maastricht Treaty on European Union foresees by 1997 or 1999 at the latest, Mr. Balladur said he would not risk harming growth to reach the debt and other convergence criteria to reach it.

Answering comments by former centre-right President Valery Giscard d'Estaing that introducing a single currency by 1997 was incompatible with a programme to curb joblessness running at 12 per cent, Mr. Balladur said he did not "see the necessity to install a job recovery" programme as jobs and economic activity were in h is view already on the up.

Serbs tighten noose on Sarajevo

France gives U.N. 48 hours, warns of pullout

SARAJEVO (Agencies) -The United Nations called in NATO jets to quiet a battle in the suburbs of the Bosnian capital that threatened to spiral out of control.

Two U.S. F-16s, already patrolling Bosnian airspace. buzzed the frontline separating government forces in Hrasnica and Bosnian Serbs in Ilidza late Tuesday. Both are suburbs near the U.N.controlled Sarajevo Airport.

"NATO air presence was called in as we weren't sure how this situation would develop," said Lt. Col. Gary Coward, chief U.N. military spokesman. "We were not entirely sure of the situation on the ground and didn't wish to see it deteriorating furth-

"We believe air presence has an element of deterrence," he added.

Serbs and government forces exchanged fire in the area near Mount Igman, south of the airport and Saraievo, throughout much of Tuesday, but fighting intensified at dusk. After warning both sides to halt their firing, the United Nations requested a NATO show of force. Jets soon arrived and remained in the area for more than 90 minutes, except for a 15-minute refuelling period when the shelling briefly resumed. Earlier Tuesday, Bosnian Serbs fired anti-aircraft guns at traffic moving through government-held suburbs and over Mount Igman, which they had shelled Monday night, using 120-mm mortars in violation of a heavy weapons ban around the capital. That prompted Bosnian government forces to return fire from their mountaintop positions, sparking the skirmish that to help borders

Russia

wants U.N.

police Tajik

also shelled by Serbs Tuesday, U.N. officials said. Butmir houses the entrance to a tunnel under the airport runway, which the government constructed in summer 1993 to link the city centre with Igman and routes west to escalated in the evening.

Butmir, a government suburb next to Hrasnica, was Croatia. Bosnian police said, three people were wounded in the Butmir shelling.

A U.N. plane en route to Sarajevo was also forced to turn back Tuesday afternoon after Bosnian Serbs noted in was carrying civilians and warned U.N. staff that they could not guarantee the safety of the plane," Col. Coward

The Ilyushin-76 was the first U.N. flight to carry civilians since Sarajevo Airport closed on April 8 after gunfire hit an American-owned U.N. cargo plane. A limited number of U.N. troop rotation and military resupply flights landed over the weekend and Monday.

Referring to the effective airport closure and attacks on Igman, Col. Coward said: 'It's a possibility that what we are seeing is part of an orchestrated campaign.... to squeeze the city.

The U.N. commander in Bosnia, Lt. Gen. Rupert Smith, planned to meet Wednesday with Serb military leaders in Pale, east of Sarajevo.

On Tuesday, Gen. Smith briefed Yasushi Akashi, the U.N. special envoy in former Yugoslavia, on the deteriorating situation in Bos-

"If these incidents continue, I am afraid that contributing countries will have to review whether they should continue to participate in UNPROFOR," Mr. Akashi later told reporters.

Stung by the recent deaths of two of its peacekeepers, France threatened Tuesday to withdraw its troops - the largest contingent in the U.N. force — unless new security measures are taken.

The United Nations has become increasingly vulnerable as both sides gear up for renewed war in the absence of a political solution. A nationwide truce, already in tatters, formally expires on

An estimated 200,000 people are believed killed or missing since war began in April 1992 with a nationalist Serb rehellion over Bosnia's secession from Serbdominated Yugoslavia.

France Wednesday gave the United Nations 48 hours to improve the security of its peacekeeping troops in Bosnia and said divisions among the major powers were prolonging the conflict.

'I hope the United Nations will act within the next 48 hours. We cannot wait indefinitely," Prime Minister Edouard Balladur said.

Otherwise, Paris would consider withdrawing its soldiers from the U.N. force, he

Foreign Minister Alain Juppe said the stubbornness of the warring parties was the main reason for deadlock in the search for peace but differences between Moscow and Washington were also to

"If we all had the same desire to reach a solution, we would succeed but hte Russians encourage Belgrade to ask too much while the United States fails to show the

to end hostilities," Mr. Juppe told France Inter radio. 'This is the reason why France has said (to the international community) that now we must wake up" to the situation in Bosnia, he said. A resolution drafted by France for action by the U.N. Security Council would have the secretary-general propose ways to protect its peacekeepers more effectivey and enable them to fulfil their mission.

It would call on rival Muslims, Serbs and Croats to extend a ceasefire due to expire at the end of the month and urgently resume peace negotiations.

Should the U.N. fail to act in time, "the problem is raised of the withdrawal of our soldiers form Bosnia.' Mr. Balladur said in an interview with French radio RFI. France's 4,500-strong contingent is the largest in Bos-

Meanwhile mine blasts injured three British U.N. peacekeeping soldiers Wednesday, one seriously, when their patrol in the eastern Bosnia enclave of Gorazde wandered into a mine field, a U.N. spokes-

Col. Coward said that one man "stepped on a mine. When two others went to assist him, a second detonation was heard." Col. Coward said two of the men had leg injuries, the other sustained wounds to the upper

Col. Coward also said the men came under small-arms fire during the early-morning incident from Bosnian army forces, though he added that "the Bosnian (soldiers) may necessary determination to have mistaken encourage Sarajevo to agree enemy troops). have mistaken them (for

polls showing Mr. Jospin Russians retreat after taking Chechen stronghold

MOSCOW (R) — Russian troops have been forced to retreat from the Chechen village of Bamut, just one day after taking the rebel stronghold, because of heavy shelling from the surrounding hills, Interfax News Agency said Wednesda It quoted Colonel-General Mikhail Yegorov, acting commander of Moscow's opforeignfling erations in the breakaway region, as saying the Russian troops had forced out rebel fighters Tuesday but had later come under fire from hills which they had failed to take. "Russian troops were later forced to leave the village to avoid casualties," Gen. Yegorov, who is temporarily standing in for Colonel-General Anatoly Kulikov as head of the joint army and told Interfax.

The retreat appeared to deal a blow to Russian efforts to completely control all of the fertile and industrially developed areas of northern and central Chechenya.

Gen. Kulikov, who is briefly resting in Moscow, told a news conference earlier Wednesday that the Russian troops had forced the last rebel fighters out of Bamut in western Chechenva. Briamut is the last important rebel stronghold on Chechenva's lowland, Most of the rebels, fighting for the southern Russian region's independence from Moscow, are now in mountains in southern Chechenya.

Gen. Kulikov declared most of Russia's aims had

Interior Ministry operation, now been achieved since it sent troops to Chechenya on Dec. 11 to end the tiny north Caucasus region's three-yearold independence drive led by rebel leader Dzhokhar Dudayev.

"Today, Dudayev has no social or economic grounds for continuing the armed struggle," Gen. Kulikov said. More than 80 per cent of Chechen territory, where more than 90 per cent of the population lives, has been freed from the illegal fight-

> Gen. Kulikov said 1.518 Russian servicemen had been killed and almost 5,000 wounded achieving those goals, and that Moscow estimated 9,000 to 9,500 Chechen fighterse had been civilians had been killed although Russia's Human Rights Commission has said more than 24,000 died in the battle for the Chechen capital, Grozny, alone.

rebels were thought to be continuing the fight for independence and had set un about 40 mountain bases He mentioned the success in Bamut, which is near the border with the Ingushetia almost in passing and without fanfare. The Chechen venture, originally expected to last only hours, has badly tarnished President Boris Yeltsin's democratic record and has damaged relations with foreign governments.

MOSCOW (Agencies) Russia wants the United Nations to help the Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS) police the border be-Gen. Kulikov said 7,000 tween the Tajikistan and Afghanistan, Foreign Minister Andrei Kozyrev said on Wednesday.

ern edge of the former Soviet Union is currently patrolled by Russian-led Border region in southern Russia Guards. A CIS peacekeeping force also operates in the former Soviet republic, where dozens of people have been killed in fighting this month.

> "We would like the United Nations to share our burden (in Tajikistan)." Mr. Kozyrev told other CIS fore-

Mr. Kozyrev has already said Russia and other CIS states would use the most decisive means possible to end bloodshed in Tajikistan.

Defence ministers from the Commonwealth of Indepency said Wednesday, said earlier this week that the current commander, Valery Patrikeyev, was due to leave his job after more than 12 months in Tajikistan. Interfax said he would be replaced by Lieutenant-Geneal Valentin Bobryshev.

and rebel leaders met in Moscow Wednesday, but the discussions are due to centre on when and where to hold a new round of peace talks rather than on what action can be taken to bring the two sides closer together,

Sri Lanka peace process collapses

COLOMBO (AFP) - The truce aimed at ending Sri Lanka's protracted bloodletting shattered Wednesay as separatist Tamail guerrillas pulled out of peace talks and attacked two navy gunboats, officials said.

beration Tigers of Tamil

The decision of the LTTE to terminate the cessation of hostilities is in total disregard of the aspirations of the Sri Lankan people," the president said in a four-page state-

"All those who act against be considered enemies of the people," it added.

Tamil frogmen blew up the Chinese-built naval gunboats by planting explosives be-neath the two vessels, berthed at Trincomalee Harbour in northeastern Sri Lanka, officials said.

The attack left 12 sailors and four LTTE cadres dead, while 23 sailors were also wounded, officials said.

warned of "serious consequences" and told the government that they were pulling out of talks with effect from midnight Tuesday. The message was also broadcast over the LTTE's clandestine radio, the Voice of Tigers, just hours before the attack. The LTTE radio quoted Tiger supremo Velupillai cause the government had failed to agree to all four of their key demands.

concessions last week on fishing restrictions and fuel supply to LTTE-held areas, but had declined Tiger demands for the dismantling of an army camp in the north, and permission for its cadres to carry weapons into government-held areas in the island's east.

The truce with the Tigers began on Jan. 8, and was aimed at ending an ethnic conflict which has claimed

In the statement, Mrs. Kumaratunga's office said the LTTE had resumed hostilities without giving the agreed 72 hours notice stipu-

She reintroduced economic sanctions against LTTE-held-territory in the island's north and withdrew the concessions already granted.

ment is compelled to reconsider some of its decisions."

Displaced Rwandans ordered home despite killings ign ministers at a Moscow

KIGALI (R) — Relief agencies scrambled Wednesday to help some 100,000 displaced people ordered by Rwandan troops to abandon a camp in the southwest and go home.

But as the operation began, a U.N. spokesman in the capital Kigali said govern-ment troops last Friday slaughtered 16 civilian men in the southwest in retaliation for an attack. News of the killings apeared certain to increase fears among the 300,000 displaced men, women and children in camps in the southwest which Rwanda's government says must be closed. U.N. spokesman Ismail Diallo said the 16 were shot and killed and one was wounded on the banks of the Rubyiro River in the southwest after unidentified gunmen attacked Rwanda Patriotic Army (RPA) troops, killing one and wounding

He said 20 RPA soldiers later rounded up 17 local Crews reet them to the banks of the Grews in the banks of the ground for Rubyiro River, 22 kilometres southeast of the border of Cyangugu, and gunned

Sixteen were killed. One who was wounded pretended o be dead and later reached viashesha Hospital, where he vas treated. The United Nations is in ouch with the army and the overnment and views these illings with great concern," aid Mr. Daillo, adding the odies were left on the river

The government has said me members of the Hutu isolated incidents by troops in revenge for the genocide of up to one million Tutsis and Hutu moderates last year. But it has repeatedly assured innocent Hutu refugees and displaced people that it is safe to return to their homes.

To ensure they left, RPA troops, cordoned off Kibeho camp in the southwest Tuesday and fired into the air, triggering a stampede by tens of thousands of displaced

At least eight residents were crushed to death. The men, women and children crowded in panic onto a central hill in the camp, abandoning their huts on four other hills. Soldiers told them they had a few days to leave Kibeho and go home as part of the drive to close all such camps, which the government sees as strongholds for Hutu militiamen a year after the geno-

Kibeho, with some 120,000residents, remained cordoned off by troops late Tuesday and no movement was allowed in or out.

The Hutus, who fear attack in revenge for the genocide, include former militiamen and troops involved in the slaughter. The action by the Tutsidominated army caught aid agencies by surprise but they said they could only help camp residents leave because the government had sovereignty over camps in its territory. U.N. officials said trucks. including more than 20 from the U.N. Assistance Mission In Rwanda, would be sent to for refugees and displaced

Kibeho Wednesday to ferry out those who said they wanted to go home. U.N. evnoy Shaharyar an said food, water and medical help would be provided by aid workers said the task would be very difficult as long as people stayed packed onto the one hill.

Mr. Khan said that when Rwanda Patriotic Army Chief of Staff Colonel Sam Kaka addressed Kibeho residents Tuesday, a large majority raised their hands when asked if they wanted to go

Minister of Rehabilitation and Social Integration Jacques Bihozagara said Tuesday everyone in Kibeho had to leave and the government was working with the U.N. to clear the camps.

Mr. Bihozagara said the guilty would be arrested but the 80 per cent of innocent camp residents had nothing to fear. Meanwhile Burundi's president has appealed for urgent food aid for more than 400,000 refugees and displaced people, warning shortages may endanger a drive for peace. Speaking on state-run radio Tuesday night. President Sylvestre Ntibantunganya urged international aid agencies to send food supplies urgently to the small Central African state.

total lack of resources (in Burundi), we now have the serious problem of the exhaustion of available food stocks," the president said. He said shortages of food

"In addition to the almost sions and endanger a plan by the government to end an 18-month-old political crisis and ethnic violence.

"It is urgent these disaster victims are supported... so preparations for their return and resettlements can continue in peace and security.' said the president, a member of the Hutu majority. "The government of the republic of Burundi and I launch an urgent appeal to all friendly countries, international organisations, NGOs (non-governmental organisations) and to all people of goodwill to send their contributions... "The most urgent issue is to provide food security." he

Bandits and villagers late last month looted several U.N. World Food Programme (WFP) trucks taking food aid to camps in the northeast for the 200,000 Rwandan refugees in Burundi.

Burundian troops are now escorting WFP food convoys. The U.N. food agency is currently feeding 400,000 internally displaced Burundians and the 200,000 Rwandan refugees but plans from July to end supplies to 100,000 displaced by giving them seeds and food packages to encourage them to

In January, WFP was providing rations to 508,000 dis-The displaced fled during the slaughter of up to 100,000 people following the killing of President Melchior Ndadaye, the first freely-elected

Hutu head of state, in 1993 return to farms.

Tutsi troops.

meeting. "We would like to see the world community more actively — that is more practically - involved in op-

The border, on the south-erations. Mr. Kozyrev said the CIS was asking the U.N. to consider the possibility of setting up wide-scale operations on the Tajik-Afghan border. The U.N. should broaden the political and diplomatic role it already plays in Tajikistan, he said. But he said Russia favoured a political and democratic solution to the problems in Tajikistan, where the Dushanbe government is at odds with Islamic rebels and members of the opposition based in the eastern district of Gorno-Badakhshan.

dent States have appointed a new officer to command peacekeeping forces in Taiikistan, Interfax News Agen-Russian military officials

Tajik government officials fear that if the bomb were dropped on Germany and failed to explode, the dud would help the Germans make their own weapon. Japanese research was not so # the people would, no doubt,

President Chandrika Kumaratunga reacted to the pre-dawn strike against the navy, which left 16 people dead, by reimposing an economic embargo on the Li-Eelam (LTTE).

She also said security forces across the country had been placed on maximum alert. An army spokesman confirmed that troops had been given shoot-to-kill orders to defend their camps following the collapse of the peace process.

> Prabhakaran as saying they were pulling out of talks belated in the truce.

"In view of the unilateral decision taken by the LTTE to terminate the cessation of hostilities agreement and to start hostilities, the govern-

The government made two Austrian vice chancellor to quit government

VIENNA (r) — Austrian Vice Chancellor Erhard Busek announced Wednesday he was quitting the government, a day after the conservative People's Party ditched him as leader. Mr. Busek. 54. said he was stepping down after four years as vice chancellor in the ruling coalition of conservatives and Social Democrats.

He said he was also relinquishing his post as education

a leadership election at a party conference Saturday

People's Party (OEVP) chiefs Tuesday ended months of debate by naming Economics Minister Wolfgang Schuessel as sole candidate in didacy for re-election.

"I am of course ready to withdraw from the government," Mr. Busek told reporters after a cabinet meeting.

"I thought that I should give. the new party leader a free rein." He said he would give up his duties once Schuessel had been elected at the party Mr. Busek withdrew his canconference on April 22.

Scientists who worked on U.S. nuclear bomb thought Germany was the target

WASHINGTON (AP) -Many scientists who worked on the first atomic bomb wanted it used on Nazi Germany, but U.S. military planners decided early that Japan would be the target, says a nuclear physicist who has researched the end of World

And Arjun Makhijani said his research found the reason was not racial, as many have alleged, but had more to do with an arms race. At a news conference Tuesday, Mr. Makhijani distributed a little-known memorandum on the subject from Brig. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, head of the Manhattan Project to create the atomic bomb. It was dated May 5, 1943. The document expressed far advanced. "What began as a race against a potential nuclear power. Germany, turned into a project to produce a tool of immense military superiority against a non-nuclearweapon state," Mr. Makhijani said in a statement. Mr. Makhijani, president of the private Institute for Energy and Environmental Research in Takoma Park, Maryland, told reporters: The message is that nonnuclear weapons powers are right to ask the nuclear weapons powers to provide a guarantee against first use of nuclear weapons." Some governments are demanding that guarantee at a meeting in New York on extending the treaty to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons. The United States is pressing for an open-ended extension rather than the five-year increments since the nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty took effect in 1970.

Mr. Makhijani. 50, was born in Karachi - then part of India - in 1945, the year the bomb was dropped. He said he had found no evidence of racism in the choice of Japan as a target.

not an issue I don't care about," he said. "I've had my eyes open. Another lesson that Mr. Makhijani wants drawn is that scientists have a right and responsibility to know

"As an Asian myself, it's they're working on. "There's a lot of nuclear designing going on right now," he said.

the intended use of weapons

Some who worked on the first atomic bombs were surprised when Japan became the target, he said.

He cited hans Bethe, head of the Theoretical Division at New Mexico's Los Alamos National Laboratory, where the first bombs were produced and tested, and Glenn Seaborg, later chairman of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission.

ajority have been killed in Pisa Towel them down.

ank by troops.

anta enti

্র জেল

By Dr. Ahmad Y. Majdoubeh

Chairman of the Board of Directors: MAHMOUD AL KAYED

Director General: MOHAMMAD AMAD Editor-in-Chief: GEORGE S. HAWATMEH

Editorial and advertising offices: Jordan Press Foundation, University Road, P.O. Box 6710, Amman, Jordan. Telephones: 667171/6, 670141-4 Telex: 21497 ALRAI JO

Facsimile: 696183

A LIST IN THE TRANSPORT OF THE PROPERTY OF THE

The Jordan Times is published daily except Fridays. Subscription and advertising rates are available from the Jordan Times advertising department.

The seeds of threat

THE NEW York conference on the extension of the nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty (NPT) is bogged down on several fronts both procedural and substantive. It is still too early to prejudge the outcome of the meeting since there are considerable behind-the-doors negotiations between the nuclear haves and have-nots that aim to bridge the gap between the two camps. The ongoing controversy about the extent of the renewal of the NPT may also see the Arabs divided among themselves. The fact that only the foreign ministers of Egypt, Syria, Lebanon and Jordan are attending the conference indicates that substantial division within the Arab camp on how to respond to the five major nuclear powers' call for an indefinite extension of the treaty will Inter-Arab disagreement, however, is not without a legitimate cause. On the one hand, the Arab World would like to see nothing more than a nuclear free zone regime in the Middle East and North Africa. On the other, the Arabs have all the reasons to fear Israel's continued nuclear hegemony over the Arab countries. There was a time when Israel professed never to be "the first to introduce" nuclear weapons to the region. That posture has developed recently to a pledge not to be "the first to use" such mass destruction weapons. This shift in position has come about after revelations that the Jewish state has more than 200 warheads in its arsenal.

The Israeli policy on the future of the NPT is further complicated by its insistence that it cannot commit itself to the treaty before a comprehensive peace is achieved in the region, including peace between Israel and Iraq and Iran. The trouble with this seemingly benign perspective lies squarely in the fact that the need for a comprehensive peace cuts both ways. The Arabs also need the assurance of a full and complete peace before they can feel safe and secure from the threat of Israel's nuclear arsenal.

Israel goes even further by questioning the good faith of some regional powers, such as Iran and Iraq, even if they signed the treaty. This means that even if there were a comprehensive peace in the region, Israel would still feel free to stay out of the treaty on the premise that neither Baghdad nor Tehran signatures can be taken at

In this context, Israel needs to see this issue both ways. The Arab side also has all the justifications to doubt the intentions of Israel even if it gets around to signing the treaty. The Israeli Dimona reactor was discovered in 1961 by U.S. monitors. Only a decade ago the world was able to establish as a fact that there are more than 200 nuclear warheads in Israel when an Israeli technician told the London Sunday Times about them. This Israeli ambivalence can only encourage certain Arab or Muslim countries to opt to go nuclear at one stage or another. Meanwhile, the pledge of the five big powers to come to the rescue of any country that is threatened by a nuclear force is meaningless. The Israeli threat is already there and the Arabs will not feel safe unless that threat is removed.

ARABIC PRESS COMMENTARIES

JUDGING FROM its continued repressive policies in the occupied Arab lands and its latest offer to the Palestinians to set up a state only in Gaza, it is obvious that Israel is not interested in a lasting peace with its neighbours, said Ibrahim Al Absi, a columnist in Al Ra'i Wednesday. Not only did Israel fail to live up to its pledges contained in the declaration of principles with the Palestinians, which provide for a redeployment of troops and arranging for Palestinian elections, but it has now offered to recognise a Palestinian state in Gaza alone, thus going back on its commitments and demonstrating its determination to perpetuate its occupation of the rest of Palestine, said the

DESPITE REPEATED calls on the Labour Ministry to control the Jordanian labour market and open the door for local workers to find jobs, the flow of guest workers into Jordan is continuing, said Mohammad Daoud, a writer in Al Distour. The government seems not concerned with curtailing the number of non-Jordanian workers, and the employers seem quite happy with this situation as long as the guest workers provide cheap labour and ensure for the businesses a larger margin of profit, he said. Demanding that the Labour Ministry stop issuing work permits to non-Jordanians, the writer said it is illogical to see 120,000 guest workers filling jobs which could be taken by Jordanians. What the Labour Ministry can do, he said, is adopt a final decision banning foreign workers from entering the country, and terminating the presence of non-Jordanians once their work permits expire.

View from Academia

The opposition in Israel: delirious but dangerous

THE POSITION of the various Israeli rejectionist and opposition groups, including not only members of the fanatical religious sects and settlements but also extreme political hardliners such as the Likud Party itself, is not helping much during this particularly critical and difficult stage of the Arab-Israeli conflict, especially with respect to Palestinian-Israeli peace. Through their unnervingly disruptive and obstructive tactics in the Knesset, their outrageous public declarations, their frequent irresponsible deeds and acts of aggression and (not less regrettably) their remarkably selfish, subversive and racist attitudes, the said groups currently pose a real obstacle, if not a serious threat, to peace with the Palestinians (and with other Arab countries with which peace agreements have not yet been oncluded).

Take, for example, the statements we heard a few days ago, some of which were reiterated by members of Yitzhak Rabin's own party: that "talks with Palestinians ought to be suspended until acts of violence and terror come to an end," that such acts "have increased because of the peace deal with the Palestinians," that the Israeli "army ought to be redeployed into Gaza and Jericho," and so forth.

At one level, such statements are not to be taken seriously. For one thing, they are too simple-minded, too ridiculous and too non-sensical to be swallowed by any (Arabs or Israelis) except those who make them. Who, in his/her right mind, would believe that suspension of talks with Palestinians and redeployment of Israeli forces in Gaza and Jericho would bring about stability and peace of mind to the Palestinians and Israelis? The Israeli army was there not long ago and peace talks were non-existent not long ago, and there was violence and terror. Who, in his/her right mind, would buy into the perverse logic that the peace deal has brought about and escalated violence? Isn't continued Israeli occupation of Palestinian territories itself the real cause? Aren't Israel's oppressive measures against Palestinians and Israel's procrastination and disregard of the promises and commitments it made to Palestinians in Oslo, Washington and Cairo the real cause?

For another, such statements are perhaps mere rhetoric and sheer political manoeuvring which amount to little outside the context of political rivalry among the various parties in Israel. Party leaders and parliament members flex muscles on podia and deliver thundering jeremiads on pulpits in order to inhibit their competitors and impress their constituencies and spectators. This is their game; this is their show — especially when one is talking about the opposition. The Israeli opposition groups, one may say, are attempting to make a buck in the world like everybody else. When the majority in Israel seems to have chosen peace, what can the opposition do but flex and thunder? There is, undeniably, a great deal of raving and delirium in the political rhetoric and discourse of the opposition in Israel, stemming from a feeling of impotence and desperation. This is always the case of people who swim against the current and attempt to reverse the irreversible wheel of

But, and at another level, there is more to the matter than pure nonsense, sheer rhetoric and mere manoeuvres. What the Israeli opposition is saying these days cannot be easily and conveniently dismissed as harmless or irrelevant, for it is in fact dangerous. People who make statements such as those cited above are not senile old men or women chatting at leisure over dinner in a home of the elderly, nor are they private citizens caught at a moment of anger in a casual conversation in the comfort of their own homes. No. They are representatives of the Israeli public (or chunks of it), experienced politicians who have been around for quite some time, fundamental players in Israel's political arena. leaders or potential leaders of Israel, and likely ministers or prime ministers. Have we forgotten Begin's, Shamir's and Sharon's "crazy" and "foolish" but disastrous and calamitous invasion of Lebanon in 1982? If given the chance, most leaders of the opposition in Israel would not hesitate one second to invade Gaza and Jericho and subject Palestinians to occupation and slavery, if not throw them into the sea or into neighbouring Arab countries. The point is that one is not talking about a remote possibility of danger, but a very likely one. What happens if the Likud wins the elections?

"At a time when the Israeli government seems to be pathetically too helpless and impotent to fulfill its part of the bargain, the Israeli public is called upon to assert itself. One is under the impression that a comfortable majority of Israelis want peace, want to live and let live. If this is the case, it is time for them to act. Not one single Arab country now objects to peace, and a vast majority of Arabs and Palestinians are for it."

But why talk about what may happen if the Likud takes over when a great deal is already happening? The fanatics, radicals, extremists and hardliners in Israel have succeeded to a great extent not only in slowing down the peace process but in stopping it entirely, especially on the so-called Palestinian-Israeli track which does not seem to be moving in any confident direction.

With respect to the said track, they have (in addition to bringing the process to an almost complete halt) done two things (among the many other obvious things) which are especially worrying.

— They have succeeded in polluting and contaminating the whole atmosphere among Palestinians and Israelis, an atmosphere which is supposed to have become a lot cleaner and healthier after Oslo and Washington. The Gazzand Livide Effective Contaminating the contaminating the whole atmosphere which is supposed to have become a lot cleaner and healthier after Oslo and Washington. The Gazzand Livide Effective Contamination at the contamination of the contami Jericho First was not the best agreement one could have come up with, but it was a start - a "first" step. It was a start and a step towards ending decades of suspicion, mistrust and hostility. Aside from its other goals, it had a crucial psychological dimension: It aimed to break barriers and shatter negative images, misconceptions and stereotypes. But this has not happened, except to a very humble extent. The agreement was supposed to prepare the two peoples psychologically for the great peace to follow. Unfortunately, however, the suspicion, misconception, stereotyping and hostility are still as deeply-entrenched in souls and psyches as they have ever been.

The said Israeli groups are to blame because they have been, and still are, (through the statements they make and the positions they take) promoting suspicion and fear. Look at the meetings between Rabin, Peres and other Israeli officials with Palestinian Authority members; they are very lukewarm, very cold, very fake, very artificial and even very ominous. The opposition has a lot to do with it, through the heavy-handed approach they wish the government to adopt towards Gaza and Jericho. How can you be warm and enthusiastic and friendly when others at home, who still see the Palestinian as an enemy and peace as an impossibility, are watching every gesture and move you

— They have succeeded in inhibiting the Israeli government and crippling its performance on the Palestinian front. Several important steps and decisions need to be taken by the Israeli government to facilitate the implementation of the Gaza-Jericho First. But this is not happening. Rabin and Peres, who have taken some courageous decisions before, are now chickening out.

This is, of course, in nobody's interest. The Palestinians have a lot to lose from what seems now exactly like the no-peace no-war situation from which every nation in the Middle East suffered for years. But Israel also has a lot to lose. The Israeli opposition does not care one bit about Palestinian well-being, but what about the well-being of Israel? The point the opposition does not seem to understand is that by ruining the chances of Palestinian-Israeli peace, they are also ruining Israel's own chances. What kind of Israel do they want? What kind of life do they want for the Israeli public? Do they want to take Israel back to the prison of isolation it has locked itself in for years through refusing to recognise Arab and Palestinian rights? Do they think Israel can live happily and joyfully without a good working relationship with its neighbours and without allowing the Palestinians what it allow itself: The right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness?

At a time when the Israeli government seems to be pathetically too helpless and impotent to fulfill its part of the bargain, the Israeli public is called upon to assert itself. One is under the impression that a comfortable majority of Israelis want peace, want to live and let live. If this is the case, it is time for them to act. Not one single Arab country now objects to peace, and a vast majority of Arabs and Palestinians are for it. Is indeed a comfortable majority of Israelis all for peace? We have been assuming this. But what a scary thought it is to find that one is dead wrong in this assumption.

Well, do you Israelis want or do you not want peace with the Palestinians? If yes, something should be done, through the political system you are so proud of, about the fanatics, extremists, hardliners who seem to be thriving among you.

U.S.-British campaign against Iraq

By Michael Jansen NICOSIA -- Iraq no longer

expects an early lifting of U.N. in 1990 after the invasion of Kuwait. An a horitative Iraqi source sato that Baghdad now saw "no possibility of movement on sanctions before the U.S. elections" in November Baghdad had been hopeful that a date would be set in May, during the council's routine review, for an end to sanctions and to the ban on oil exports once Rolf Ekeus, head of the commission disarming Iraq, presented his report covering the first six months of U.N. monitoring procedures. The Iraqi ambassador to the U.N., Nizar Hamdoun, claimed that "90 per cent of the information" demanded by the commission had been provided. Thus, Iraqi officials had hopef that Baghdad would be given a "clean bill of health" by Mr. Ekeus.

But this did not happen. Mr. Ekeus privately circulated his report in the council late on April 10. Certain sections of that report were leaked to Western news agencies and correspondents. According to their reports Mr. Ekeus stated that Iraq had still not accounted for 17 tonnes to a "complex growth" medium used for growing bacteria Iraq did not contest the figures but contended that the missing medium had been used for "agricultural and pharmaceutical purposes" not for the development of a germ warfare capability. What was not leaked to the press, apparently, or at least not reported by most Western media, was the fact that the Ekeus report makes it clear that at least part of the missing medium in question had an "expiry date" and can no longer be an effective substance for cultivating bacterial cultures. This key fact was provided by the head of the Iraqi interest section in the Jordanian embassy in London Zuhair Ibrahim, in an interview with the BBC World Service on April 15th. He presumably, had access to the full text of the privately circulated report. An Arab scientist consulted by this reporter said that such material would be less effective if past the

includes suppression of facts

'Resolution 986 allowing Baghdad to sell limited amounts of oil places Iraq's major natural resources under U.N. management'

"expiry date" but could be used. He said, however, that anyone determined to produce biological weapons "does not need this material because such weapons are the easiest of all to produce; all you need is some very common culture mediums, such as milk plus sugar and acid or yeast extract... A crude anthrax bomb could be produced by any reasonably competent biochemist... There is no point in making a fuss over this material." Except to use it to block the lifting of sanctions.

The fact that the report was in effect secret and only certain portions leaked demonstrates clearly that the U.S. and Britain, who are leading the campaign in the council to maintain the punitive sanctions regime, are prepared to use any and all means to achieve their objective. Furthermore the fact that

Mr. Ekeus did not protest the selective leaks by pro-viding the press with full coverage of his findings demonstrates that he is colluding with these powers. Indeed his collusion has been obvious for many months now in his public statements. While in Baghdad he normally states that he and his monitors are satisfied with the cooperation they are receiving from the Iraqi authorities. But back in New York, he inevitably complains that the Iragis have not complied on one point or another.

About two months ago there was a U.S.-U.K. media campaign about Iraq concealing the redevelopment of a germ warfare capability - and even of long-range missiles with which to deliver germ warheads. This campaign was timed to preempt the mid-March council review of the sanctions regime and to influence Mr. Ekeus' handling of his first six monthly report on the weapons monitoring programme due in April. As a result of the campaign and, presumably, direct U.S.-U.K. pressure, Mr. Ekeus raised the issue of the missing 17 tonnes of bacterial and viral culture material.

During his latest visit to Iraq Mr. Ekeus did not run true to form. Although he stated that the U.N.'s intrusive monitoring procedures, put into operation six months ago, were working well, he also raised the issue of the missing material, giv-ing it worldwide publicity and lending credence to the contention that Iraq was not fully cooperating with

Mr. Ekeus' commission.

The Iraqis ask, reasonably, why did he not raise this issue earlier? Why did he wait until the moment when his key report was nearly due? Since he had had the documents relating to the purchase of this material many months earlier. Ambassador Ibrahim said that Iraq is now trying to track down the material so it can present its findings to the U.N. commission, thus clearing up the one problem apparently preventing Mr. Ekeus from giving Baghdad the long-sought "clean bill of health" so sanctions might be lifted.

This germwarfare loophole which the council has jumped in order further extend sanctions was of masterly manufacture and should be contrasted with another clumsy attempt to show the Iraqis have been violating the terms of Resolution 687 by secretly developing a nuclear weapons capacity.

Again this involved careful media management. "The Sunday Times of London (which also led with the germ warfare story in February), reported it had handed to the U.N. and the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) four pages of official Iraqi documents allegedly showing that Iraq was conducting a new computer-based programme for producing nuclear arms. These documents were said to have been provided by a defecting Iraqi nuclear scientist, Dr. K. A.A. Hamza, who allegedly vanished in Athens on February 27 after sending the documents to the newspaper.

It is interesting that, according to Dr. David Kyd, spokesman of the IAEA, the Sunday Times did not hand them over to the agency until a "week" or so before the paper ran the story. Then, before the agency could comment, ran the story on April 9, the day before Mr. Ekeus was due to present his monitoring report to the council.

Asked three days after "the Sunday Times" publication of the "Hamza llegations" if the agency had any evidence that Iraq is still developing nuclear weapons, Dr. Kyd said: "No. we certainly do not have such evidence, but of course it is incumbent on us to follow up anything gives a hint that that might be the Of the IAEA's capabilities, he asserted that the IAEA had "a permanent presence in Iraq in terms of an inspection ability which is very, very intrusive... we have quite exceptional powers in Iraq which are not given to us in normal circumstance."

Dr. Kyd stated that the agency had received copies of the documents and had "taken a look at them. But they are a rather insubstantial basis on which to try to pursue an investigation" although the agency found itself "to a degree" more concerned that Iraq could be engaged in a covert programme.

"We have certainly taken up (the allegations with the Iraqis) at a very high level indeed." The IAEA's own report to the council, he said, would await Iraq's reaction and on-the-spot in-

Following Dr. Kyd's statements, the IAEA official in charge of the monitoring team in Iraq, Dr. R. Ziffero, said that after careful investigation the agency had concluded that the documents had been "forged." And not very cleverly because the forgers had misspelt place names in Iraq and did not seem to know very much about how to build a bomb. This would suggest that the forgers would seem to be Westerners rather than members of the Iraqi opposition who would not, one would hope, misspell place names in their own country.

These two tactical moves in the campaign to preserve sanctions were meant to secure the renewal of sanctions and compel Iraq to accept the Security Council resolution, proposed by Argentina, at the instiga-tion of the U.S. and U.K., which would allow Iraq to sell $2 billion worth of oil within 180 days (or $1 billion within 90 days), in order to purchase desper-ately needed medical supplies and food for the Iraqi populace suffering severe deprivation under the stringent sanctions regime.

Although the arrangement would be renewable every 90 days, if approved by the Secretary General who has followed the U.S. line on Iraq), Iraq would have to set aside 30 per cent of the proceeds to put into a war reparations fund pay the costs of U.N. operations in Iraq and set aside about $150 million for the 2.2 million Kurds in the Western protected "safe haven" in the north. The remainder, about $500 million would be used by the U.N. to purchase food and medical supplies for the 16 million Iraqi civilians in the rest of the country. Before the Gulf war that sum was spent annually on medical supplies alone.

Although the U.N. claimed that the resolution eased the monitoring of the distribution of the goods purchased abroad and provided more money to Iraq than the previous (1991) offer of a one-time sale of $1.6 billion, the Iraqi Revolutionary Command Council, the speaker of the Iraqi parliament and the cabinet all claimed that the latest resolution was a "violation of Iraq sovereignty" and turned if down. It certainly was a "violation of sovereignty," in spite of Secretary General Boutros Ghali's contention that it respected Iraq's sovereignty. This is because the sale of the oil, to be exported through the Turkish pipeline from Kurkuk to Yumurtalik on the Mediterranean coast (for which Iraq would also have a pay a heavy tariff), and the proceeds would still be managed by the U.N. as under the 1991 plan. This would, in effect, place Iraq's major natural re-source under U.N. manage-ment, a possibility Baghdad could not be expected to Dr. Ghali's contention that this resolution was "the first step" in the lifting of sanctions was diputed by both U.S. and Argentinian spokesmen. The U.S.-U.K. camp never in fact believed Iraq would accept this deal, but by offering it the two powers attempted to shift is from the council to the Iraqi government the burden of his and the confiers in the confiers responsibility for the suffer | ing inflicted on ordinary Iraqis. It is not clear that Paris, Moscow, Beijing and non-permanent members who voted for the resolution but basically oppose further sanctions, will remain convinced that this has indeed happened.

The U.S. strategic objective remains the continuation of remains the continuation of remains the continuation sanctions. By raising these accusations about possible Iraqui violations of Resolution 667 qi violations of Resonation of Resonation and placing on offer this next. Washington wants to keep in 11 inter the opponents of sanctions when the council reconsiders the sanctions regime in mid-May. What is certain is that Washington and London are now resorting to more and more desperate measures falsification and forgery 10 keep the sanctions regime going

2° 15

-

. . 1. 🕸

A ... 16 1

西:沙黄

a ha

A State In A. 27 3.

> fului : ahi 70 gu اللا بهن lur 🛊 Willy.

រក់ស 68.353 merr

As an impact Par

CPeratos

URSDAY-FRIDAY, APRIL MA

BERRINE IMAGES, MISCORCED of this has not happened, except The agreement was supposed to the first the survey of the

peng and hostility are mil

A pioneering way to convey Arab realities to the west

Five Arab authors' books translated into English

set groups are to blame because By Sana Atiyeh

the like promoting suspice by Sana Atiyeh

the lake promoting suspice Times Bith Paterinian Authorny new

The opposition has a language professor of Arabic and service different the language and women's ward, Gaza and Jencho Makerature and women's analytic and inendity when the Arabs were being included and friendly when others br. Facus rays to Facus rays that Arabs were being to watching ever gesture and phunanised in Western gesture at the phunanised in the death of the phunanised in the second sections and the phunanised civilians the code in maintaining the social Iraqi civilians social in performance on the oring the Gulf war, she start government to facility at will help change that.

The code letter to facility at will help change that.

The and Performance in facility at will help change that. The and Person Be se som the Regish novels the first see are now and Argh women au-The in the second state of the second The in the state of the Arab publishers. The five novels by from the state of to the state of the series of actick the analysis iographical variable of section of section of section with the section of secti there is the state of the state think least an inches ondon on repair 'Arab workers related 'Arab workers related to the workers are Hoda Ains the symmetry The authors are Hoda The authors Lebanon, iana Badr from Palesis and Date House from Name from metresses ag, Hamida Na'na from ag, Hamua iva Bakr with and Salwa Bakr on Egypt.

"I wanted the voices of e voiceless in the Arab orld to be heard," said r and lecturer at the inversity of Durham. "I Hose women writers who eve not been widely coget in the West, who e not stars, and who can nange the misconcepons and myths about rab society through ese novels. Dr. Faqir, a Jordanian ently, described the eries as literature telling he "unofficial, unwritten, untold and repressed hisory of the writers' coun- Jordan Times. "Any text ted

ė 1: . ;

14,841.1

T ...

13. 3

ن يو د وا

. 12. .

al in 1000

....

14

.

. . . .

:::

---

She added that the translated series represents a way for Arab women to speak directly to the West and that they challenge the preconceptions of Arab and Muslim women, frequently misrepresented by Western writers and journalists "These novels give insight to the private thoughts, the literature and the voices of Arab women," Dr. Faqir explained. "We are sick of being misrepresented as locally being second class citizens by Western academics, journalists and thinkers. We are simply

She cited an example of chapter by a British journalist in a book about Arab women. The chapter is entitled "Women in Jordan" based on interviews with only three women in positions of power "as if that's what women in Jordan are all about."

not what the West thinks

we are."

Dr. Faqir consulted various Arab writers, thinkers and friends before she selected the five titles, took another six months to find the right translators, two of whom studied Arab women, and worked with a comprehensive team, including the authors, to produce the series of English.

The lack of good translators from Arabic into another language is partly responsible for the way we are portrayed in the West," said Dr. Faqir, who wrote her novel, Nisanit, in English in

'We hope we have succeeded in preserving the spirit of the text," she said in an interview with the

Dr. Fadia Al Faqir

loses something in translation, but yet it gains something else when you remove it from its original language and place it into another culture."

These novelists in particular, she added, have tried to free themselves from the classical Arabic language, and therefore, when translated, have challenged the preconceptions of Arab and Muslim

Dr. Faqir's novel, Nisanit, about a woman in love with a Palestinian fighter who loses his sanity under the brutality of his Israeli torturer, was published and sold out in Britain and the U.S. Her second novel, Pillars Of Salt, based on the history of Jordan, will be published this year by Quartet Books in England. She is currently working on her third novel, The Black Iris Crossing.

The Novels

The Stone Of Laughter, by Hoda Barakat, is centred around a bisexual character, Khalil, struggling in his day-to-day life in war-torn Beirut and trying to maintain order in his mind and home while his country is comitting

Ms. Barakat's novel "dismisses every ideology and rhetoric and tries to say no to heroism through this character," Dr. Faqir said. "But he could not resist what is happening around him. It's a very tragic story."

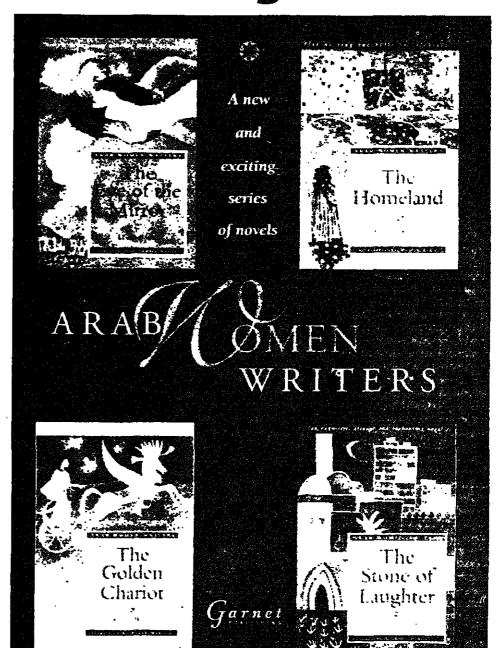

Liana Badr's The Eye Of The Mirror is also antiheroic in the traditional sense of the word, and talks about a "different type of victory of women trying to keep a destroyed refugee camp together, as Dr. Faqir put it. This novel was written after seven years of research into the massacre of Palestinians in Tal Al Za'tar refugee camp in the beginning of the Lebanese civil war.

Ms. Badr has documented the tragedy of the camp through a female character, Aisha, whose family and friends are torn apart by tragic reasons beyond her control, and who tries to start a family of her own. "She was writing about the war of women" in a war started and carried out by men, said Dr. Fagir. 'And the clear message in this story is that people do not forget and that we must learn from a history which cannot be wiped

Alia Mamdouh's Mothballs takes us to Baghdad in the 1940s and 50s seen through the eyes of one girl who talks about the history of her simple family. "The writer tries to preserve everything about Baghdad, its voices, its architecture, its streets," said the series editor. "Written in the 70s she predicted all the tyrany and oppression we see in Iraq today.

In the Homeland, Hamida Na'na bases her story and character, Nadia, on Laila Khalid, the well-known Palestinian guerrilla fighter of the 1970s. Nadia, disillusioned, moves to the West where she gets romantically involved with a lapsed Marxist revolutionary in Paris. Though he renounces his early idealism, she finds she cannot do the same because her den Chariot takes us to a idealism concerns her homeland.

"We see another clash between two cultures, two ways of seeing armed struggle and two ways of thinking," said Dr. Faqir. Salwa Bakr's The Gol-women's prison in Egypt and looks at the story of each prisoner and how she ended up there. Seen through the eyes of Amina, "who takes us along in an amusing journey of seeing things from different angles as the writer changes her tactics," the story shows the political, economic and social reasons behind their imprisonment. Ms. Bakr's works have been previously translated into English, Germany and Dutch.

Much 'ado' about rumours, teeth and 'hygiene' Needless to say, all the ado over the student

___brawls on campus at the University of Jordan did not sit well with the country's leadership, which faulted almost everyone for exaggerating and exacerbating the issue. Rumours hit the boiling point and nearly everyone had a story to relate. Obscurity led to speculation -speculation helped to fuel the rumours. But other officials involved in the case site the selfserving interests of various people in interfering in an issue which from within the campus proper had already subsided. The university is econtinuing its investigations into the incidents by calling in dozens of students for questioning. Meanwhile, university officials roaming past or through the waiting room where a mix of students from different backgrounds, including Saltis and Circassians, wait to be questioned, say the mood is anything but hostile. "The kids are talking and joking with each other in a healthy manner," said one such official. Those who stuck their noses into this business had their Dead Sea spice: Down at the Dead Sea Hotel and Spa last week, a group of former prime ministers, academicians, newspaper chief editors and political experts gathered for an agenda of closed sessions to discuss the results of a poll on Jordanian-Palestinian relations released in early February by the University of Jordan's Centre for Strategic Studies. The discussion was called for based on the poll's revelation that the Palestian issue is a domestic issue. But that it was a closed session seemed to spark more interest to outsiders. At a luncheon following the morning session, House Deputy and former Prime Minister Taher Masri was called away from the table by a journalist telephoning from Amman. "Excellency, we are hearing rumours up here in Amman of a secret meeting between Jordanians, Palestinians and an Israeli delegation," the journalist said. Masri responded explaining the format and topic of the agenda and added that "No, there were no Israelis involved." Returning to his seat laughing, Masri reported the telephone conversation to the group. Ten minutes later another participant was called by the same journalist. As he stood to head for the telephone. Masri shouted out to him, "Make sure you tell him that Ahmad Obeidat is with us!" -hoping to dispel rumours that Israelis were among the discussion group. At that Obeidat, a former prime minister and senator who resigned from his seat in the Upper House over his objections to the peace treaty with Israel, broke from his more stoic demeanour and laughed

SOCIETY ON

Normalising teeth: A consequence of laughing is that it reveals one's teeth, provided one still has teeth. For some Israelis, dental care in Jordan has become another attraction. according to one Israeli daily. Yediot Aharanot reported that hundreds of Israelis are tagging on a visit to Jordanian dentists as part of their travels to the Kingdom. The bottom line is that charges for services here are nearly three times less expensive. Tour guides are said to have started asking travel agents to provide additional time on Israeli tourists' itineraries to get in a little dental work. But one report, said that the Israeli dentistry association has warned tourist to "be wary of hygiene conditions" in Jordan. Let's see what the Jordanian Dentists Association will have to say to that.

Uptown ban on downtown sins? It wasn't exactly just hygienic conditions, or more specifically, the poor state of them, that forced the Ministry of Tourism to shut down the Riviera Hotel in downtown Amman. The official news media reported that the hotel's licence had been withdrawn because of the establishment's "service and low level of hygiene." But according to a source close to the case, the hotel had repeatedly violated Ministry of Tourism regulations, some of which have little tolerance

Jennifer Hamarneli

Australian film industry faces profound change

By Jennifer Stafford HE NEXT three years ill be a time of rapid and ofound change for the ustralian Film Commison (AFC) and the Auralian film industry ∴nerally.

The Creative Nation

"own agendas;" he said.

atement was released in ctober 1994 and reafms the government's Pport for the film indus-This statement is a ijor milestone in Au-'alia's cultural policy d directs additional: بـ ids of $5.2 million to velopmental work on creative · AFC for expanding its creative multimedia. Many consider that the luence of new technolos is going to be the gest single change in - way we communicate ce the invention of the nting press. Certainly it oing to have an impact the way in which the a industry operates. The view has been ex-lian entertainment and of rapid technological Microdocs Series, which education will become more significantly hostage to programmes from the highly productive U.S. industries. Whether or not you share this perspective, the issue is one of many that frames the way the AFC is thinking about the

A related view is that in a multi-channel environment with satellite and cable delivery services, regulation will no longer be an effective mechanism for achieving cultural outcomes. Many in the film industry regard the introduction of an Australian content standard for commercial television as having been a catalyst in the development of our domestic film industry and they are seeking similar quota requirements for

Pay TV. Future challenge The future challene for the AFC is how to mainssed by some that if we tain and expand opportu-I't take up the opportu- nities for expressions of es offered by the new the diversity of Australian unologies then Austra- culture in an environment change with a multiplicity of distribution outlets. The AFC will also be exploring the application of new technologies in col-lecting and disseminating information about the scope and performance of the film industry.

A major part of the wav in which the AFC sees its role over the next three years is in shaping and promoting the diversity of culture that comprises the Australian identity. The AFC has a role to play in influencing the kinds of films and television programmes that are produced and the development of audiences for those programmes both in Australia and internationally.

A recent collaboration between the AFC, the Australian Broadcasting Corporation (ABC) and state film agencies introduced ABC viewers to a series of specially commissioned short documentaries as an alternative format to traditional television programming. The support of a new generawas broadcast in late 1994, also gave six new documentary makers the opportunity to have their seven-minute programmes broadcast repeatedly on national television.

As the primary development agency for the film industry in Australia, the AFC's priorities lie with originality, diversity and risk-taking in the development and production of films, television and multimedia programmes. Support is given to projects which extend the boundaries, challenge existing conventions and contribute to the diversity of productions and hence the richness of Australian cultural life.

New generation With international film financing geared to the talents of recognised directors and the richness of cinema, television and software being dependent on personal visions, the AFC seeks to develop skills, talent and vision in tion of internationally rec-ognised Australian direc-which the AFC linked to tors and programme mak-

Australian films and television programmes have a major influence on the way in which Australians think about themselves and their country and the way in which we are perceived around the world. The AFC pursues a broad range of promotional strategies both internationally and in Australia which are designed to stimulate distribution of Australian productions, expand markets and assist in raising the profile of Australians and their work.

The AFC's international promotion work covers special events such as film and television seasons through which it aims to stimulate public interest and encourage broadcasters and distributors to acquire more Australian programmes. Cinema Australien at the Centre Georges Pompidou in Paris in 1991 and promo-

the Asia-Pacific Film Festival and the Australia Abroad Council's promotion, are examples of AFC events which have been successful in raising the international profile of the Australian film industry. The AFC's promotion of creative multimedia over the next three years will enhance the growing awareness of the range and sophistication of Australian culture. There is now an audience for Australian productions which senses the genuine diversity and quality of the product.

Special events which the AFC has planned and funded for 1995 include a 100 year retrospective of Australian films touring eight cities in Germany from March to July, film events in Indonesia in July and Korea in October (proposed date) and a maor season of 95 Australian films in New York from October to January 1996 at the Museum of Modern Art. Details of these events and the AFC's international film festival activities throughout the year are given in the Australia Abroad Council's quarterly publication.

As part of the broader social and political process of reconciliation between white and indigenous Australia, a significant element of the AFC's support for a diversity of cultural expressions in Australia is the priority it attaches to indigenous representation. The AFC established an indigenous branch during 1993 to engage in regular consultation and exchange with indigenous programme makers and organisations and to advance the participation of indigenous Australians in all aspects of the film industry.

Over the next three high priority to advancing the development and production of programmes created by indigenous Auing a wider appreciation of the work of indigenous Australians by supporting its distribution and exhibition. In January 1995, the AFC launched its Indigenous Drama Initiative which offers funding to indigencus filmmakers to make dramatic films which will be screened by the Special Broadcasting Service early in 1996. The AFC administers the Official Co-Production Programme which provides a modest number of Australian producers with a way of combining the creative and financial benefits available in Australia and abroad. In addition to the existing treaty with the U.K. a new treaty was negotiated with Italy in 1993 and negotiatins are well advanced with Germany. Negotiations with France are centred around upgrading the years, the AFC accords a current arrangements to treaty strus. Coproduction arrangements are also in place with New Zealand and Canada. —

Virtuality

By Jean-Claude Elias

Computer users take a malicious pleasure at impressing common mortals with their jargon. By doing so they may not be very different from doctors except that with the tremendous speed of change and new terms being added to the IT (information technology) vocabulary almost on a daily basis, they have a much wider scope to practise their game.

The concept of "virtuality" in the world of IT has been around for a while but it's recently taken a new, frightening meaning with the widespread usage of computer-generated images.

Saying that a PC (personal computer) uses virtual memory doesn't refer to any supernatural or magic device. It simply means that the machine doesn't have enough regular memory to accomplish a given task and instead is using extra available disk space for that purpose. A virtual disk is the opposite. Part of the regular memory is used to do the processing, instead of the physical disk. Nothing to worry about so far — virtuality is under control.

Computer generated art, still pictures and animated graphics more particularly have added a new dimension to the concept. Images that do not correspond anymore to anything real are invading networks, magazines, advertisements and so forth. Actual photographs are being touched up, modified and altered in such a drastic manner that they tell a story completely different from the original work. Graphic animation software exists that allows the creation of totally imaginary people, animals or objects, in full 3-dimensions. These can be animated with near perfection.

A TEN BUT TO THE MENT OF THE WAS DESCRIBED TO SERVE TO SERVE THE CONTRACT OF THE SERVE THE SERVE

Some will argue that this is not new and that artists have always played tricks with images, motion pictures and photographs. Physical "cut and paste" has existed long before this facility was made available through computer software. After all animated cartoons are also virtual images that have been around for a few decades now.

The difference is that computer produced virtuality looks very much "real." It can deceive the most experienced eyes. The perfection of the shapes, the volumes, the colours, the light, the shadows and before all the movement, have nothing to do with Mickey Mouse or Bugs Bunny. When they produce films like The Jungle Book or The Little Mermaid, Walt Disney studios do not want nor expect the viewer to take the cartoons for reality. Computer animated or manipulated graphics however are so dangerously true that their originators may have undeclared intentions.

Last year, by pure coincidence, two famous American weekly magazines published, simultaneously, an issue with the same cover: A photograph of football star O.J. Simpson distributed to them by a third party. One of the magzines however decided to modify the photo in a way to make Simpson's face "blacker." The trick was done using a computer process. Only the comparison between both covers made readers realise that one of them had been touched up --- causing an obvious embarrassment to the guilty magazine.

An interesting essay by Rod Usher (Time, March 27, 95) tackled the worrisome subject of virtual pornography. With the help of a PC, an image scanner and a painting software, a pedophile had used a combination of legally published photographs to fabricate virtual, but incredibly "real-looking" images of children that he transmitted over the telephone lines to other computers. No legal action could be taken against him since the images he obtained did not correspond to any real situation nor living children. There are no laws to cover such cases

Usher adds that computer-generated vileness is even more horrible than the actual thing for "there can never be a real cry, a real tear" in it.

The French Cultural Centre in Amman last year hosted a lecture on "Virtual Images." Viewers were treated to a short promotional film by Renault, the car-maker, showing a new model driving on a pleasant country road. Hadn't the lecturer revealed that the film was entirely virtual and computerproduced, everybody, including the writer of this column who attended the lecture, would have taken the car, the road and the scenery for reality.

Publishers are becoming very cautious with the graphic material they have to handle. A new attitude, a new approach is required but has not yet been defined. Lawmakers have some arduous homework

ON THE LIGHTER SIDE

By Mohammad A. Shuqair

TANTALIZING FACTS

- ★ It is not recorded in the Bible that Jesus was ever
- ★ Fish has the same number of scales during their entire lifetime.
- ☆ The first appendectomy was performed in 1736.
- ★ German silver does not contain any silver at all.
- ★ The eyes of an elephant are only slightly larger than the eyes of a man.
- ★ The common house fly does not breed in Alaska.
- * All snake eggs are white or cream coloured.
- ★ In 1800, only about 7 per cent of the United States population were church members.
- ★ Pigs were used in ancient Egypt to tread seeds into the ground and thresh grain.
- ★ The average life of a spider is only one year.

* * * * *

LET'S CHAT IN ARABIC

- He has no money. Laysa ma'aho fuloos. I had 10 dinars only. Ma'e ashrato dananeer faqat. — I've not enough time to see you.
- Laysa indi waqtan kafe'yan le-arak. you. Kollo hatha min ajlek. All this is for you. One and two are three.
- Wahid wa ethnain yusawi thalatha. We want oranges for one dinar and a half. Noreed burtuqalan bedinar wa nist. - She had a small house and a big garden.
- Tamlik manzilan saghiran wa hadeeqatan kabirah. The book you search for is in the drawer.
   Al-kitab allathi tab'hatho anhu fid-durj.
- I want a ticket for Egypt.
- Oreedo tath'karatan ela Misr. · She was here with me yesterday.
- Kanat ma'e hona bil-ams.
  - * * * * *

TV JOKES

- ★ HE: "Is this show clean?"
- "SHE: "Sure. It's a soap opera." ★ That TV star is so rich. He's got four Mercedes —
- on each direction!
- ★ It's a quizz show only in reverse: If you answer the question — you're a certified
- ★ That TV show had a happy ending. Everything was glad when it was over.
- ★ There's one thing you can say about some crime shows: It's a crime they stay on the air!

BANK OF KNOWLEDGE

1. What is the "key of the Mediterranean?"

- 2. What is a horologer?
- 3. What is pin-money? 4. What are gewgaws?
- 5. What is capital punishment?
- 6. What is a Sirdar?
- 7. What is Reichstag?
- 8. What does "asclepius" stand for?

* * * * *

PICTURE & COMMENT

Kevin Carter, 34, a South African photographer won the 1994 Pulitzer Prize for this picture which he took while touring Sudan. The picture shows a Sudanese child facing inevitable death due to starvation. A vulture in the backround could be seen prepared to swoop down this poor little creature!

* * * * *

PUZZLES

HEADS ALIKE

Although the "heads" of these mammals are the same on paper it doesn't necessarily follow that they are alike. Very much the reverse, in fact. Can you fill in the missing letters and reveal them in their

The missing letters are indicated by dots.

	,
1.	COY
	JACK
	KO BEAR
	MAN

5. MON...

6. PAN.. 7. POR.... 8. WAL...

JACK.. KO.... BEAR MAN.... MON.... PAN.... POR..... WAL...

COY...

New club extraordinaire

By Samer Ghaleb Bagaeen

Forget the Royal Automobile Club, forget the Orthodoxi Club, forget all other clubs in Amman. Today, this column brings you the exclusive premier of the unveiling of Amman's latest inclusive club.

With an eye on making all car drivers automatic members of this club, it was named the Left Lane Drivers' Club. A typical member of this club is the sort of driver that both you and I come across everyday. You probably know the sort of driver I'm talking about. The sort who, when on the road, drives in the left lane and just stays there while driving at a speed far more appropriate for the right-hand lane of the road.

All this of course means that we, drivers and all, are not fully aware, if not totally ignorant to the fact, that in this country the left lane is reserved for fast moving traffic while all other lanes are for slower moving traffic.

But, and so typical of us, we have over the years made up our own rules as far as driving on the left side of a road is concerned. Hence the Left Lane Drivers' Club. But again, if you look harder at this situation, you discover, as was rightly pointed out to me, that a great number of drivers choose to sit on the fence and drive in the middle until, either willingly or unwillingly, they make or are forced to dilemma is that these slow moving drivers on the left appear, at most times, convinced that they have the right to drive where they are driving and at the speed at which they are driving. But because this presumed right to do things and to behave in certain ways manifests itself so openly when we drive be it where and how we drive or where and how we choose to park, an explanation is called for.

One of the funnier sides to this where-to-drive

Beneath all this talk of priorities in driving lies the deeper issue of citizenship and that of the genuine love of others. In most cases, those at the higher end of the social scale think that they can park in the middle of a street because they happen to believe it is a given privilege that comes with their status. So they do it out of selfishness and total lack of respect for the needs of others. Meanwhile, those at the lower end of the social scale do it out of carelessness and

It is also true that both parties do it out of need, their need. But what about the needs of other drivers? What about the needs of pedestrians when these drivers park on the pavements? Whatever happened to the utopian vision of community spirit and care for others?

What it all comes down to is that all of us can have our membership in the Left Lane Drivers' Club annulled when, and only when, we start behaving like the responsible citizens we aspire to be and to be treated as such.

JTV CHANNEL 2 WEEKLY PREVIEW

Thursday, April 20

1:00 Dennis The Menace

1:30 My Secret Identity

2:00 N.B.A.

3:00 Survival 3:50 Blue Heelers

4:30 French Programme

7:30 The Album Show

8:00 Blue Revolution

9:15 E.N.G.

10:00 News In English

10:20 Feature Film — The Good Fight . 12:00 The Burning Shores

Friday, April 21

1:00 Lift Of

1:30 Why Didn't I Think Of That?

2:45 Feature Film — Mob Boss 4:15 White Fang

4:45 French Programme

7:30 African Skies

8:00 Documentary — QED

8:30 You Bet Your Life

9:10 The Law And Harry McGraw

10:00 News In English

10:20 Documentary — Mini Dragons

Hong Kong

11:30 Feature Film — The Golden Rod Saturday, April 22

2:00 Dog City

2:30 Harry And The Hendersons

3:00 Witness To Survival

3:30 Road To Avonlea

4:00 Gillette World Sport

4:30 Tarzan

5:00 French Programme

7:30 The Bold And The Beautiful 8:00 Documentary - Life In The Freezer

8:30 The Nanny

9:00 Documentary — Dive The World

9:15 Cape Rebel

10:00 News In English

10:20 Feature Film — Best Kept Secrets 12:00 Tanamera

Sunday, April 23

2:00 Animated Classics — Sinbad

3:00 Feature Film — The Biggest Battle 4:30 Tarzan

5:00 French Programme

7:30 The Bold And The Beautiful 8:00 Masterpieces Of Literature

8:30 Almost Home

9:10 The Other Side Of Paradise

10:00 News In English

10:20 Feature Film - For Love Alone

Starring: Helen Buday & Sam Neill

12:00 The Hidden Room 12:30 Grace And Favour

Monday, April 24

2:00 Madeline

2:30 Munster's Today

3:00 Hard Time On Planet Earth 3:50 Pals

4:15 The Language Of Animals

4:30 Tarzan

5:00 French Programme

7:30 The Bold And The Beautiful

8:00 Documentary — Voyager

9:10 The Contender

10:00 News In English 10:20 Strauss Dynasty

10:20 Feature Film - Lethal Exposure

Starring: Ally Sheedy & François Geudron

Tuesday, April 25

2:00 Captain Planet

2:30 I Witness Video

3:30 Road To Avonlea

4:30 Tarzan

5:00 French Programme 7:30 The Bold And The Beautiful

8:00 Documentary — The Nature Of Things

8:30 Desmond's

9:10 Jack The Ripper

10:00 News In English 10:20 Seaforth

12:00 Lonesome Dove

Wednesday, April 26

2:00 The Flintstones

2:30 Hot Shots

3:30 Movies, Games And Videos

4:00 Amazing Stories

3:00 Beakman's World

4:30 Tarzan

5:00 French Programme

7:30 The Bold And The Beautiful 8:00 The Marvellous Machine

8:30 GP

9:15 Berlin Break

10:00 News In English

10:20 Prism 10:40 Dandelion Dead

12:00 Keeping Up Appearances

the section is Part of the

Te Death Of T

2. 2

. '~~~££#¥

- **C タ学

~√ €

1.5243

e et er mitt State of the Name of State of the Name of "Err ..." in Britain The District antific State Continue # The Continue 25 mm 35 350 arm charant hare 💌 Programme star Aven This to was from the innde Services The services hip The same of the states S. Barrier Contract Bearing .

The property

Carried to the property

Walk To Froedon ography of Neis

विश्वासीय विश्वासीय विश्वासीय । इ.स. विश्वासीय विश्वासीय विश्वासीय ।

the that on For what can can Seen to 191' when h Sales Sent parents

Or the fact of a sorid figure. New ien your of him Transact, at the hud hoored hut, w cled in a single ble ed pinned at the wa and concern the the of a wall punit and his future se Princess ing of a Statesman was ind the because of he shoulders above the his love of men Min make-up "It p ale my love of th beauties of nature

dinaire mes, convinced that they have the because this need.

from But because this press

Laik of priorities in driving his

there her and that of the list ment cares those at the higher from their they can park in the corner with their status. So, the care that their status so, the care that their status so, and total lack of respensive their those at the care their country.

MC1; and total lack of lespent of Mcall white, those at the he saidle day it out of carelessness;

Milliam Parties do nom of a sale of mends of the medical medical medical medical medical management.

A fact recide of pedestrangle k

de from section of community on the Left Lane Dries ( and the start being being r successions to be and by (Mber Side Of Paradise

Fum - For Love Aloge

garrafulasi Sam Neg

The Hidden Room

Grace And Favour

≽day, April 24

2:00 Mudeline

1.50 Pal.

4. W Bran

French Programm:

Bold tod The leading camentary — lagr

:Milaure Hill

9 The Contender

3 Year In English

9 Straues Dynasiy

e Film — Letha' Epone

grae in in Paris All

aday, April 25

9 Captain Planet

1 1 Million Miles

Rosed in Worles

bremen transmit

W Deminist's

Jack The Ripper News In English

Rold and The Resutiful

77 - The Value of the

1 10 125-25

Munster's Today

Franc (III Planet Earth

Language (If Annak

News In English

Gulf War as seen from down under

The Gulf War: Critical Perspectives strong non necause this press.

Since to behave in certain to the when we drive be in the interpretation of the control of the Edited by Michael McKinley Published by Allen & Unwin, pp. 209, $24.95, Canberra, 1994

This book (produced by the Department of International Relations at the Australian National University, Canberra) is a compilation of articles which critically examine the 1991 Gulf War from an Australian perspective. Its contributors are experts in defence studies, political science, foreign affairs, international relations and strategic studies. The book is dividied into an introduction and seven chapters.

in the first chapter Washed In The Sands Of Grey: The Persian Gulf In Context, David Campbell examines the setting of the conflict and the "multifatious" international/intercorporate relations between Iraq and the West. After presenting a brief history of the Iraqi-Kuwaiti border demarcation, he traces the solid American backing to Iraq. This he claims ensued after the secret visit to Baghdad by the then-CIA director, William Casey, when the U.S. effectively permitted third regional parties "to transfer American military and hardware to Iraq" (p. 11). According to Campbell, between 1985-90, nearly 800 American dual use technology export licences to Iraq worth $1.5 billion were issued, and that between 1982-89, German corporations alone exported more than $600 million worth of technology much of which is of "obvious military application" (p. 19). In a similar vain, the National Security Directive 26, signed by George Bush, helped maintain the momentum of intensive American bias towards Iraq despite substantial concerns about the way Iraq had used previous credits and the ends they were serving." (p.

While neither exculpating one party nor incriminating the other, Campbell also seeks to deconstruct the one-dimensional narrative of the official story of the war. Accordingly, with the caveat that the events preceding Aug. 2, 1990 neither "condone" or "justify" Iraq's military occupation of Kuwait, he attempts to "contextualise" the invasion (p. 26). But when commenting on a CIA released statement on Oct. 30, 1990 in response to the alleged meeting between the Kuwaiti director-general of state security and CIA director on Nov. 14, 1989, Campbell opines that "it is possible to interpret later events as suggesting the plausibility of a U.S.-inspired plan to provoke Iraq" (p. 30). Campbell is also critical of American diplomacy. While he concedes that his purpose is not to say that a diplomatic solution was possible, but rather "render problematic the convic-tion that it was impossible," he asks why the Americans did not earnestly support "those who in actuality assiduously explored non-military solutions prior to August 1990?" And why was the "conflict after August 1990 not one amenable to the virtues of negotiation and arbitration?" (pp. 32, 35).

In the second chapter Quantum Leaping: The Gulf Debate In Australia and Canada, Professor Kim Nossal highlights the national and cross-national debates in Australia and Canada with regard to the 1991 Gulf War, which he characterises as essentially ethnocentric. Professor Nossal observes that in both countries history was deployed as the "critical part of policy debate" as parliamentarians used historical examples to advance their arguments. However, according to Professor Nossal, history was not merely a "rhetorical device to shore up postures," but rather a "deep-seated part of the decision-making process" (p. 50).

According to Professor Nossal, in both countries public discourse was similar. Australians and Canadians alike shouted the cross-Atlantic Gulf War slogans: (No Blood For Oil), (Hell no, we won't die for Texaco), and John Lennon's refrain (Give peace a chance), etc. As Professor Nossal shows, both prime ministers, Hawke and Mulroney, were popularily accused of joining the war "for a toadying desire to please George Bush." Moreover, he demonstrates that the press in both countries occasionally portrayed them as "lap dogs, puppy dogs, or presidential poodles" (p. 56). (Even a year later, as Professor Nossal points, Mulroney was loved described by the Canadian Towards Stories Montal 1993 scribed by the Canadian Toronto Star in March 1992 as "a Yankee lackey grovelling at his master's feet." And during 1990 Bush's dog was once jokingly advised by Canadian journalists to run fast for fear that Mulroney would retrieve a frisbee thrown by the president first.) (pp. 55, 56).

In the third chapter The Gulf War And Australian Political Culture, Professor James Richardson examines the political culture which dictated that Australia should side with the United States without due national deliberations. According to Professor Richardson, this largely stems from Australia's national security sub-culture and its constant need of Western patrons. In this context Australia's headlong rush into participating in America's war is seen as an "abdication of independent judgement" and a "rueful triumph for golf course diplomacy," as opposed to a national choice consistent with clearly-set national characteristics and autonomous objectives. This conclusion is further supported by Australia's failure to consult with ASEAN governments, which in turn has "reinforced its image in the region (that Australia is) still essentially Western in its orientation, identifying with Europe and the U.S. not with regional concerns" (p. 81). Professor Richardson also coincides with Richard Falk's observation of the "continuing 'racist disposition' in Western political culture which is "especially quick to associate the evil Other with non-white, non-Christian peoples" (p. 93).

In the fourth chapter Economic Sanctions And Military Solutions: Australia, Middle Power Internationalism And The Costs Of Instant Gratifications, Richard Leaver suggests that in the case of Iraq, economic sanctions could have produced more fruitful results. He also contends that the case for sanctions was badly "undersold" to the world and Western public opinion. However, he admits that due to the "private context within which allied strategy was hatched,... popular backing for sanctions could never have halted the metamorphosis of Desert Shield into Desert Storm" (p. 99) According to Leaver, proponents of santions believed that hostilities could develop into an uncontrollable re-gional conflagration which may even "pit the Islamic and Judo-Christian traditions against each other through the coming decades," and that a military conflict would bring a high number of Western casualties (p. 101). However, Leaver dismisses the first apocalyptic argument on the grounds that regardless of its "empirical validity," it "imposes a powerful kind of reductionist logic upon strategic thinking" (p. 102). Further he identifies four political objectives which could be accommodated under the "generous phraseology" of Resolution 678, and states that "by standing still, the case for sanctions was gradually outflanked by the development of the conflict and politically marginalised well before the shooting started" (p. 104).

In contending the testimony of the then Director of the CIA, William Webster, to the Armed Services Committee of the House of Representatives in December 1990, Leaver points that arguments for the case of war failed to "conceptualise how economic sanctions might feed into domestic and political process" (p. 105). Instead, he points that 98 per cent of Iraq's exports are oil and that the expected 50 per cent fall in Iraq's GDP is, contrary to Webster's analysis, likely to pose significant hardship for the Iraqi military, which in turn is "expected to catalyse a notable decline in military competence through the medium-term" (p. 107). Leaver also adds that there was little chance of obviating Iraq's external sensitivity by adopting economic diversification and contrasts the Iraqi case with Rhodesia. Given the fact that the prospect for sanctions-busting was poor, he carries on to argue that in the long-term, sanctions should exert "debilitating political effects," notwithstanding that "sanctions were unlikely to liberate Kuwait quickly" (p. 109).

In discussing the prospects for a new regional system, mainly through a unipolar one led by the U.S., with minimal flow of arms and weapons of mass destruction, Leaver argues that the application of economic sanctions would have accelerated the development of "techniques of mutual invigilation, and catalysed the will to self-restraint among suppliers" (p. 115). However, oblivious of Turkey's favourable position during and after the war, Leaver declares that the "absolute" winners in this unipolar security system are Israel and Iran, whose capabilities with comparison with the status quo ante were substantially enhanced (p. 116). But nevertheless, Leaver also dismisses George Bush's New World Order as nothing more than a phrase of tactical importance in the "game of wartime importance" (p. 117).

In the fifth chapter The Gulf War And Australian Defence: Aberration or "Defining Event," Graeme Cheeseman examines the domestic implications for Australia's decision to join the multinational alliance against Baghdad. When considering the "reasons for going over there," he states that the government's moral argument "was both overdrawn and hypocritical" (p. 132). But he also admits that faced with the uncertainties of the post-cold war era, Australia's military and strategic planners reached out to their Western security blanket, and that Australia remains 'physically and psychologically" dependent on the assesses the regional reactions to the war in general and the repercussions of Australia's enthusiastic participation in the war against Iraq. He observes "remarkable" similarities in the Indonesian and Malavsian initial reaction to the Gulf Crisis: both were critical of the U.S. China and India also initially did not look favourably on Australia's decision to join the war. According to Malik, even when Indonesia, Malaysia, India and China supported U.N. resolutions for "purely opportunistic and selfish reasons," they advocated restraint (p. 154). Malik observes that at all stages of the conflict there was no evidence of consultation between Australia and South Asia countries, though Japan was the only Asian country with which Australia had had serious consultations. But as Malik also shows, Australia was not completely isolated as it also received wholehearted support from regional powers like Sri Lanka, Singapore, Brunei, Thailand, the Philippines, South Korea and Japan (p. 165).

In the sixth chapter The Gulf War: Australia's Role And Asia-Pacific Responses, Mohan Malik

BOOK REVIEW

As Malik notices, in many Asia-Pacific countries apprehension was expressed about Pax Americana in a unipolar world. Additionally, demands for the "democratisation" of the U.N. were made, mainly through buttressing the role of the General Assembly in the face of the Security Council which is now freed from from the deadlock which characterised it during the cold war.

In the seventh chapter The 'Bitterness Of Being Right': Reflections On Australian Alliance Orthodoxy, The Gulf War, And The New World Order, Michael McKinley concludes the book by arguing that the Gulf War was an extension of cold war politics in a post-cold war era. This he claims resulted from the suddenness of the collapse of the Soviet empire, which left American strategic planners vacuous. McKinley also argues against Australia's alliance with the U.S. during the war and that, generally speaking, alliances are instruments of war-proneness. He also observes that the New World Order "reflects an essentially imperial vision," and that unless something serious is done to undo the many outstanding injustices the term New World Order "will be bankrupt, just as the 'same old days'"

McKinley also views it as "hypocrisy" the selective denunciation of Iraq, "while at the same time tolerating injustices in Israel, Syria and Turkey" (p. 193). However, he views the snubbing by U.S.-led military build-up of Arab diplomatic initiative to solve the conflict peacefully as an unnecessary "gratuitous insult." Further, he finds it "difficult to be convinced that,... the Arab states were inferior diplomatically" (p. 194). McKinley, however, does not share the belief that the Gulf victory was great victory. Instead he sees it as a "victory" against an "isolated, demoralised, starving, badly led, shell-shocked, strategically bankrupt and tactically bereft rabble" (p. 196).

As is evident, this book offers a discourse on the tragic Gulf War, where issues are tackled in a true academic spirit. It also undoubtedly gives insights into internal and external implications of Australia's instantaneous decision to join the Western camp.

Lu'ayy Minwer Al Rimawi

A challenge to understand the faith

The Death Of The Messiah

By Raymond E. Brown Doubleday, New York

Last year Doubleday published the 1,608 page work The Death Of The Messiah. It is a stunning achievement of scholarship and objectivity. In a way it is a survey and critique of literature on the passion and death of Jesus for the last 2000 years (daunting). The method of approach in Brown's study of the passion and death is contemporary critico-historical. This means that the latest scientific tools and methods are used if it is helpful in elucidating a text — textual criticism, literary criticism, arhaeological evidence, etc. Brown shows a great freedom and deep belief in

It is not possible in a brief review to give a detailed analysis of this extensive and thorough work, so I would like to present here what I think are major features concerning the work: 1. For anyone who finishes this book he would have a deep and broad understanding of the methods used in Biblical scholarship today. That in itself would be a very great gain. He would know how passages, paragraphs, sentences and words are analysed in very great detail to come to an understanding of what is their meaning.

2. The very first gospel, Mark, was written some 30 years after the death of Jesus. The gospel of John, maybe some 40 years after the gospel of Mark. The early Christian communities had to contend with different forces as their faith developed and deepened. Brown illustrates throughout his book the forces upon these communities, and therefore upon the writers of the different gospels who were writing for these communities. The passion narratives demonstrate that the Christians were trying to show that they were correct in their belief in the face of their enemies and that their enemies were wrong. But most of all, according to Brown, the passion narratives are an expression of the deep faith of the gospel writers and their communities in Jesus who suffered and died, the one through whom God is breaking through. 3. Since the gospels were written some years after the events described in them, the question of the source material of the different gospels is important. For the passion narrative Brown throughout the work gives a detailed presentation of the agreed upon sources and the possible sources. The oral tradition is a very important source, and in the book how this source functioned becomes clear. There was a basic memory of the passion within the different communities; this was put into words through the influence of such factors as the Old Testament, needs of the community and theology of the specific author.

The first followers of Jesus were pious Jews. Their religious sensitivities were shaped by their religious tradition. Therefore scripture was very important in interpreting who and what Jesus did. The influence of scripture is very evident in the composition of the passion narratives.

Some communities were facing martyrdom; some passages of the passion narratives would have been structured as a direct encouragement to these good

The different writers of the gospels had different theologies - i.e. they interpreted the meaning of the passion and death of Jesus in different ways. For example, Mark has Jesus abandoned and alone in a way which John could not accept. John's theology is that Jesus is in charge even of his own death. These different insights give us a rich variety with regard to the presentation of the death of Jesus, but they also give rise to different details in the presentation of the story, and some details that may not be compatible. the overall story is based on historical fact — the passion and death of Jesus - but many details are not easily historically proven. 4. On page 1092 Brown begins a dicussion that is very pertinent to this part of the world, the topic that Jesus himself did not die but that someone else substituted for him. Ideas on substitution were floating around in the 2nd century in connection with gnostic theology. It seems that such heterodox thinking originating in Syria was influential on Arabian Christanity. For the very first Christians the sources indicate that there was no doubt that Jesus died.

BOOK REVIEW

For many Christians this book would be very difficult to read, not merely because it is very scholarly and detailed, but because not being used to reflect upon their faith they would find some of the discussions threatening. But an assumption throughout the book is helpful, that Jesus is not an idea but a person and we as believers have the challenge to put into words as best we can the meaning of Jesus. The gospel writers had a special grace to represent Jesus in a way that would convey the faith in a profound and accurate way. If we do not have the same grace we do have the on-going challenge to understand the faith as best we can in a profoundly changing world. The book of Raymond Brown is an exquisite example of an attempt at this. This book is among the most significant for Christianity published in recent

The only wish I have is that Brown will produce a briefer and less detailed edition of this work so that wide ranges of people would be able to enjoy it and gain from it.

Thomas J. Fitzpatrick

A truly great man

Long Walk To Freedom: The Autobiography of Nelson Mandela

Little, Brown And Company, London, £20. 1994. 617 pages.

This is a wonderful book about a truly great man, and yet it is not a life that one can easily grasp or appreciate. For what can one make of the life of a man who went to jail when he was 44 years old and left it when he was 71, 10,000 days of imprisonment, and then in two years became the elected president of the country. Or the fact that President Nelson Mandela, a world figure, Nobel Peace Prize winner, spent the first ten years of his life, very happily, in a tiny village in Transkei, at the tip of South Africa, living in a mud-floored but, without a single article of furniture, clad in a single blanket, draped over the shoulder and pinned at the waist, a herd-boy looking after sheep and calves in the field — what he calls a "country childhood." And yet he describes himself as "member of a royal household" and at one point had to remind his future son-in-law that he was marrying a "princess". Naturally, a great many influences have gone into the making of a statesman who is also a modern-daysaint, and who, because of his moral stature, stands head and shoulders above the rather shabby aray of present-day leaders. There is his love of nature, a very important element in his make-up. "It is from these days (as a herd-boy) I date my love of the veld, of open spaces, the simple beauties of nature, the clean line of the horizon. His patriotism and idealism is rooted in that

There is his "royal" background because of which he believes that a sense of personal dignity is all-important, and that in a freedom struggle the people must first be liberated from a sense of psychological inferiority towards their opponent. In that sense many nominally "free" countries are really not free, like Cyprus (both sides of the island) and almost all Arab countries and even huge Indonesia.

There was the national struggle itself which, especially when, as the elusive "black pimpernel", Mandela was working underground because of which he came into close contact with people of every type and social class and colour so that his human experience cut across the divisions, not only between blacks, coloureds and whites, but also those between the many tribes within the black community, thus peculiarly fitting himm for his present post of state

The characteristic that has marked out Mandela is that he has no, hatred for his former white enemies and that he is prepared to build a new multi-racial South Africa based on reconciliation. Not because he is a Gandhian or a believer in non-violence. As the first commander-in-chief of the armed wing of the African National Congress, the MK, or Umkhonto We Sizwe, the Spear of the Nation, he could not be a pacifist. But he accepted non-violence as a tactic when violence would have been self-defeating: "To make peace with an enemy one must work with that enemy, and that enemy becomes your partner."

Which is what has happened in South Africa, thanks to the lead given by Mandela. From his experience he reached the conclusion that whites could not be blamed for everything because "all men have a core of decency" and that there was "a middleground between white fears and black hopes" and that "to drive the whites away would devastate the nation."

Though his relations with his partner in the South African "miracle", his white Vice President F.W. De Klerk, who shares much of the credit for the miracle, remained testy down to the time Mandela wrote this autobiography. (Incidentally, the first draft of this document was written in his cell in Robben Island Jail, buried in the garden, discovered and destroyed and then had to be reconstituted in its present form).

It is extremely fortunate for South Africa that Mandela, despite his many years in prison and his age — he is now in his mid-seventies — is so hail and hearty. Perhaps because of his long years in prison when he led a regular life with physical labour, which he says he enjoyed "using all my muscles" breaking rocks into gravel. In addition, he was always a physical fitness fanatic and at one time in prison was exercising for an hour and a half everyday.

Although this is primarily the story of Mandela's part in the South African freedom struggle (the new South African flag is proudly displayed on the spine of the book) in a work of over 600 pages we inevitably learn a lot about the man himself. Thus, apart from physical exercise he is a fanatic about gardening and at one point on Robben Island he could proudly list the 13 types of vegetables and fruit,

BOOK REVIEW

900 plants in all, which he grew; he enjoyed taking part in the prison's amateur dramatics and particularly mentions his pleasure in playing the part of King Creon in the Antigone of Sophlocles, because the heroine was also a rebel; he is also a fan of the film star Sophia Loren; of course he read a great deal and though the prison library was limited it was a serious collection of which he mentions Steinbeck's Grapes Of Wrath and the greatest of all novels, Tolstoy's War And Peace, to which Mandela returned many times. (His father, he tells us, could not read or

It tells us much of the quality of his mind and character when he says that at least his prison years gave him time to think and that as a result of his thinking in prison he hated white people less and the whites' apartheid system more.

He is touchingly loyal to his controversial wife Winnie, from whom he is now separated, after some very murky misbehaviour on her part. But she had stood by him through the darkest days and remained undaunted.

As was he: He never doubted that one day he would leave prison and that his cause would prevail — because it was just. It was this idealism and optimism that kept him going. As he put it in one of his picturesque phrases: "Your spirit can be full even when your stomach is empty." This is a truly splended book and how can it not be? For it is the story of a great life.

G.H. Jansen

gift wastifth Longwere Deta day, April 26 The Finishmer

) Hot show akama horld Cames and Videos MARINE STORE W Tar suc

ach Programme I and the Besutiful Serelline Machine w or Jerlus Break own to taplish M Private andring that

By Carl Hartman The Associated Press WASHINGTON - One

variety of the tiny white worm causes the disease widely known as "river blindness." Now, after a 25 year campaign to control it, attention is focusing on a forest-dwelling variety that makes some of its victims so itchy they want to die.

Besides the terrible itch, this variety wrinkles and spots the skin and causes other pains and Godal, who heads a new World Health Organisation (WHO) project to rid Africa of onchocerca volvulus within 10 years.

The World Bank has announced that it is looking for $100 million for the project. Dr. Godal said the cost could be less than $1 per victim each year. An estimated 15 million people live in countries where no effective control programme has been undertaken, including 9 million with the forest variety of the disease.

of no actual suicides, but the fact that some of its victims say they are thinking of killing themselves rather than endure the intense discomfort, shows how seriously they take the affliction.

"It's especially hard on the women," Dr. Godal said in an interview. "Skin disfigurement stigmatises a person --- a bigger problem than many people think.

Onchocerca volvulus is a white worm only 1.5 other victims by bloodsucking black flies.

The "savanna" strain of the disease, onchocerciasis, mostly hits Africans over 40. It is sometimes called "river blindness" because the black fly breeds in swiftly flowing rivers.

Sprays from aircraft hold down the black fly, and once a year patients get a drug called Ivermectin, which kills newly hatched worms. Merck,

Dr. Godal said he knew centimentres long. Its eggs the company that makes are carried the drug, gives it without charge, but the project is still expected to cost $500 million by the time it is completed in 2002. The "forest strain" does not blind but brings on the itch, especially in people between 20 and 40. It also scars, making the skin look puckered like a lizard's or spotted like a leopard's.

"Affected people... are considered as dangerous, dirty and are avoided... likened to an animal on the basis of... skin and behaviour," says a U.N. study.

For the "savanna" strain that causes blindness, the World Bank and WHO got donors together for a successful control programme in a swath of 11 countries under the hump of Africa, from Senegal to western Ethiopia. The grassy plain and sparse trees make the characteristic "savanna" landscape.

Now, the agencies want to expand coverage to 16 other countries where the forest variety is more prevalent. Most of Zaire is affected, and so are parts of 15 other countries. from Guineau-Bissau on the Atlantic coast to Ethiopia and Mali in the east. The study estimated that more than three out of four people in most of these areas suffer from the itching.

It can also affect the victim's sex life.

"My performance is in-adequate," complained one husband, quoted in a WHO press release. Areas where the discase

idan. 1

is concentrated are being mapped by two special programmes run by the World Bank, the World Health Organisation and the U.N. Development Programme. Nigeria. Africa's most populous country, has been fully covered and Cameroon is due to be finished by Јипе. Dr. Godal hopes to have the detailed maps by next year.

Canada's health care system to undergo surgery

By Robert Kozak Reuter

OTTAWA — Canada's health care system. admired as being one of the world's best, may soon undergo some major

Under pressure from hefty budget deficits, politicians of all stripes are searching desperately for ways to cut the bulging costs of Canada's statefunded health care sysSpeaking to newspaper editors in Dallas this week, Canadian Prime Minister Jean Chretien vowed to save the distinctive system that allows Canadians to go to the doctor of their choice and stay in hospital at no

"The fact is that no one in Canada needs to worry about medical bills," Mr. Chretien said.

Canadians spent an estimated 72 billion Canadian dollars ($51 billion) on health costs have risen to more than 10 per cent of gross domestic product from 8.7 per cent of GDP

a decade ago. In the United States, where there is no universal coverage, health costs accounted for 14.4 per cent of economy production in 1993.

Canada's federal government wants to cut the amount it spends on health care to a level closer to that of Europe.

"I'm of the view that we have to reduce it to under nine (per cent of GDP). to be in the same range as those who have full medicare in Europe," Mr. Chretien said recently. 'They manage to do it within around eight to nine per cent of GDP, so we will do it."

Health care is a responsibility of the provinces, but Ottawa transfers money to them to help cover costs and ensure uniform national stanThis year's federal budget laid out groundbreaking changes to the way health care is funded. Ottawa will leave it up to the provinces to decide how much to spend on health out of an envelope of cash it provides for social programmes. Critics claim that along with changing its funding method, the government will also cut about 2.0 billion Canadian dollars ($1.4 billion) for health care over three years. Ottawa has promised that the provinces will still ensure that health care nationwide remains publicly funded and administered and maintains uniforms standards. But critics are not so

"If it's up to the provinces to decide how the dollars are spent, how is the government going to maintain the... Standards of the Health Act?" said National Federation of Nurses President Kathleen Connors.

The federal government plans to enforce national health standards by withholding transfer funds from the provinces if necessary. That may not work, critics say. University of Ottawa Health Policy Professor Jane Fulton noted that last year the federal government fined the British Columbia government because 14 B.C. doctors were operating outside the health plan. The province ignored the fine.

"The provinces aren't afraid of Ottawa anymore," she says.

The opposition Reform Party recently demanded that funding for health care be made more flexible, with Ottawa guaranteeing so-called services across the country. Other "non-core" services — such as cosmetic surgery — would be provided for by private user plans, or by fees to users.

Hereditary breast, ovarian cancer gene implicated in non- inherited tumors

By Malcolm Ritter The Associated Press

NEW YORK — Scientists have found the first direct evidence that a gene causing hereditary breast and ovarian cancer also plays a role in far more common non-inherited tumors.

appear in women who inherit a flawed version of of cancer as the normal cent or less of breast and year. ovarian tumors are hereditary.

ovarian tumors. The genes were normal when inherited but became flawed within the patients' own

In addition, other scientists have found that the gene is under-active in non-inherited breast cancers, suggesting it may The hereditary cases play a role in those tumors even if it is not flawed.

About 182,000 cases of the gene, which fails to breast cancer and 26,600 suppress the development cases of ovarian cancer are expected to be diagnosed gene does. Some 10 per in American women this

BRCA1, causes about half Now, for the first time, of inherited breast canscientists have found cers. It made headlines flawed versions of the last year when it was final-search. The finding of flawed BRCA1 genes in noninherited ovarian tumors is reported by two groups in the April issue of the journal Nature Genetics. One group, from the universities of Michigan and Pennsylvania and the National Institutes of Health, reports the finding in four of 47 tumors. A second team, from England and Canada, found a single example.

Results suggest that flaws in the BRCA1 gene may be involved in at least 10 per cent of noninherited ovarian cancers, said Dr. Sofia Mera- report that the BRCA1 jver of the University of lead author of one report. Some regions of the gene have not yet been thoroughly examined, and they may produce more examples of flaws in non-inherited cancer, she said. The gene could be implicated in still more cases if its anti-cancer control is stymied by other means, such as defects in other genes that turn BRCA1 on and off, she said.

That idea is advanced in the breast cancer study, which also appears in Nature Genetics. Researchers from the Vanderbilt University School of Medicine in Nashville, Tennesee. gene is much less active in tumors than in normal breast tissue.

In addition, when the researchers artificially reduced the effect of BRCA1 in normal and cancerous breast cells, it made the cells grow and

By Joanne Kenen

Reuter

WASHINGTON -

Women's health advo-

unusual alliance, recently showed off some of the ultra high-tech military technology they are trying to adapt to save women

Soldiers, spies and rocket scientists are working from breast cancer.

growth is a hallmark of сапсег.

The results support the notion that a decrease in the control BRCA1 exerts over cell growth can help cause non-inherited breast cancer, said Vanderbilt divide faster. Such fast Researcher Jeffrey Holt.

an enemy missile or map vices.

Military technology takes the BRCA1 gene is perfectly normal. The decrease could be caused by trol BRCA1's activity defects in genes that conlevels, Dr. Holt said. Scientists can now try to identify those genesandsee

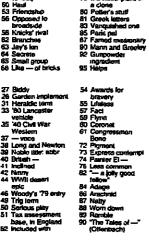

That could occur even if if they are flawed in noninherited breast and ovarian cancer, he said.

Dr. Barbara Weber of the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine in Philadelphia called Dr. Holt's work "an important

WEEKEND CROSSWORD

ON LOCATION By William Canine

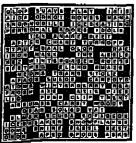

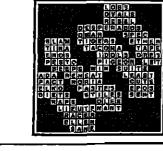

DIAGRAMLESS 19 x 19 By James Barrick

ACHURA			_
	18 MJ. gp. on	34 Emotionless	52 Surrounded 53 Parcel out
			54 Alactions
	20 Birthright selfor	39 Lawmaker; abbr.	58 Aviate
Norse god	21 Test	40 Meaning	59 Ancient hors
Makes amends	22 Latvian	47 South-of-me-	drawn vehic
Factory	23 Overhead railways	border smack	61 Conscal lens
Maguzine pieco	26 Europeen capital	44 Endesvor	60 जिल्ला ses
Give allent	29 Flat cao		64 Great Lake
Perse	3: Honesi —	48 Pie - mode	65 Bank worker
Ready money	33 — Rice Burroughs	51 A flower	66 Barbers cry
DOWN
Lunch meals	15 Forward sent of a	32 Senior one	52 Rearward.
Harem room			nautically
Chonned			apeaking
Shekaspeare's "	18 Aunt or uncle		54 Astrongroup
		42 Something alde to	Sagen
			55 Kind of man
			56 Stone cuff
		48 Eriendir cellen	57 Active one
		43 County region	59 Household pet 60 ' Haw'
			62 Photographs
Do sums	years ago	50 Stick	bnelly
	State of unconsciousness Swaris section of Catilornia. Noise god Majers amends Factory Magetzine piece Give eliont assent Raady money	State of unconsciousness compus compu	State of unconsciousness carpo. on c

SOLUTIONS OF LAST WEEK'S PUZZLE

Part of the same

Last Week's Cryptograms . Famous banjo player flies to jungle country to perform in a concert for big money.

- 2. Ingenious washerwoman dumps sudsy wash water onto pig
- sty nogwasn:

  3. In caverns, stalactites grow down as they drip, and stalagmites may develop upward under them.

  4. Syzygy: That time when sun, Earth and our moon are smaxingly aligned all in a row.

CRYPTOGRAMS

1.LYN ORURNE ECESS PLMEDP HOLSM FLYME RD HITUE ED WYRDC EW GRIENE PERT WRY OLDTRICE?

3. YLIP LORDY YRALZ'S ABOLDENBUZI NEF LORDY LII YNB GBBYQWE LWA PQXXQWE ANTA LEMA EM ENCOM, ANDEDRU AND

3. JEEP DMIVLED ET KIPPG VOMDP VDB(LWEXY: "OB'Y FORD TWEEBOSJ TOYW OS ! KIXXDF ET VESRDOY." -By Duane H. McGogy

4.MRWB W MUSIC CLUB SB . BELVC OU BE AWSI W BLOW MSBR W ASHEEVE.

cer," said Dr. Susan with radiologists, cancer Shorter antibiotic use works in U.S. sinus

the surfa

infection study By Brenda C. Coleman three days of the antibiotic The Associated Press

CHICAGO — People with sinus infections recovered just as well after taking three days of an antibiotic as they did after taking the usual 10-day course, according to a new study.

The research contradicts conventional wisdom that more than a week of antibiotic treatment is needed to give such drugs a chance to wipe out the infection.

Sinus infections send Americans to doctors' offices 16 million times yearly, and physicians write almost that many antibiotic prescriptions annually for the condition, the researchers noted in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The lead study author

"They would save $4 or $5 for each visit," said Dr. John W. Williams Jr. of Audie I. Murphy Memorial Veterans Hospital and the University of Texas Health Science Centre at San Antonio, Texas.

The team studied 80 consecutive patients treated for sinus infections at the Durham (North Carolina) Veterans Affairs Medical Centre.

Patients all received over-the-counter nasal sprays and also were rantrimethoxazole, followed by seven days of an inest medication; the other group got a 10-day

After two weeks, 77 per cent of the group that was treated for three days reported their infections had been cured or were much improved.

course of the antibiotic.

That was virtually the same as the 76 per cent of the group that reported their infections were cured or much improved after 10 days of treatment. It took about five days for both groups to get better, and the rates of relapse and recurrence were similar. The authors cautioned that their findings may not apply to antibiotics other than trimethoprimsaid patient savings could sulfamethoxazole, which be close to $50 million a tends to stay in the body a relatively long time and may have a more lingering effect than other antibio-

The researchers also noted that while studies have shown that antibiotics work against the infections, no single medicine has emerged as superior.

The research was partly funded by Burroughs Wellcome Co., Research Triangle Park, North Carolina, which markets trimethoprimsulfamethoxazole under the trade name Septra. It domly assigned to one of is also sold under the trade two groups: one group got name Bactrim.

aim at breast cancer specialists and public Blumenthal, the top offi- mammography, computer health officials to find cial for women's health in aided diagnoses, magnetic medical adaptations for the U.S. Department of resonance imaging (MRI), technology used to track. Health and Human Ser-

> The programme is "an year-old technology, and innovative transfer of an imperfect way of catchtechnology from the Cening breast cancer in its tral Intelligence Agency's earliest stages, when a (CIA) world of satellites woman's chances of sur-. and missiles to the Public vival are best. The new Health Service's world of technologies aim at enhancing early detection, which research continues women and breast canon potential treatments and prevention. One American woman is diagnosed with breast cancer every three mi-nutes and one dies every 12 minutes from the illness, Dr. Blumenthal said.

Dr. Blumenthal said she could not predict which of the new technologies would be available first, or how quickly they would be widely available to women. But she said clinical trials would start soon on some of the new digital techniques.

Research is under way in several fields — digital ultrasound and optical

targetting. "memorise" a landscape thousands of miles away and sound the alert when a single tank rolls in can be adapted to memorise breast tissue and point radiologists to a tiny new growth.

Dr. Blumenthal said that someday the imaging will be precise enough to determine whether a growth is cancerous by seeing if it's edges are smooth or ragged.

Acting CIA Director Admiral William Studeman said advances will allow computers to exactly align a woman's "baseline" mammogram with a later

After they are lined up, the imaging device would basically erase all the identical images — the un-changed healthy tissue leaving in the picture only the new data that could be сапсег.

ANSWERS

BANK OF KNOWLEDGE

1. The fortress of Gibraltar.

2. A maker of clocks and watches.

Money allowed to a wife for the purchase of clothes and ornaments. 4. Showy trifles.

5. Punishment of death. 6. A chief or head officer in Afghanistan, Previously, the head of the army in Egypt.

7. The German parliament. 8. In Greek myth, god of medicine, son of Apollo and Coronis. Worshipped as god of healing, especially at Epidaurus. Slain by Zeus for reviving Hippolytus. Serpent and cock sacred to him.

* * * * *

1. COYPU COYOTE 2. JACKASS JACKAL and 3. KOALA BEAR KODIAC BEAR 4. MANATEE and 5. MONKEY MONGOOSE and 6. PANDA PANTHER and 7. PORPOISE 8. WALRUS

Known as Aesculapius by Romans.

PUZZLES

HEADS ALIKE

MANDRILL OR MANGABEY PORCUPINE WALLABY

'nε

£....

.445

Cert lear

health Flan. The project

The opposition Rela-

recently demand

outh Orland man

the transfer non-one a 100 - 100h 25 000mg

acong of the private to in the second second in the second

Penny.

Marie Marie

- COM

takes cer

Marie Water

ः और्ध्व क्र

TE

pract

A CONTRACTOR OF THE SECOND

____

rana atang Tanggarang Masa

11. 11. 工工人工设施器

Take

2.25

and the second

About the second se

James W

· ....

SWERS

a .... - ... - ---

The state of the s

///is 13 3. 1. 1. 1.

KNOWLFPGE

Fig. 11 or for feet to the d tumors

the fine

Glarier she was

Jordan, PNA finalise draft accords, One husband, quoted in WHO press release. Areas where the dress concentrated are being marped by two speed world Bank, the World Bank the World Bank of the World Bank the World Bank of the World Bank the World Bank the World Bank of the World Ba but sees implementation difficulties

"The two sides expressed keenness in enhancing coordina-tion in a manner that would safeguard the interests of both sides," it said. Both sides also "stressed their determination to pursue cooperation and coordination to attain a comprehensive and durable peace on all tracks (in the Middle East peace process) in line with internation-Security Council resolutions."

legitimacy and United Nations

In his comments after the meeting, Mr. Rawabdeh said the two sides discussed "executive programmes" for the different do not meet the aspired level,

but they were steps on a long road," said the minister. "There are still some obstacles that impede the implementation of the cooperation programme but they are not related to the distinguished Jordanian-Palestinian relationship."

Asked if the discussions covered Hamas, he said, "Hamas is operating on Palestinian soil and is an integral part of the Palesti-nian order and it has its own special relationship with the

"With regard to the statements that have been published, we in Jordan respect democracy and freedom and we tolerate the right of everyone to express their political views even if those views conflict with those of the govern-

the Palestinian opposition." he said. "It does not tolerate or allow anything to emanate from Jordanian territory that damages or offends the PNA."

"We tolerate the opposition within a framework of democracy and freedom and allow everyone to express his/her views or we will not accept any offence emanating from Jordanian terri-leadership," he reiterated.

Jordan is still willing as ever to continue to offer the facilities it provides to Palestinian and Arab-Israeli pilgrims, but it would not accept any of them being considered as part of the Saudi-set quota for Jordanian pilgrims, said the deputy prime views to the Palestinian delegation," he said, noting that the issue concerned not only Jordan and the Palestinians but also

"Our temporary passport, issued by Jordan, which is used normally by the 1948 Palestinians, is ready and available, but

Israel and Saudi Arabia.

"I have already relayed our

the Arab arena as a whole, but

"Jordan is not concerned with

Palestinian national movement

The accomplishments so far greements.

the three agreements will be

The agreements will open the

"But there is concern that re-door for a new era in cooperalated agreements reached separately by Jordan and the Palestinians with Israel might impose constraints on the scope of our cooperation with Jordan," added

Mr. Khatib, who participated in saying the concern was sparked by Israeli hindrance of similar accords reached with Jordan re-ing a Jordanian-Palestinian post-al service accord by refusing to allow mail to leave Palestinian

Palestinians use on the stamps of the word "millime," a fraction of the Palestinian pound, which the Israelis regarded as a Palestinian attempt to show economic inde-

The Israelis insisted that instead it should be "fils," a fraction of the Jordanian dinar, which is widely in use in the occupied territories and one of the main currencies in circulation in the West Bank and Gaza

In their comments after the meeting, Mr. Rawabdeh and Mr.

Abed Rabbo, conceding that there were difficulties in implementing some of the agree-ments, said that the difficulties had nothing to do with the status of relations between Jordan and Officials here have said that constraints imposed on

Jordanian-Palestinian cooperation in various areas as well as the marked lack of infrastructure

in the Palestinian territories were serious obstacles in realising the Minister of Industry and Trade Ali Abul Ragheb said last month that the scope of Jordanian-Palestinian trade was limited by an economic agreement signed by the Palestinians and Israel setting out a list of items that the PNA could import from Jordan.

line with an agreement signed by Prime Minister Sharif Zeid Ben

Shaker and PLO Chairman and PNA President Yasser Arafat.

The Jan. 26 accord set out a broad outline for cooperation and called for specific, detailed

Petra, said the meeting "re-viewed the unique relationship between Jordan and the Palestinian National Authority and

The meeting also reviewed

"the means to implement the various agreements and pro-tocols and the steps already taken in economic affairs, indus try, trade, transport, post and telecommunications, housing, culture, sports, youth and other

The Jordan News Agency,.

agreements in sectors.

means to promote it."

Wednesday's meeting came in goals set by the leaderships.

the PNA.

The dispute centres on the territories to Jordan.

He accused Israel of obstruct-

Mr. Khatib was quoted as signed later this month.

tion," said Mr. Khatib.

the meeting.

cently.

By a Jordan Times Staff Reporter

Herita Devanisation and Development Programme, Nigetic most nomber AMMAN - Jordan and the Programme rigetic research has been fully been fully b. Palestinian National Authority (PNA) on Wednesday put final touches to several agreements on cooperation but cited obstacles blocking their implementation. Comments made by Deputy Acted and Camerood ( Prime Minister Abdul Raouf Dr. Goda! hopes h Rawabdeh, who led the Jordanian side to the meeting at the Foreign Ministry, as Yasser Abed Rabbo, the chief Palestinian delegate, also highlighted a controversy surrounding quota for pilgrims for this year's Haj in Candi Arabia.

Mr. Rawabdeh said Jordan, which normally issues own travel documents to Arab-Israeli and palestinian pilgrims, was no ion-The provinces and area of Ottana in ger willing to accept that Arab-israeli or Palestinian pilgrims be sidered part of the quota set by Saudi Arabia.

Mr. Abed Rabbo said the PNA was ready to accept Arab Israeli pilgrims as part of the carry more to Palestinian quota and that the issue was under discussion with the Saudi authorities.

In their comments after a morning meeting. Mr. Rawab-deh and Mr. Abed Rabbo, ministhe three countries the top the PNA based in Gaza and the countries also touched on the issue of Hamas, an opponent of the autonomy deal signed between the Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) and Israel. Mr. Rawabdeh reaffirmed that Jordan, while remaining commitled to democracy and the freedom of expression, would not allow its territory to be used gainst any Arab leadership. After a spate of violence in the Gaza Strip, the PNA called on lordan to curtail the activities of Hamas members living in the Jordan complied with the request by asking Hamas leaders - who are Jordanian citizens here not to issue Amman-based was condoning Hamas' activities.

The group is not a licensed organisation in Jordan and therefore any political activities undertaken on behalf of the group in Jordan would be in violation of the Kingdom's laws. the Hamas spokesman in Amman was told.

Mr. Abed Rabbo said Wednesday the PNA leadership was engaged in a dialogue with Hamas to curb anti-Israeli violence which has cast serious doubts over the implementation of the autonomy accord.

Meanwhile, the Palestinian charge d'affaires was quoted as saying that Jordan and the PNA had finalised detailed agreements on cooperation in trans-port, culture, education and economic cooperation, but that implementing them could be ob-

The Associated Press quoted Omar Al Khatib as saying that

Peres sparks row over Golan

fields.'

(Continued from page 1)

plomatic relations. In Washington, U.S. President Bill Clinton voiced hope Tuesday for peace between Israel and Syria but admitted a breakthrough was not im-

Ores 20' "I do believe that both Prime Minister Rabin and President (Hafez Al) Assad want to make a comprehen-sive peace," he said.

Mr. Peres called Tuesday for a change in the format of negotiations with Syria to cover all aspects of a peace package. Recent talks have focused on security arrangements

-27 "We have to think about a 7.20 more global approach and at the same time talk about The state of the s withdrawal, drawing up a border, peace and the type of bilateral relations, security arrangements and a timetable," Mr. Peres said.

But the Syrian press said: "Peres put forward nothing new and the agenda for the talks... does not need changing for the problem lies with Israel's position and its refusal to withdraw from the Golan."

Syrian Vice-President Abdul Halim Khaddam blamed Israel for "the failure of talks on security arrangements" which has dominated ambassador-level talks in Washington since they resumed in March.

Information Minister Mohammad Salman once again ruled out talks between army chiefs until Israel agreed "to the principles of equality" in security arrange-

ter with the Palestinian side and with Saudi Arabia as well. When the three parties reach a decision, then everyone will find that

(Continued from page 1)

Egyptian experts will travel on the first flight to Libya to evaluate the state of airport runways and to make necessary preparations, a civil aviation source said.

An emergency meeting of the board of Egypt Air was held to organise transport for the Libyans, as much of the company's fleet is already tied up with flying Egyptian pilgrims to Mecca, the source added.

The United Nations has banned flights to and from Libya as part of sanctions imposed over the 1988 bombing of a Pan Am airliner over Lockerbie, Scotland.

"We have an order from God," Saad Mujber, head of the Libyan pilgrims' delegation, said earlier when asked

Mr. Abed Rabbo said several

Jordan is ready to continue to executive protocols had been reached in implementation of the Jan. 26 accord, and "there are others that will be finalised within two weeks at most.

We are not talking about broad principles but about the means to implement these broad lines into practice and are discussing the difficulties that impede them how to overcome theseobstacles through joint efforts."

"Agreement on paper of something, but applying what we agreed upon is something else." he said. "Unexpected problems may crop up, but the two sides are determined to pursue efforts implement the agreements in He said sub-committees were continuing their meetings, noting that the panel on transport coop-eration was scheduled to meet next week and a draft agreement on trade was almost finalised.

Jordan and the PNA will also sign an agreement on cultural cooperation next week, he

On the issue of pilgrims, Mr. Abed Rabbo said. "We are in contact with Saudi officials to solve these administrative issues and to consider pilgrims from the 1948 lands as part of the Palestinian quota. I believe that this issue could be resolved by today

On Hamas, Mr. Abed Rabbo said the PNA was holding con-tacts with the Hamas leadership on a "range of subjects."

All the Palestinian national and Islamic forces share the common denominator — desire to end occupation and achieve the Palestinian national aspirations," he said, "There is a dialogue going on, and I believe that there is some progress. There are many details that need to be Wednesday's meeting was attended on Jordanian side by Deputy Prime Minister and Information Minister Khaled Al Karaki, Finance Minister Basel Jardaneh, Transport Minister Samir Kawar. Interior Minister Salameh Hammad, Post and Communications Minister Jamal Saraireh. Minister of Public Works Abdul Razak Ensour Foreign Ministry Secretary-General Navel Hadid and Director of the Foreign Ministry Political Department Abdullah

On the Palestinian side, the meeting was attended by PNA Minister of Transport Abdul Aziz Al Haj Ahmad, Minister of Post and Telecommunications Abdul Hafiz Al Ashhab, Finance Minister Mohammad Zuhdi Nashashibi, Civil Affairs Minister Jamil Tarifi, Minister of Executive Authority Fuad Beiseso. Housing Minister Zakharia Al

we do not accept the idea of the shared with pilgrims from Palestinian territories," he said. "We are coordinating this mat-Agha and Palestinian Charge d'Affaires Omar Al Khatib.

Compromise over Libya

whether the flight had the U.N.-go-ahead.

Tripoli-based Arab diplomats said consultations were being held between several Arab countries and permanent members of the U.N. Security Council to find a way to exempt the pilgrimage flights from sanctions.

The United States opened the door on Tuesday to a possible exception to U.N. sanctions so that Libyans might fly directly to Saudi Arabia for the Haj.

The U.S. State Department said it would consider a request for such flights if it were made to the U.N. Sanctions Committee in New Saudi Arabia emphasised it had no objection to Libyan pilgrims attending the Haj.

Peres in Cairo on April 30 in said: "We hope to almost a bid to spread Palestinian finish the talks on elections self-rule to the West Bank, it during this session." was announced Wednesday. The two sides have edged today."

presses GAZA CITY (Agencies) — Top Palestinian negotiator Nabil Shaath will meet Israeli Ciller Foreign Minister Shimon (Continued from page 1) other rebel strongholds in Tunceli towards neighbouring provinces had been killed in the last 24 hours. While Turkey appears to be winding down its military offensive against PKK bases in northern Iraq, the most intensive fighting in recent days has been in Tunceli, long a hotbed of Kurdish rebel activity. Troops have up to 500 rebels surrounded in Alibogazi, a 1,500-metre deep gash which cuts through the 3,000metre Munzur Mountains, the military says.

Clinton

The army suspects PKK regional commander Semdin Sakik may have died in the 30-kilometre long ravine because he has not answered radio messages from other rebel units in Turkey or exiled PKK leader Abdullah Ocalan for five days.

Military officials said that troops captured Sakik's bodyguard who said the rebel chief had died in the shelling and that other PKK rebels had taken away his body.

Iraq lambasted Turkey on The meeting - the first Wednesday for saying that its incursion into northern Iraq was in self-defence and in line with the United Nations char-

in the Egyptian capital next Tuesday and Wednesday.

The talks will focus on the long-delayed redeployment of the Israeli army in the occupied territory and elections to a Palestinian self-rule council, Dr. Shaath said in a

Jordanian and Palestinian ministers meet in Amman on Wednesday (Photo by Yousef Allan)

Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) Chairman Yasser Arafat and Mr. Peres decided during a telephone conversation Tuesday to stage the meeting of the Israel-Palestinian liaison committee.

The body was set up by the 1993 autonomy agreement to coordinate implementation of self-rule and to settle dis-Dr. Shaath said he would also negotiate the release of Palestinian prisoners from Israeli jails, who are estimated at some 6,000. The statement said Israel was to have released 1,700 prisoners on the eve of the Jan. 22 suicide bombing which killed 21 people near Tel Aviv and set back the peace process.

committee session since the – will follow a new round of lower-level negotiations on Palestinian elections make the "political decision

Today, the challenge is to identify what has changed.

the Crown Prince continued.

whether in terms of geography, demography, or what the Arabs themselves want.

stressed that dialogue remains the best way to improve the Arab political performance, and he was ex-

Crown Prince Hassan

more consistent and perma-

Palestinian Local Government Minister Saeb Erakat

Shaath to meet Peres April 30

toward a deal in periodic talks on the elections and the size and power of the autonomy council, but the question of redeployment of Israeli forces outside Palestinian towns has remained blocked, despite secret contacts. Israel meanwhile is floating the idea of a Palestinian state in the Gaza Strip, fully aware of the PLO's rejection of it as a tactical "manoeuvre" to delay further the spread of self-' rule on the West Bank. Even some Israeli officials admit that Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin's proposal is intended to hold up the second phase of autonomy. which poses insuperable security problems.

Mr. Rabin, who has always opposed a Palestinian state. said Sunday he could live with one limited to Gaza. Mr. Peres first threw out the idea in February and returned to it in early April. But Mr. Rabin admitted: "I don't believe that any Palestinian will accept it. If the Palestinians proposed it there would be something to talk about. The only plan acceptable to Mr. Arafat is a state on the West Bank and the Gaza Strip with East Jerusalem as its capital.

"Egypt offered us a state in Gaza 20 years ago. We turned it down," said an Arafat spokesman. "It's the same

"The Israelis want to delay implementation of the autonomy agreement. They are trying to hide."

The 1993 agreement de-fines the West Bank and Gaza Strip as a single territo-rial unit and calls for an Israeli redeployment outside West Bank towns. Independence for Gaza would mean abandoning Jewish settlements and for that Mr. Rabin wants the Palestinians to put off the spread of autonomy. Under the agreement the settlements can remain in place for at least five vears.

"The proposal is that if the Palestinians set aside their demands on the West Bank. Israel is ready to make Gaza a state," a top Israeli official said.

A Rabin aide outlined the advantages.

"It is easier for Israelis to envisage a Palestinian state in Gaza than in the West Bank," the aide said.

"It would facilitate talks on the West Bank. There would io longer de a knite at oui throats, particularly to solve questions of security.

Crown Prince urges fresh thinking and approach fa Ben Hammad Al Thani at basing these positions on scientific evidence and hard Forum that its founders had facts. intended it to be a bridge for The Crown Prince gave an filling the gap that existed between Arab thinkers and example of how the Arab decision-makers, since the main problem that was identified at the time was how to World failed to take a stand on the issue of the so-called Islamic fundamentalism and he called for building new intellectual frameworks in which such phenomena can be understood and judged. "A fair observer cannot ignore violent actions undertaken by some in the name of religion, and the increasingly violent conflict between ruling establishments and religious movements in many countries of the world. Crown Prince Hassan said. "We hear that this phenomenon is explained in the West in terms of its being a new socio-economic case, or the result of living in illusions for so long, or it is a reawakening. But we in the Arab World have not taken a scientific stand on it. (Fundamentalism) could be actually linked to those who condemn it from outside (the Arab World). Still (we cannot absolve ourselves) of the need to establish intellectual frameworks in which we can safely accept or reject things as they are."

The Crown Prince urged the conferees, who come from most Arab countries, to keep in mind the economic setbacks which threaten the Arab World.

"Rarely do we find an Arab economy that is able to meet the requirements of continuous development... this is not necessarily a financial phenomenon. It is rather (a problem of finding) a new social contract under which wealth is redistributed and responsibilities reassigned... we have to find economic frameworks that define economic relationships inside individual Arab countries and then find ways for linking the economies of countries in the region. We have also to attune our international commitments to what we think is the right relationship among said that the Arab World awaits the Forum to come up minded members of the with an integrated formula that would help in achieving further development and

Earlier Wednesday, the Crown Prince was received by Qatari Emir Sheikh Khali-

Al Rayan Palace. Prince Hassan and Sheikh Khalifeh reviewed pan-Arab affairs, the Middle East peace process and Qatari-Jordanian relations in addition to the Forum's role as a pan-Arab organisation.

Lloyd's observation going well

(Continued from page 12)

violations of the sanctions against Iraq and report to the sanctions committee.

The surveyors take part in the customs inspection of Jordan-bound cargo only at random without prior

But they check every consignment in transit to Iraq. Food and medicine --exempt from the sanctions - are automatically cleared out of the port. Other Iraqi-bound goods are cleared only if they are accompanied by approval from the sanctions commit-

"With the exception of a few instances where papers were not in order, we have not found any attempt to violate the sanctions" while inspecting Iraq-bound cargo in transit at Aqaba, he said.

"The arrangement is working out very well. It is very efficient, and there are no delays for shipments," he said. "It is a pleasure to do business in Jordan.'

JOB OPPORTUNITY EXECUTIVE ASSISTANT NEEDED

International company has immediate opening for an executive secretary / assistant to company president . Excellent work environment . We are seeking an experienced secretary committed to continuity of employment.

Job Requirements:

- Excellent command of English language spoken and written . prefer individual who has English as their native language . Arabic helpful but not absolutely necessary. · Strong secretarial skills including use of computer . Current software in use : Microsoft Word for Windows, Excel Spreadsheet, PCLink.

Sufficient previous experience essential . position requires experienced secretary capable of taking independent action in president's absence.

Competitive salary based on experience Hours 8:30 a.m - 1:00p.m , 3:30 p.m - 6:00 p.m Saturday and Monday through Thursday. For information / interview , please contact: Tel: 661836 Fax: 605277

Jordan presents its position on nuclear treaty ter said. (Continued from page 1)

the cold war, he said. Noting that the NPT signed 25 years ago, aimed at achieving a total ban on all nuclear weapons, the minister noted the fact that the treaty failed so far to achieve a market of the state of the st its ultimate objectives. He expressed hope that the world community would succeed in achieving this goal by

The state of the s nuclear materials. While the nuclear arms race has been curtailed at the was not fully realised at the regional level. regional level, said Mr.
Kabariti. He pointed out that the existence of nuclear weapons in some the existence of nuclear weapons in some countries has encouraged orbital possess other kinds of weapons as is the case in the Middle East. He expressed hope that the world community would soon conclude a comprehensive treaty on a total ban of nuclear tests, a step to be folbwed by a treaty on banning the production of materials used in the manufacture of the production of sed in the manu sed in the manus sed in the m "Israel's intransigence and idamant refusal to sign the N-PT will obstruct confidence-building measures between the nations of the Middle East and deepen the psychological barriers separating them, which would eventually abort progress so far made in the peace process," he said. "Israel's obstinancy." he added, "would also expose the whole region to grave preventing production of danger.` "Jordan believes that it would be very difficult to convince the peoples of the region of Israel's crediblity and seriousness about attaining a just durable and comprehensive peace unless it signs the NPT and places its nuclear facilities under international monitoring and control, he stressed. Noting that the U.N. General Assembly had passed 20 resolutions in the past two decades calling for the creation of a nuclear-free zone in the Middle East, the minister said that it is regrettable that none of these resolutions had been implemented.

Negotiations at the multilateral level in the peace process has also not succeeded in making any progress and in creating such zone, the minis-

In conclusion, the minister said Jordan demands that nuclear nations honour their commitments; double efforts to reach a complete ban on nuclear weapons; intensify efforts to make available nuclear technology for peaceful purposes to non-nuclear nations; provide guarantees for security to non-nuclear nations; ensure the universality of the NPT and pressure Israel and other nonsignatory nations to secure the effectiveness of the treaty; support the role of the International Atomic Energy Agency; and encourage the creation of nuclear-free zones around the world. Earlier, Mr. Kabariti said Jordan calls for dialogue at the bilateral and the multilateral levels for ensuring a nuclear-free zone in the Middle East.

Jordan's clear stand in this regared, which is expressed in the Jordanian-Israeli peace treaty, is in line with U.N. Security Council resolutions concerning weapons of mass destruction, the minister said following a meeting here with Egyptian Foreign Minister

Amr Musa The two ministers reviewed ideas to formulate a unified Arab stand vis-a-vis topics on the agenda of the conference on the renewal of the NPT. Despite an Arab League Council decision last month that Arab foreign ministers should take part in the New York conference only ministers of Syria, Lebanon and Egypt and Jordan are so far present at the meetingse. Mr. Kabariti noted.

He said that he discussed with heads of the delegations the different issues but no agreement has yet been reached on a unified Arab stand. Mr. Kabariti said that he did not believe that any country has threatened to withdraw from the NPT, stressing that Jordan was adopting a middle line, reconciling Jordan's national stand with that of the pan-Arab positions in a manner that caters to the strategic interests of the Arab World.

U.S. Secretary of State Warren Christopher and his assistant Robert Pelletreau to discuss Jordan's stand with regard to the NPT. He said Arab countries support the NPT but they demand that Israel should not be exempted from it.

Mr. Kabariti also met with our countries." The Crown Prince retremely satisfied that the convening of Wednesday meeting was a positive vote towards solving Arab conflicts and misunderstandings. "The Forum had paid great attention to revitalising and improving the performance of Arab institutions," he noted "what needs to be done now is for the Arab intellectuals to work out terms of reference for those institutions so that we do not stay on the receiving end as far as the ideas for reshaping the Middle East are con-

Petra adds from Doha: The Crown Prince and defence minister of Qatar, Sheikh Hamad Ben Khalifeh Al Thani, urged the Forum to tackle Arab affairs with objectivity and aim at formulating pan-Arab ideas and concepts, catering to Arab and Islamic culture and contributing towards a general Arab renaiss-cerned."

ance and progress. Sheikh Hammad emphasised that peace in the Middle East should be comprehensive and just. He said that peace was vital for achieving development in the region. Sheikh Hammad emphasised that Arab and Muslim scholars bear the responsibility towards the well-being of their societies.

Noting that Arab scholars face a major challenge in guiding the nation out of its dilemmas. Sheikh Hammad

Dollar hovers around 80 yen after hitting new low

TOKYO (R) — The dollar was hovering above 80 yen Wednesday afternoon after plunging to a fresh postworld war low, as Japan's finance minister warned the United States against using its weak currency as a trade

The dollar was quoted at around 80.15 yen in after-noon Tokyo trade, lifted off its new low of 79.75 yen hit in the morning by operators' scort-covering.

In comments that appeared to be aimed at Washington, the minister said that it was wrong to use currencies as a trade negotiating tool and that both intervention and as mark

COLOGNE, Germany

(AFP) - German exports face being tightly squeezed

by the mark's endless rise against European currencies and the dollar, the Association of German Banks

(BDB) warned in its weekly

The aeronautical arms of Daimler-Benz, Daimler-

Benz Aerospace (DASA).

added its voice to the concern, saying it faced "three-figure losses" of more than 100 million than 100 million

He was echoing earlier warnings from German industrialists who have looked on aghast as the greenback sank down to Wednesday's trading level of 1.3520 marks,

not far off its record low of 1.3450 reached on March 8. It had closed at 1.3465 Tues-

The U.S. currency edged back just above Tuesday evening's 1.3645 marks

Wednesday afternoon after the U.S. trade deficit shrank to $9 billion for February

below an expected $10 billion...

spokeswoman said meanwhile Bonn was worried by the turmoil on the currency markets, but said the instability would correct itself even-

The BDB warned, however, that current rates would fuel pressure on German producers having to compete

The association said the mark's appreciation against the dollar was not so much a problem as its rise against

European currencies. The weak greenback in fact helps to keep down the price of dollar-denominated raw

Andy Capp

TIME, GENTLEMEN,

Peanuts

PLEASE

with foreign enterprises.

A German finance ministry/

day in London.

marks." Bischoff said.

report Wednesday.

rises

TENT TO THE LEGISLAND WITH THE WAR BY SOUTH AND ON SELECTION OF THE SELECT

interest rate policies were that the United States wanted effective to counter the yen's

"Currencies must reflect economic fundamentals, and when they fail to do so, we must make utmost efforts to let them (reflect fundamentals)," he told a news conference.

The U.S. currency has plummeted more than 20 per cent this year, from a high of 101.45 yen in January. Many dealers suspect

Washington may be tolerating, if not encouraging, a weak dollar to pry trade concessions from Japan.

President Bill Clinton told a news conference earlier a stronger dollar, but he raised questions about governments' ability to affect currency direction in the short term. Mr. Clinton also highlighted gaps between Japan and the United States over trade - differences which are weighing heavily on the dollar's value.

"We have been very patient as a country for a very long time in this area," he said but added that the two countries "should not be at risk of a trade war.

His comments followed news of a persistent stalemate in U.S.-Japan auto trade weekend also undermined talks in Washington. sentiment this week, "I think the U.S. is putting more stress on correcting the trade imbalance rather than concerning itself about the weak dollar," said Shingo Toda of Tokio Marine and

The dollar's latest decline followed market disappointment with Japan's emergency economic package and a discount rate cut to a new historic low of one per cent last Friday.

Disappointment over slim results from a meeting between the Japanese minister and U.S. Treasury Secretary Robert Rubin over the Japanese Finance Ministry sources, however, said Japan felt it had done all it could to counter the yen's rise, while Japan's chief spokesman Kozo Igarashi said the real problem rested with the United States, Jiji news agency reported.

Bank of Japan Governor Yasuo Matsushita told a separate news conference that Japan's government should urge Washington to cut its huge budget deficit.

"There are worries in the market about structural problems of the United States. We need to strongly urge the United States to cut its budget deficit," Mr. Matsushita said.

Economists said they saw little hope of quick action by the United States to save the dollar, either by raising interest rates or showing resolve to cut its budget deficit.

Japanese stocks shrugged off the yen's surge and remained ahead in midafternoon, but their gains were technical. The Nikkei share average closed up 150.97 points, or 0.97 per cent, at 16,376.08.

The dollar fell as low as 1.3465 against the German mark and was trading at about 1.3508 in late afternoon.

arguing the region is relative-ly small to absorb large industrial projects and there ware restrictions in most member states on foreign

EU are the main economic partners of the GCC, with their trade exceeding $90 billion a year. This accounts for more than two thirds of the GCC's oil exports of 13 million barrels per day also go to campaign to ease dependence on oil after a sharp decline in prices slashed their annual earnings to around $70 billion over the past eight years from more than $180 billion in

Despite an industrialisation drive, their non-oil exports have remained a fraction of their total exports, standing at around $12 billion a year. This is because their industries are limited to light

GCC states are also worried about proposals by industrial nations to impose

new energy taxes, which they say will slow down growth in oil demand and inflict further damager on their economies:

include a comprehensive review of economic links with world groups, and other countries and preparation of logue with them in the coming state," Al Bayan said.

for a dia-

'The Riyadh meeting will and medium products.

Gulf states have launched a

Around 70 per cent of the Gulf group's total trade.

those countries.

The U.S. Japan and the ownership

Iran scrubs highest exchange rate for rival

TEHRAN (AFP) - Iran has official "floating" rate of scrubbed its highest official dollar exchange rate for the Iranian riyal, the governor of the central bank announced in a move acknowledging the currency's two-year plunge.

Governor Mohsen Nurbakshch told the government daily Iran that the rate of 70 rivals to the dollar only really used for imports of basic products had been abandoned on March 21.

Letters of credit issued at the former rate by the central would be honoured at the import products.

1,750 rivals to the dollar, added.

The move will further clamo down on imports as Iran struggles under an eco. nomic crisis, a lack of hard currency and a short-andmedium-term debt of morethan $30 billion.

Apart from the floating rate - which has in fact been fixed for the past 18 months - there is also an "importexport" rate of 2,340 riyals to the dollar which is applied to bank for Iranian importers Iranian exporters wanting to

्राप्त

HOROSCOPE

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY APRIL 20, 1995. By Thomas S. Pierson, Astrologer, Carroll Righter Foundation

ARIES: (March 21 to April 19) Early contact advisors and plan this morning more intelligently, but tonight be concerned with the cultural side of life.

TAURUS: (April 20 to May 20) You can come to a fine understanding with friends and allies and achieve much today. Make plans for later tonight.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) Smile more in the outside world and you will gain your aims more readily today and the backing you need from bigwigs.

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21) You can make a fine impression on newcomers today so make yourself available to them for you to have great success.

LEO: (July 22 to August 21) Be willing to do what the one you love most desires and make this person happy today. Spend some money on a new outfit.

VIRGO: (August 22 to September 22) If you show your appreciation for the alliance of your partners today, they will cooperate with you more readily.

LIBRA: (September 23 to October 22) This is a good day to add art pieces, music, etc. to your environment and be happier in it for later

SCORPIO: (October 23 to November 21) During spare time today see those persons you truly like, but be sure to handle business SAGITTARIUS: (November 22 to December 21) This is a day when you can have much fun today at your home and be happy. Keep active and cheerful towards others tonight. CAPRICORN: (December 22 to January 20) Contact persons you admire in the outside world today and plan to see more of them in the future. Take it easy with loved ones tonight.

AQUARIUS: (January 21 to February 19) Get your property and other possessions beautified and made more valuable today. Be active and happy in the company for family and close friends. PISCES: (February 20 to March 20) You arise feeling aces and get much accomplished today and be happy at your duties. Later see a many good friends as you can.

Birthstone of April: Diamond — Amethyst

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY APRIL 21, 1995 By Thomas S. Pierson, Astrologer, Carroll Righter Foundation

ARIES: (March 21 to April 19) Study your ambitions for tonight and know how best to attain them and the plan you wish to follow.

TAURUS: (April 20 to May 20) Sit in the quiet of your study this morning or be with intimates and plan tonight more intelligently. Use psychology with the one you love.

SEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) This is a good day for seei being with interesting friends you like and deepening the rela-tionships of them.

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21) Study your tasks in the business world and know how better to handle them today and tonight so that you will have much success.

LEO: (July 22 to August 21) You are anxious to have new things around you and this can be achieved today. Any new contacts can remain in your life tonight.

VIRGO: (August 22 to September 22) Find a better way to please the one you love and make the relationship more meaningful. You have excellent ideas for your success.

LIBRA: (September 23 to October 22) This is a good day to plan greater success for yourself and fellow associates on a new assignment and to make any revisions which may be necessary. SCORPIO: (October 23 to November 21) Be more enthused about tasks you have to do today and you become very efficient at it. Relax tonight at home with your loved ones.

SAGITTARIUS: (November 22 to December 21) You get new ideas which can help you to express some talent admirably today. Don't neglect to do marketing later this evening.

CAPRICORN: (December 22 to January 20) This is a good day to study your loved ones and know what will give them pleasure. Make your home more charming and attractive for those who visit. AQUARIUS: (January 21 to February 19) Study into new ways of producing and you can get ahead much faster today in your chosen career so that you can get ahead.

PISCES: (February 20 to March 20) Gain some new inspiration and put aside all that traditionalism today which keeps you from progressing. Show that you are clever.

Cr. 13

19 15 1992,

T.Ma.

Birthstone of April: Diamond - Amethyst

THE Daily Crossword by Eugene Putt

German OECD warns Turkey on risks in banks warn delaying reforms of danger PARIS (AFP) — Turkey the report, which noted that risks encountering renewed the early 1994 lira crisis was to exports

which could jeopardise growth if it delays economic graded its sovereign credit reforms and sustained budget deficit reduction, the OEČD warned Wednesday. The Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) foresaw a modest recovery this year from a sharp 1994 slowdown that followed overheating of the economy at end-1993 and the January 1994 run against the Turkish lira. After several years of rapid growth, Turkey's GDP had fallen by 4.8 per cent last year and inflation averaged 120 per cent year-on-year, as the government implemented a strong stabilisation programme in the wake of the lira's 70 per cent first-quarter plunge against the dollar.

In a survey of the Turkish economy, the OECD said authorities had achieved "considerable short-term success' in stabilising financial market conditions, "but lasting stability is not assured."

It said durable expansion of the economy, led by exports and private investment, would depend on "reining in inflation, fundamental structural reform and sustained medium-term fiscal consolidation. The OECD said last year's crisis was a consequence off x discal policy, fun-away in flation and chronic large budget deficits in the early 1990s, which allowed the public sector borrowing re-quirement to rise to 12 per cent of GDP by 1993. It said this had hit confidence and raised concerns about Turkey's ability to service its external debt, which stood at $64.8 billion September 1994, of which $8.2 billion was owed by private sector borrowers. Turkey's debt service at that time accounted for 29 per cent of its foreign exchange earnings, according to

WHEN YOU'VE FINISHED DRYING THOSE GLASSES.

DEAR, HANG THE WET CLOTH NEATLY OVER THE PUMP HANDLES —

financial-market instability triggered when two international rating agencies down-

> The agencies removed Turkey from "credit watch" status last summer, as the April stabilisation programme, backed by the International Monetary Fund, began to vield results. The public sector borrowing requirement was cut on balance to an estimated 7.4 per cent of GDP overshooting the target of 6.2 per cent mainly because of delays in privatisation of loss-making State Economic Enterprises and higher debt service, the OECD said.

The balance of payments improved substantially, and exchange market stability was restored, with the lira showing a year-on-year depreciation of about 30 per cent at end-1994.

The lira depreciation and the imminent customs union with the European Union should give a boost to Turkey's exports and help dampen inflation over the next two years, the OECD said. It said output should grow by about 2.8 per cent this year and a modest 1.5 per cent rise in investment. For 1996, the OECD saw a more broadly-based recovery, with GDP growth rising brisk recovery in investment. It said inflation could fall sharply to 70 per cent on average in 1995 and 40 per cent in 1996, while the current account surplus should rise to the $4.0 to $4.5 billion range from $3.0 billion in

The OECD said the medium-term outlook for the Turkish economy was "fundamentally bright", but could be realised only by meeting the 1995 budget targets and accelerating structural reforms to overhaul "a bloated, inefficient public sector."

TS PLACE

Arab Gulf states to forge new foreign economic ties The GCC ministers' under- technology to the Gulf,

ABU DHABI (AFP) — Key ministers from six Arab Gulf oil states will meet next month to try to forge a new economic relationship with Japan and other industrial giants to acquire technology and promote non-oil exports, officials said Wednesday. The ministers of foreign affairs, oil, economy and finance from the six-nation Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) will hold a rare meeting in Riyadh in late May which will also discuss the latest plunge in the U.S. dollar that has combined withlow crude prices to aggravate their economic woes. "It is the first meeting by such ministers in several years. It will focus on our relations with Japan, the United States, the European Union (EU) and other world groupings. We feel it is time that we draw up a mechanism for such a relationship that will benefit all of us," an official from the GCC secretariat told AFP by telephone from the Riyadh headquar-

"The talks will also cover the continuous decline in the U.S. dollar, its impact on our economies and measures to counter such effects," he

The official, who requested anonymity, confirmed a report by the United Arab Emirates (UAE) daily Al Bayan that the meeting would be held just before taiks h ministers and EU foreign ministers on May 29.

member states asking them to present their views about such a relationship and what they can offer foreign partners in return for more economic concessions. It said the letter noted the GCC was about to open more secretaries will meet around

May 23 to prepare guidelines for new relations and nego-secretariat had sent letters to tiations with those groups. Al Bayan said the GCC rounds of economic negotiations with industrial countries and had received requests for trade talks from China, Russia, Turkey and the ASEAN

"This requires a joint concept about the political and economic objectives of the GCC's dialogue with other countries," the letter said.

GCC states — Saudi Arabia, Bahrain, Oman, Qatar, Kuwait and the UAE --- have been locked in negotiations with the U.S., Japan and the EU for several years in a bid to acquire technology essential to endeavours to build an industrial base and lessen reliance on unpredictable oil

They also want those countries to lift customs barriers for GCC petrochemicals, alumnium and other non-oil exports on the grounds they have free access to Gulf markets, the biggest consumer markets in the Middle East.

Although customs could be deal, industrial powers have been reluctant to transfer

he expressed worry about sterling's weakness and hinted at a tightening of monetary police if it con-

The words struck interest rate alarm bells in the market and sent sterling to a new low in early trade in Europe

Wednesday of 2.1790 marks.

has depreciated 10 per cent against the relentlessly strong

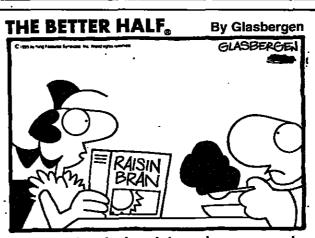

German currency. The pound also hit a new low of 83.6 on its trade weighted index against a basket of 21 currencies, below a previous low of 84.0 set in September 1992 after the pound pulled out of Europe's exchange rate mechanism currency grid.

Sterling tumbles to new lows by Bank of England Governor Eddie George in which tinued.

LONDON (R) - Sterling was forced to new lows Wednesday against the German mark and a basket of key currencies, increasing market expectations of an interest rate rise in May to defend the pound and ease inflationary pressures.

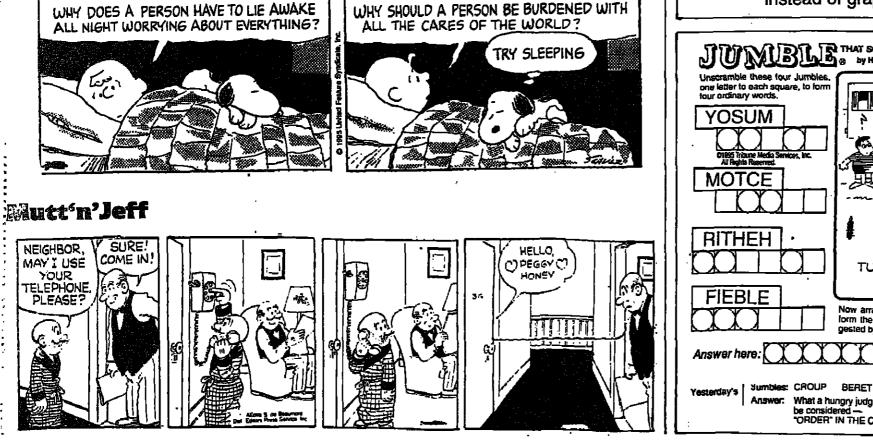

Analysts said odds on a rate rise shortened after comments released Wednesday

"To make their raisins plumper and juicier, they use dried watermelons instead of grapes."

JUMBLE THAT SCRAMBLED WORD GAME By Henri Arnold and Mitte Arginon YOSUM MOTCE RITHEH TURTLES LIVE IN THESE. FIEBLE Now arrange the circled letters to form the surprise answer, as sug-gested by the above cartoon. Answer here: Sumbles: CROUP BERET EFFORT ZODIAC

Answer: What a hungry judge's request for food might be considered — "ORDER" IN THE COURT

TRADED

ibs highest

ROSCOPE

season and the same some some some

Section 1995 and 1995

Durney ware took to

State Control Tomography Thomas date

The state of the s et il i sama i generation

France:

The state of the s

The second secon

Decree Server

38 FRID 15 (物)加速。

State of the State to the many the second of the Party and Section 1997 Edge 1997 Section 1997

er i Santa i S

1000

.....

: 22

face of 2 30 mg. Tate of 3 30 mg. Tate of 3 30 mg. Tate of 4 mg. Israeli firm applies to invest at R THURSDAY APRIL 20, 198 eastern shore of the concerned and the concerne Dead Sea sis and other and others much today

* ISRAEL'S Al Rom Group is among a list of 66 companies which have subsee the feet are made in the outside not perform the becking for mitted applications for touristic investments on the eastern and the second available and shore of the Dead Sea. The first includes companies from Romania, the United States. The women is a what the conjugation of the conjugat Britain and Germany as well 25 Jordanian companies. The projects allowed in the first stage are hotels, ordinary and tomistic housing, small ports, and other major touristic projects. Excluded from the first stage are "supporting services" such as restaurants, petrol stations, commercial buildings and the like. The Jordan Valley Authority has requested that all applica-tions be supported with a JD 25,000 bank guarantee for the lease of every dunum of land. The Jordan Valley Authority will be studying the applications before presenting its decisions to the Council of Ministers for final approval as of May 15, 1995 (Al Ra'i)

> ** THE ARAB White Cement Manufacturing Company agreed to resume supplying the association of construction industries with 500 tonnes of cement each week until the end of this month. The company has recently slashed the volume to 250 tonnes citing unorganised distribution by the association to some 250 tile plants in addition to lower production by the company. The association accuses the company of selling white cement to many parties causing market instability and giving rise to the black market. Before the end of this month a committee representing the company. the association and the title plants is supposed to come up with a study about the tile plants showing their numbers and their equipment as well as their needs for white cement (Al Ra'i).

☆★ THE JORDAN Investment Corporation (JIC) has taken up the initiative to establish a large Jordanian company to export agricultural products with a JD 2 million capital. The idea was first floated by Agriculture Minister Mansour Ben Tarif. The JIC will participate with a 10 per cent equity with the rest to be covered by the private sector. The government has promised full backing for the new company (Al

** THE MINISTRY of Finance intends to form a higher council for customs and free zones with the participation of representatives from the private and public sectors. According to Nazmi Al Abdullah, director-General of the Department of Customs, the higher council will look after the implementation of customs regulations and will put quick solutions to any problem that hampers the relationship between the department and the private sector. Addressing a gathering of businessmen and govemment officials, Mr. Abdullah announced new facilities that were approved to speed up and ease the customs procedures. First, a judiciary account was opened to register refundable fees to allow for speedy repayment of sums retained for various purposes. Second, lowering the deposit percentage on unversified documents from two per cent to one per cent (Al Ra'i + A! Dustour)

★★ THE GENERAL assembly of the General Arabia Insurance Company approved JD 144,000 in dividends (12 per cent), the same as in 1993. The company posted a JD 183,907 net profit in 1994 compared to JD 173,634 in 1993. Total assets amounted to JD 4.24 million (JD 3.98 in 1993) while investments dropped slightly to JD 2.49 million (Al Ra'i).

Arabs complete ambitious stocks project

ABU DHABI (AFP) — Arab states have completed a project to set up an advanced data network to link their stock markets and encourage regional investors to bring back their overseas funds, its operators said Wednesday.

The computerised stocks data network at the Abu Dhabi-based Arab Monetary Fund (AMF) was launched early this month and linked the bourses of six Arab countries, the AMF said in a statement sent to AFP.

Work on the network began five years ago and its functions cover distribution of information on stock markets and economic indicators in member states, trading institutions, prices of shares and monthly reports on turnover. The members linked to the data base in the first stage are Jordan, Oman, Bahrain. Tunisia, Kuwait and Moroc-

"The fund hopes the remaining stock exchanges in

KUWAIT (R) — Shares in a new public company that will take a 10 per cent stake in a big petrochemicals complex will be offered for public subscription for two weeks

from Sunday, the managers of the project have said. Hamad Al Mishwat, pro-.

ject manager of Bubiyan Petrochemicals Company, told reporters the offer for Kuwaitis only was intended to raise 30 million dinars

($103 million) by selling 300 million shares each worth 100 fils to one dinar ($3.4). Bubiyan wili have a 10 per

U.S. Dollar la International Market

Financial

Markets

Correct

Sterling Pound

Deutsche Mark

Swiss Franc

French Franc

Japanese Yes

Currency

U.S. Dollar

Sterling Pound

Deutsche Mark

Suks Franc

French Franc

Japanese Yes

Gold

U.S. Dollar

Sterling Pound

Deutsche Mark

Swiss Franc

French Franc

Japanese Yen'

Daich Gailde

luin Lira

Belgian Franc

Bahraini Dina

Lebanese Lira*

Sandi Rîyel

Kewatti Disa

Qetari Riyal

Commi Riyal

UAE Dirham

Greek Drathma

Cyprici Pound

Egyptian Perced

Swadish Krona

European Currency Link

Karopean Carreny Unit

Kuwait to float new petrochemical firm

member states will join the stock data base in the near future so it will cover the whole region and provide information on all bourses," the statement said, "It also hopes this project will stimulate investment activities, boost national savings and contribute to repatriating part of the overseas assets.

Officials said the data base was part of AMF's new policy to encourage reforms in the Arab region after billions of dollars in aid failed to produce results.

Most regional countries still suffer from such economic problems as debt, slow growth rates, unemployment, inflation and budget deficits.

Egypt, Jordan, Tunisia, Morocco, and a few other members launched economic reforms but the process has

Other countries in the region, including the oil-rich members in the Gulf, have plans to restructure their eco-cent stake in Equate, a Kuwaiti-American joint venture which will operate the emirate's first mainstream petrochemicals facility, south

Bubiyan will be the private sector's first stake in the state-dominated petroleum industry. It is one of a series of steps intended to stimulate moribund private businesses

burdened by debts. Sheikh Mishwat said private Kuwaiti individuals and firms would have priority in share allocation over public

Tokyo

Close 19/4/95

1.6171**

1.3492

1.1160**

4.7870**

$0.14

1.3667

Date: 19/4/1995

6.68 7.18

3.25 3.43

7.31 7.00

4.50

1.25

6,43

Date: 19/4/1995

19/4/1995

Oller

0.68Z0

1.1029

0.5044

0.6106

0.1433

0.8501

0.4505

*****

0.0403

*****

19/4/1995

1.8000

0:04150

0.1829

2.3610

0.1870

0.2010

1.7660

0.1256

0.3100

of Kuwait City.

companies.

18/4/95

1.6140

1.3522

1.1156

4.7695 1

80.63

1.3513

1 MTH 3 MTHS 6 MTHS 12 MTHS

6.25

4.37

3.16

7.68

1.25

0.6800

1.0974

0.5019

0.6076

0.1426

0.8465

0.6483

615496

0.0401

******

1.7580

0.04050

0.1810

2.3160

0.1856

0.1900

1.7479

Q.1646

0.2900

7.4500

6.25 6.31

USD/Oz JD/Gre" Metal USD/Oz JD/Cet

5.25

7.75

1.25

397.45 7.65 Silver

Jordan Times

in co-operation with

Cairo Amman Bank

nomies due to a sharp decline in crude prices.

The AMF, the Arab League's main financial organisation, said the data network was carried out with the help of the World Bank's International Finance Corporation and was part of its plan to develop local stock markets.

It said the project would help "increase investment awareness in the region and enable investors to take right decisions and identify opportunities." Experts said the network could promote investment in the region but they stressed

Arab markets must first open up to investors. They noted several regional exchanges were still confined to nationals while the more liberal floors were giving only limited access to foreigners.

"The data base is a very good idea," one expert said.
"It help me see more investment opportunities. But how can I invest in another market when its laws still bar foreigners from trading in shares?"

Only 10 of the Arab League's 22 members have formal stock exchanges and activity in such markets have remained relatively small due to political uncertainty in some members, restrictions on foreign participation and lack of information and incentives about trading institutions.

More than 1,100 banks and companies trade their shares in Arab region. Their market capitalisation exceed $100 billion but this remained a fraction of the total world capitalisation of more than $9

Arab officials have repeatedly called for the development of regional stock markets to revive their economies and attract part of the more than $800 billion owned by regional investors abroad.

Islamic bank head says M.E. development bank not needed

DUBAI(R) — The head of the Islamic Development Bank (IDB) said in remarks published Tuesday that there was no need for Arab states to set up a proposed $5 bilhion Middle East development bank that includes

IDB Director Osama Fa-qih told the United Arab Emirates Al Ittihad newspaper that "there is no need for the Arab region to set up the so-called development bank in the Middle East."

"In the Arab World there are enough specialised financial institutions...supporting Arab cooperation and serving joint interests, "he added. The Arab League and the oil-rich Arab Gulf states oppose the formation of a Middle East development bank, seen as one of the dividends of the Arab-Israeli peace process

IDB helps finance development projects and trade among members of the Organisation of the Islamic Conference (OIC).

Officials from Arab Gulf states recently voiced strong opposition to the formation of the bank.

United Arab Emirates Finance and Industry Minister Ahmad Bin Humaid Al Tayer on April 12 told Arab finance ministers that setting up joint projects with Israel would be more dangerous for Arabs than Israel's deployment of nuclear weapons.

A SECURE

Hotel

Sweifiyeh

AMMENY FINANCIAL MARKET
BOUSING BANK CENTER AMOUN - SENGISANI
TELEPHONE: 660170 / 663170
ORGANIZED MARKET SEARE PRICE LIST FOR WEDENSDAY 19/04/1995

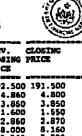

ARAB BANK PIC JORDAN HATIONAL BANK

JORDAN TSTANTC SANT

MIDDLE PAST INVESTMENT DAWN

HIDDLE EAST INVESTMENT BANK.
INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT BANK
THE HOUSING BANK
JORDAN GULF BANK
ARAB JORDAN INVESTMENT BANK
ARAB JORDAN INVESTMENT BANK

BANK OF JORDAN

VALUE PREV. CLOSING TRADED CLOSING PRICE JD. 15208 6410 14807 354486 32964 3.850 1.600 2.860 8.000 2.960 1.480 3.500 4.090 4.800 3.700 4.380 3.400 1.380 138672 8415 31396 6318 20222 1.990 1573063

JORDAN ISLAMIC BARK UNION BARK FOR SAVING & INVESTMENT
BOSINESS BANK
JORDAN INVESTMENT & FINANCE BANK
BEIT KIROL SAVINGLINVESTMENT FOR HOUSING
ANDAN BANK FOR INVESTMENT
PELLADELPEIA INVESTMENT BANK. 74150 308331 INDEX NUMBER: 149.05 CHANGE : -0.23 BANKS SECTOR 538978 750 37200 500 1398 105151 1.850 2.830 JORDAN FRENCH INSURANCE ARAB LIFE & ACCIDENT INSURANCE 2.830 2.830 2.650 2.650 1325 INSURANCE SECTOR 38450 107873 INDEX NUMBER: 136.60 CHANGE : 0.00%

JORDANIAN ELECTRIC POWER /NEW JORDANIAN ELECTRIC POWER /NEW JORDANIAN ELECTRIC POWER /NEW JORDAN BOTEL & TOURLSH INBID DISTRICT ELECTRICITY JORDAN HIMER MINERAL SOTELS JORDAN MATIONAL SHIPPING LINES MATIONAL PORTFOLIO SECURITIES REAL ESTATE INVESTMENT MACHIMARY EQUIP. RENTING & MAINTENANCE JORDAN PRESS FOURDATION / ALRA'I UNITED HIDDLE EAST & CUMMODORE BOTELS ARAB INTER. FOR INVESTMENT & EDUCATION 7.200 1.260 2.610 6.890 3.290 2.460 1.150 .660 2.710 3.350 2.700 3.350 12847 SERVICES SECTOR 201872 679940

INDEX NUMBER: 141.99 ATTABOTEF CONST. MATERIAL MANUFACTURING THE JURDAN CEMENT PACTORIES JURDAN PROSPERIE MINES 2600 12282 5762 1900 1918 750 529 150 29060 72 1980 10150 950 3450 46700 3850 5.500 9.400 1.780 3.610 8.250 4.160 2.500 5.000 THE ARAB POTASE/MEN JURDAN PETROLEUM REFIRARY WOOLEN INDUSTRIES 1335 1934 2888 122694 2750 360 5430 26190 2391 27451 43410 27720 39075 71236 9075 10345 10360 10345 1050 555 30809 2177 20088 THE INDUSTRIAL CONSERCIAL & AGRICULTURAL ARAB PRANGACEUTICAL MANUFACTURING JORDAN DAIRY JORDAN PRINTING & PACKING THE JORDAN PIPES HANDFACTU 2.710 2.580 2.510 7.950 .700 1.620 3.130 1.200 4.200 4.770 1.850 4.770 1.850 1.730 3.610 2.000 THE JORDAN PIPES MANUFACTURING SPINMING & WEAVING RAFIA IMBUSTRIES DAR AL DAWA DEVELOPMENT & INVESTMENT ARAB INVESTMENT & THERNATIONAL TRADE ARAB ALUMINIUM IMBUSTRY LIVESTOCK & POULTRY ARAB PAPER CONVENTING & TRADING MATIONAL STEEL IMBUSTRY INTERNEDIATE PERSO-CHEMICAL INDUSTRIES 55400 44300 36190 8550 250 800 6324 1200 8350 4000 7500 RATIONAL STEEL INDUSTRY INTERNEDIATE PETRO-CHEMICAL INDUSTRIES JORDAN ROCEMOOL INDUSTRIES UNIVERSAL CHEMICAL INDUSTRIES JORDAN INDUSTRIES & MATCH/JIMCO NATIONAL CABLE & WIRE HANUFACTURING JORDAN SULPBO-CHEMICALS ARAB CENTER FOR PRARM. & CHENICALS FAMTHER INVESTMENT UNIVERSAL MODERN INDUSTRIES JORDAN INDUSTRIAL RESOURCES CO.

1078017 3031721 INDEX NUMBER: 146.92 GRAND TOTAL BO. OF TRADED SHARES IN PARALLEL MARKET VALUE TRADED IN PARALLEL MARKET

670845

298717

IORDAN

MARKET

INDUSTRIAL SECTOR

INDEX NUMBER: 124.97

RENT IN UM AL SUMMAQ 3rd floor, 3 bedrooms,

bathrooms, super deluxe furniture. Abdoun Real Estate. Tel. 810605, 810609, 810520

Flat.O.TEL HOSPITALITY GASTRONOMY All Suites Hotel FLAT .O. TEL الإجنحه القندقيسه المكيف الملوكية بمستوى عالمي جديد! 863944 - 816690

STUDIO HAIG Professional Quality in 1 Hour Service Develop your colour film at our shop and get:-· JUMBO photo

size 30% Inrger Pres enlarge ment 20 x 30 cm Shmeisani Opp. Grindlays Bank. Phone: 604042 Swefieh tel: 823891

Szechwan Garbens

ehinese restaurant

FOR RENT Deluxe Villas & Apartments in Amman tuither details please ca SANABEL REAL ESTATE

Tel. 864230 Fax. 864231

ieurô DOLLAR

Make Car Rental Simple

> Shmeisani Tel: 693399

You 'v Seen The Rest Now Try The Best

Widest Selection Most Reasonable Retes Newer, Cleaner, More Lavishly Furnished or unfurnished Villas and Apartments

FULL SERVICE REAL ESTATE ORGANIZATION Tel. 681113 - 688816

Benita

Restaurant & Tapas

Open Daily

from

TEL: 819676 ABDOUN

Typical Calmon Foods Skilled Chinese Chefs Open 11:30 - 3:30 & 6:00 - Midnight Take away is available Shel Al-Arab Street Um Utheinen Commercial Tel.: 861174 Back Tested Alweys Loved

(3) (重 袋星明) MING-SHING Chinese Restaurant The Best Cooking. Best Service, Best Atmosphere in Amman Deir Ghbar - American Embassy Str. near Baytuna Housing Estate

Open from: 12 noon - 3:30 p.m. 6:30 - 11:30 p.m. . Tel.: 861838

Ladies Hair Design English Speaking Staff Tel 865986

TEL 836692

12a.m. - 12p.m. Jebel Amman, 3rd circle Tel. 61 50 61 FOR YOUR

THE BEST FOOD INGREDIENTS IN THE WORLD THE MOST FASHIONABLE RESTAURANT IN AMMAN

Big Claims Real Stories !

LOVELY BAND : GUITAR + PIANO JD 10.00 (++) Tel: 863944

LONDON EXCHANGE RATES

LONDON (R) - Following are the buying and selling rates for leading world currencies and gold against the dollar at midsession on the London Foreign Exchange and bullion markets Wednesday. U.S. $1.00 costs 1.3716/26 1.3604/14 1.5234/44 1.1228/38 27.93/97 4.8125/75 1706.0/1.0 81.22/32 7.2900/00 6.1330/80 Norwegian crowns

One ounce of gold $396.20/396.70

5.3657/07

$1.6144/54

in Jordan Times Canadian dollar Deutschemarks Call tel: Dutch guilders Swiss francs Belgian francs French francs ltalian lire Japanese ven Swedish crowns

Danish crowns

Center Tel: 864721

Unique gold & gems jewelry. DAJANI'S

By Aleen Bannayan Jordan Times Staff Reporter

AMMAN - For the second consecutive year, Jordan's Davis Cup team was again unable to return to the senior division Group 2 after the conclusion of the Asia/Oceania Zone Group 3 competition in Dubai.

However, the question lies not in why the team was unable to score a convincing result this year, but in what can be done to assure a brighter future for the game in the Kingdom.

Prior to their departure, the players and their officials had expressed optimism that they could do well in their six-team group. However, the results were disappointing: Jordan's team scored their only win 2-1 over the UAE on the final day. They lost 3-0 to Pacific Oceania, Bangladesh and Saudi Arabia. and 2-1 to Lebanon.

best 40 will receive valuable Swatches, the top 5

TERM DEFENDE OF THE PROPERTY OF THE OFFICE OF THE PROPERTY OF

"I was very optimistic before the competition. But while I am sure the players did their best, I am of course quite disappointed with the results," team captain Talal Maher told the Jordan

Jordan finished fifth in their sixth-team group from which Saudi Arabia advanced to Group 2. In the other seven-team group playing at the same venue, Bahrain was the one to advance leaving behind Singapore, Kuwait, Brunei, Syria, Kazakhstan and Oman.

Jordan's team was led by team veteran Imad Abu Hamda who has just graduated from the School of Medicine at the University of Jordan. The other players were Faris Azzouni, one of othe country's top players. Khaled Husseini. and 15-year-old promising player Khaled Nafa'a.

Although Azzouni and

Abu Hamda had played Davis Cup before, it was the first time for the other

The team captain explained that while the hot and humid weather undoubtedly affected the players performance, this should not be held as an excuse for the "poorresults.

"A team should be ready for any circumstance and adapt to conditions surrounding any competi-tion," Mr. Maher noted. "We cannot take one single factor and attribute it to

Mr. Maher noted the fact that the team did not play any friendly matches prior to the competition had a negative effect. "It should not have been difficult for the Jordan Tennis Federation (JTF) to have hosted a team from a nearby country. That would have put the players in the mood for competition, and would have displayed any shortcomings while they were

He added that it was also a disadvantage not to have the coach with the team at the competition.

"I couldn't have expected more from the players in Dubai. They gave it all they have. Faris (Azzouni) played an outstanding 3-hour-long match against Lebanon. He was absolutely brilliant. Imad (Abu Hamda) undoubtedly felt he had a lot of pressure on him and he played very well on the first two days before coming down with a cold. Although we lost, the matches were very close." Mr. Maher added: "We should have been better prepared, especially fitnesswise.

However taking into consideration the circumstances of the competing players and the very young age of the rest of the country's promising players, one should not expect any other results.

The Kingdom's former top-ranked player Hani Al Ali who retired in 1993, always stressed the fact that the national tennis team was only regrouped for a certain competition, with no prior training or matches. In addition the number of players was also very faced the same problem. While Abu Hamda was busy with his final year at university, he missed last year's competitions. In order to get back into action he attended a 10-day training camp in Spain and played with his coaches. While the Kingdom's 1994 champion Laith Al Azzouni is this year busy with his tawjihi. his brother Faris was the only other experienced player on the team. Khaled Husseini, who studies in the U.S., was in Amman only shortly before the competition. leaving his coach and officials little time to evaluate his form. Himself and the youngest member of the

This year too, the JTF

the Davis Cup level. So what should be done in future competitions? "First of all there should be change of attitude," said Mr. Maher. "All con-cerned should feel that we will be playing to compete. and not just for the sake of participation.

"I suggest that we start our preparations for the upcoming Davis Cup (scheduled for March '96) this summer, and not merely two months before. We should also concentrate on the young promising players that we have, who are always there for practice and not yet that burdened with their studies."

"Coming up with the necessary sponsorship and year-round practice to maintain a competitive team will need a lot of effort, but it is the only way to compete on a regional level. All other nations we played are well advanced in this regard. It is time we prepare well too," he

Five Cuban boxers dan banned for banned for doping wes

boxers, including former world batamweight champion Enrique Carrion, have been banned for two years for taking the banned diuretic furosemide, the International Amateur Boxing Association (AIBA) said on Wednesday.

AIBA said the Cuban Boxing Federation had announced the ban after the boxers tested positive for the drug during out-of-competition tests. The international federation has suspended the fighters from all

The other fighters on the list were Alexander Jimenez Rodriguez, a junior flyweight world champion. Mario KinPie and Ernesto Cabrera Laugart.

Last November Cuban world flyweight champion Waldemar Font and Manuel Mantilla Rodriguez, who won gold medals at last year's Goodwill Games in St. Petersburg, tested positive for the same drug.

The AIBA was not immediately able to give any dates regarding the positive tests and no spokesman was available to give any more information about the cases

Diurectics are sometimes used to shed weight quickly or decrease the concentration of drugs in urine.

Cantona starts punishmen

MANCHESTER (AFP) Eric Cantona's fans migrated from far and wide Tuesday to see their soccer hero begin the 120 hours community service punishment he got for attacking an abusive fan at a match in January.

"Cantona was absolutely fantastic with the kids, absolutely unbelievable," said Anthony Cain, coach of a community center team that the Manchester United star worked within in his first ses-

"He was superb, couldn't have been better." Among the crowd of admirers that showed up for day of atonement were fans from Norway, and a coachload of French school children from Perpignan insouthwestern France, come to see their compatriot after a rugby league tour of the North of England.

The Palau XXIII under 15's posed for a picture with Cantona and their coach the former French rugby, league captain, Guy Lefor-

Cantona spent the morning at United's Littleton training, ground with his junior dub: colleagues before beingdriven away to the Cliff tor teach football skills to children from the Ellesmere Park: the fiery Frenchman's first Junior School.

Spurs beat Nuggets; Lakers, Cavs lose SAN ANTONIO (R) bed 11 rebounds as the Suns blow out every team because left hand, hit 7-of-8 shots in David Robinson led the San will be awarded special Swatch, the Swiss watch maker is launching a uni-Swatches for their excellence in design. Also que art contest involving more than 25,000 students thousands of various prizes will be given to the particifrom 50 private schools pants. The schools that throughout Amman. Each participating student will receive a Swatch outlined home the best designers will receive a Swatch Maxi poster to design freely with his/her most colorful imagination. A committee of

SWATCH ART CONTEST FOR.

International Community School

(The British Curriculum School in Amman)

Are you reflective, caring, highly motivated and

British qualified - preferably with working know-

The ICS is looking for Primary Teachers

(Key Stages 1 & 2) for September 1995.

Excellent salary & working conditions. Interested? Contact the school office for an application form, and to arrange a visit, by

Tel.: 841070 Fax: 847109

Opens a competition for a two year scholarship, (20 months, 4 hours a day), for a course in goldsmithry at

- Good knowledge of Italian Language

For information contact: C.L.I

Shmeisani, tel. 669348, from 10:30

Accademia Riace - Florance - Italy.

مركز اللغة الايطالية

Centro Linguistico Italiano

ledge of the National Curriculum?

Thursday, 27th April, 1995.

STUDENTS

The winning designs will be sent to the Swatch headquarters in Switzerland givfine artists will evaluate the ing the opportunity for entries, selecting the most creative 40 designs. The hidden talents and perhaps become one of many Swatch accredited artists.

nver Nuggets 107-96 on Tuesday in a possible preview of the first round of the Western Conference playoffs, but he refuses to get ahead of him-"We can't afford to look too far down the road." said Robinson, who scored eight Antonio Spurs past the De-

still here."

of his 30 points in an 18-2 fourth-quarter run for the NBA leaders (59-20). The confidence level is there right now. "We've proven during the season that we can play at a consistent level for a long time. Now we have to do it when it counts." Avery Johnson netted a career-high 29 and Dennis Rodman added 13 rebounds as the Spurs swept a homeand-home series with Denver, won their third straight game and maintained a twogame lead over second-place Utah in the Midwest Divison.

"Denver is not an easy team." Johnson said. they're very deep. All 12 guys can play. People expect us to

we have the best record in the league, but that's just not going to happen.

Jalen Rose and Bryant Stith scored 20 points and Dikembe Mutombo had 17 points and 16 rebounds for the Nuggets, who have dropped five of their last eight games but lead Sacramento by a game in the race for the final Western Conference playoff berth.

In Dallas, Jamal Mashburn scored 20 points and Roy Tarpley added 19 points and 14 rebounds as the Mavericks stayed in the hunt for a play-off berth with a 104-91 victory over the Los Angeles

Clippers. The Mavericks trail Denver by two games and Sacramento by one in the battle for the last western playoff

Loy Vaught scored 28 points and ripped down 17 ebounds for the Clippers who have lost five straight and have dropped all three They're very tough and games to Dallas this season.

In Phoenix, Charles Barkley scored 28 points and grabopened a 14-point firstquarter lead and coasted to a 111-101 victory over the Sac-team. Khaled Nafa'a.

almost lacked the competitive match experience on ramento · Kings. Wayman Tisdale added 18 points for the Suns, who maintained their half-game lead over Seattle for first place in the Pacific Division. Mitch Richmond scored 28 points for the Kings.

At Los Angeles, Gary Payton scored 17 of his 28 points in the first quarter as the Seattle Supersonics opened a huge first-half lead and breezed to a 113-97 win over the Lakers.

Seattle scored the first 11 points and never looked back. Payton, who is nursing a broken ring finger on his the first quarter as the Sonics built a 34-21 lead after one. Seattle then scored the first 10 points of the second quarter and led by 30 at the half.

The Sonics have won three of their last four games. Anthony Peeler scored 18 points for Los Angeles. which has dropped five of its last six games and has seen its lead over Houston shrink to half a game for sixth place in

At Minnesota, Karl Malone scored 32 points and David Benoit scored seven of his 16 in a key third-quarter run as the Utah Jazz eased to a 113-94 victory over the Timberwolves.

Detroit	85	Cieveland	76
Utah	113	Minnesota	94
San Antonio	107	Denver	96
Dallas	104	L.A. Clippers	91
Phoenix	111	Sacramento	101
Seattle	113	L.A. Lakers	97
Golden State	103	Portland	102

Furnished Apartment For Rent In Um Uthaina

Consists of three bedrooms, L-shaped dining room and salon, two bathrooms, independent central heating, telephone. Luxurious furniture. Suitable for diplomats.

Please call tel. 820259

FOR RENT

TWO BEDROOM FURNISHED FLAT FOURTH CIRCLE - JABAL AMMAN 400 JD PER MONTH.

TEL. 642855

JOB OPPORTUNITY

A leading hotels company in Aqaba is seeking to employ ambitious, hardworking, and self-motivated:

1. Executive Secretary 2. Accountant 3. Marketing Director

Candidates should have:

☆ University degree ☆ Good command of English language

(priority for 2 foreign languages) ☆ Good background in computers.

Qualified applicants, kindly send your CV (resume) by fax to: Att. GENERAL MANAGER Fax: 03 314271 AQABA - JORDAN

FOR RENT

Two bedrooms fully furnished ground floor with garden, own telephone, parking and separate uti-

Location: Shmeisani near Tyche Hotel. Tel.: 665496

SUPER DELUXE FURNISHED SEMI VILLA FOR RENT

Located in the best area of Sweifieh. Amin Salama Mohammad St., No. 9 near the Orthodox Church Consists of 3 bedrooms and ufilities, luxurious furniture garage for 2 cars; and a garden, rent. Annual, monthly or any period Call Tel. 818092,642072,826457

FOR RENT

A furnished flat in a villa, near the Royal Automobile Club, 200m<sup>2</sup>, 3 bedrooms, 3 bathrooms, living room, guest room with dining room, large kitchen, and a big terrace.

For more information call 811530

Two Apartments For Rents Furnished or Unfurnished Each consists of 3 bedrooms, 3 bathrooms,

salon, dining room, central heating. Area 200 sq.m. Location:Abdullah Ghoshen St. 7th Circle. Please cal tel: 810744 - 820069.

Today at Cinema Plaza PULP FICTION

attraction: Julia Roberts. Basinger & Sophia Loren...it PRET-A-PORTER

NEW

requirements:

- Artistic Aptitude

- Tawijhi

to 12:30 a.m.

Spanish Language Courses For all levels

The Cervantes Institute The Spanish Cultural Centre

TENDER'S NOTICE

The Directorate of Projects Services/Ministry of Education announces the Tendering of the following tender as a part of the Seventh Educational Project

2. Title: Books on Education Related to Research &

4. Fees of each bid document is:

B. US$ (75) or

C.  $\mathfrak{L}$  (50) or equivalent, and should be paid to MOE before opening date.

Interested bidders are invited to collect tender's document from Procurement Division of the Directorate of Projects Services/Ministry of Education, starting April 19, 1995 against the payment of the above fees.

Head of Special

Registration is open For more information, please call: Tel. 610 858

DONNAY SPORT CENTRE Opposite Wadi sagra Book Shop - Near Philadilphia Hotel Bridge

French Lacoste

30 - 60 % Discount

Everything 70 Go

Ti - Shirts FRENCH LACOSTE 10 J.D

Tennis Rackets & Accessories

Swimwear SPEEDO

Swimwear Accessories

DONT MISS THIS OFFER

No. 2890-JO.

3. Financed through: IBRD (2890-JO).

Closing date will be 11.00 A.M. of May 24, 1995. Jabal Amman, 3rd Circle Tenders Committee Tel.: 699238 Cînema

1. Tender's No.: 1/95

A. J.D (50) or

Tel.: 634144 PHILADELPHIA 0 Tom Hanks Forrest Gump Shows: 12:30, 3:15, 6:15, 9:15

Bruce Willis & John Travolta PULP FICTION

Shows: 12:30, 3:30, 6:15, 8:30, 10:30

PLAZA

CONCORD CONCORD 17 Comedian star: Adel Imam ---Bakhit & Andadileh Shows: 12:30, 3:15, 6:00, 8:30, 11:00 CONCORD '2' Jean-Claude Van Damm

STREET FIGHTER

Shows: 12:30, 3:30, 5:45, 11:00

Tel.: 677420

Tel.: 618274 - 618275 ammoun theatre Musa Hijazin "Sum'a" in the political satire Hi Citizen written and directed by Mohammad Al Shawaqia daily on 8:30 p.m.

The theatre closes on Monday — Halfa Al Agha in the children's play ትጵ Sa'di's Return አጵ

COMING SOON The Comedy Show

Nabii Ai Mashini Theatre

Tel.: 675571

CABARET

Nabil & Hisham's Tel.: 62 AHLAN THEATES Presents: The political satire: al salam ya salam at 8:30 p.m. For reservation, please cal 625155 The theatre is closed Saturdays & Sundays

Jordan's U-22 basketball team leaves for Malaysia today

By Aleen Bannayan Jordan Times Staff Reporter

AMMAN - Jordan's Under-22 basketball team leaves for Malaysia Thursday evening to take part in an eight-nation international basketball tournament which will be held in Kuala Lumpur April 24-30.

Jordan will be the only Arab country playing in the tournament, the proceeds of which will be donated to kidney disease patients.

Participating teams are China, Taiwan, Australia, Malaysia. the Philippines. Singapore and Russia. The Municipality of Greater Amman has sponsored the participation with JD 10.000 as Jordan's U-22 team will be representing the City of Amman. The Jordan Basketball

Federation (JBF) sees this as a good opportunity for this age-group before the

Mohammad Shamali

U-22 team is soon regrouped in preparation for the Arab championship which will be held in Amman March 1996. Jordan will then play in the Asian U-22 championship in Shanghai in June '96.

The JBF has been criticised for not including players from various clubs as the team groups players from only three clubs: Jazireh. Ahli and Orthodo-

Yousef Abu Baker

Only two of the players are over 22, Jihad Saliba and Marwan Saeedi. Three players represent the U-18 team: Ma'an Odeh, Zeid Alkhas and Mahmoud Sha'aban. The other players are Riyad Ayesh, Ziyad Nabulsi, Yousef Abu Bakr. Husam Abdul Latif. Moustafa Al Ghoul. Faisal Nsour, and Naser Alawneh. The most notable absentees are Ramez Hammoudeh, Mohammad Al Shamali and Ghaith En-

Although it might be argued that the U-22 team travelling to Malaysia was only recently regrouped did not practice together for a long time. JBF chairman Awwad Haddad said players were not out of action throughout the past months. "Al Ahli's players joined their team in the Arab Clubs Cham-pionship which was held in Cairo recently, while Al Orthodoxi's players participated in a friendly tournament in Syria. U-18 players have been practicing with their team in preparation for the World Championship in July."

For the past two weeks the U-22 team has been playing as a separate team in the Aramex tournament grouping different com-

Triple Olympic champion retires

ZURICH (Agencies) — Switzerland's triple Olympic Alpine skiing champion Vreni Schneider announced her retirement from active competition on Wednes-

Schneider, 30, who last month clinched her third World Cup overall title by taking the season's last slalom, told a news conference she had decided to end her 11-year career "on a high

The supreme technical skier, Schneider also won three World Championship titles to add to her three Olympic gold medals.

Widely acknowledged as the best women's Alpine skier of all time, her 55 World Cup triumphs was second only to the 62 wins of the legendary Austrian Annemarie Moser-Proell.

Schneider's best season was in 1989 when she won a record 14 World Cups comprisong six giant slaloms, seven slaloms and a combined event to eclipse the previous best mark of 13 set by Sweden's Ingemar Stenmark.

Schneider won the gold medal in the slaiom and giant slalom in the :1988 Olympics and in the slalom in Lillehammer last year. She won her first World Cup race in 1984 and subsequently became the most consistent skier on the women's circuit. Although she disliked the speed races, she forced nerself to compete in downhills and super-G s to pick up extra

Tyson wants Islamic rite

Mike Tyson wants to make a Muslim pilgrimage to Saudi Arabia, his spiritual advisor said, but he has no plans to travel there for a religious ceremony later this month.

A Saudi news report Mon-

almost non-existence. Trailing 2-1 from the first-

second-leg semi-final match-es on Tuesday. Parma were first into the final when they beat Bayer Leverkusen in Italy 3-0 with goals from Faustino Asprillo and one from Gianfranco slender hopes alive. Zola to win 5-1 on agreggate. When Asprilio struck again

Several hours later Juventus, who meet Parma in the Italian Cup final in June, booked their place in next month-s UEFA Cup final by beating Borussia Dortmund in Germany 2-1 to win 4-3 on agreggate. It was a stunning performance from Parma's Colombian star Asprillo which assured them of their third European final appearance in three years.

The Italian side won the European Cup Winner's Cup in '93 and the European Super Cup last year. The South American struck after only four minutes when he hit home a lose ball after Leverkusen goalkeeper Rudger Vollborn failed to hold a shot from Massimo

PARIS (AFP) — The UEFA Cup final next month became an all-Italian affair when

Juventus and Parma saw off their German rivals in their Crippa.

It was to be a fatal blow for the German's whose hopes of reaching the final had suddenly gone from slim to be an all-Italian affair

UEFA Cup final will leg the Germans, despite several threating attacks from striker Rudi Voeller, never looked like scoring the two goals they need to keep their

10 minute into the second half after being put through by midfielder Giantranco Zola, all German hopes were completely dashed. The Colombian capped off a brilliant performance by supplying the finishing pass to Zola to score in the 67th

"It was a great perform-ance," said Parma coach Nevio Scala. "For the third year in a row we are in a European final." In Dortmund, Juventus needed all their experience to beat Borussia Dortmund despite taking the lead after only six minutes thanks to a goal by Sergio Porrini from a

Only four minutes later

former Juventus player Julio Cesar levelled the score from a free kick.

Borussia, beaten in the UEFA Cup final in 1993 by Juventus, nearly took the lead minutes later through their 17-year-old Ghana player Ibrahim Tanko but in the 31st minute Juventus captain Roberto Baggio sealed the German's fate.

From a direct free-kick Baggio's perfectly placed-shot gave goalkeeper Stefan Kloss no chance.

With nothing to lose the Germans pushed forward and Lars Ricken headed home from a corner in the second half but the goal was dis-allowed by Dutch referee Van der Ende who claimed the outswinging ball had cros-sed the line and come back in to play.

Juventus almost made it 3-1 in the final five minutes when a fierce shot from Paulo Sousa beat Kloss but hit the post but by then the match had already been sealed.

The first-leg of the final will be played on May 3 in Parma with Juventus hosting the second-leg on May 17.

ivanisevic, Berasategui out of Nice Open

NICE (Agencies) — Defending champion Alberto Berasategui and Goran Ivanisevic, the No. 2 and No. 3 seeds at the Nice Open, both dropped out of their firstround matches with injuries Tuesday.

Berasategui, after two hours of play against fellow Spaniard Alberto Costa, had to withdraw due to body cramps and was barely able to hold his racket.

Costa lost the first-set tiebreaker, 10-8 but was winning in the second, 4-0, when Berasategui called it quits.

Berasategui won the Nice tournament last year, that started a successful year for him that included a spot in the French Open final and a rise into the top 10. Ivanisevic, a former Wimbledon finalist, beat Henri Leconte of France in the first set, 6-2, but lost the first game of the second set before defaulting, citing pain in his right knee. He dropped out of a tournament in Stuttgart, Germany, in February and had an operation to repair cartilage damage before returning last week at Barcelona, where he made the semifinals.

"It started hurting in the first set," Ivanisevic said. "Then I couldn't bend it any more. I will get some treatment tomorrow and take a few days of rest."

In other first round matches, Tomas Carbonell of Spain beat Olivier Delaitre of France, 6-3, 6-0: Mark Woodforde of Australia downed Horst Skoff of Austria, 6-3, 7-6 (7-3) and topseeded Yevgeny Kafelnikov of Russia eliminated American David Wheaton.

Javier Sanchez of Spain beat a former Nice winner, Andrei Chesnokov of Russia, 6-3, 6-3.

The season's best clay court player. Thomas Muster of Austria, is not entered in the tournament. Muster won the past two tournaments in Estroil, Portugal, and Barcelona, and is unbeaten in 16 matches on clay this year.

Chang, Ferreira advance

Both local hero Michael Chang and second seeded Wayner Ferreira made it through to the second round of the $328.000 Hong Kong Open Tuesday without too many problems.

Also through, but not without a fight, was third seed Jim Courier, the 1992 Hong Kong holder who won last week's Japan Open with a victory over new world No. 1 Andre Agassi.

In an evening match Chang maintained his hero status in his spiritual home of Hong

0 Q 9 8 7 6 5 • A 4 ding: West Pass Pass Pass Pass Pass Pass

east

Alberto Berasategui

Kong as he overpowered Jakob Hlasek of Switzerland 6-1, 6-3.

Chang, a sporting idol in the territory who makes much of his multi-million dollar annual income from contracts and sponsorships relating to the Asian region, had the overwhelming support of . the crowd watching on Centre Court at Victoria Park.

Courier finally subdued his 21-year-old South Korean opponent who put up a brave losing fight against the world over and die and sent Courier scurrying around court with a and solid groundstrokes.

Young II-Yoon, ranked 289th in the world on the ATP Tour, refused to roll variety of lobs, drop shots ican, who has now won three tournaments in this 1995 comeback year after taking a six-week break at the end of 1994 for burnout, had a match point in his favour saved while leading 5-4 in the second set as the Korean hit a sizzling cross-court winner. In earlier matches Ferriera

The flame-haired Amer-

dismissed a challenge from Britain's Jeremy Bates, 7-5.

Ferreira used solid groundstrokes to finally subdue, Bates, who at No. 54 in the world is at his career-best ranking at age 32. Graf taking a 4-week break

Top-ranked Steffi Graf says she is taking a four-week break from tennis to avoid burning herself out and to stay healthy.

In an interview with the Sport-Bild magazine released Tuesday, Graf said she would return at the German Open in Berlin May 15-2.
"If I continued to play

now, I'd burn myself out and I don't want to do that. The most important thing for me to stay and I'm going to take as much time off as I need." Graf was quoted as saying by the magazine.
Graf dismissed reports in some German newspapers that the back injury that kept her sidelined for several weeks had returned. She extended her 1995 unbeaten match streak to 18-0 by winning her fourth title of the year at the Houston women's tennis championship Sunday.

INDIANAPOLIS (AFP) -

worked with the former heavyweight champion during his conversion to Islam during a three-year prison stay here, said he spoke with Tyson on Sunday and was told time problems will prevent him travelling to Saudi Arabia for the Islamic 10-day Haj ceremony.

day said Tyson and ex-champ Mohammad Ali would travel there for the rite later this

finitely somewhere in between.

Joe Montana announces retirement

NEW YORK (R) - The fiercest of competitors and coolest of customers has called it quits, and fans will never get to see Joe Montana light up another Super Bowl. But what memories 'Joe

Cool' leaves behind. 'The catch.' 'The drive.' and oh those incredible comebacks. Two months short of his 39th birthday, after 16 sensational NFL seasons, 318 touchdown passes and injuries that would have stopped a lesser man years ear-clubs. Like Arnold Palmer, Muhammad Ali and Michael Jordan, Montana is one of those rare sportsmen who came to be considered a legend while still plying his lier. Joe Montana decided

"it's time to pull out the golf

"Playing! with him is like playing with Babe Ruth," former teammate Brent Jones once said, comparing Montana to the greatest icon of American sports.

Such reservence was felt by temma. and opponents

After Montana broke his heart in Super Bowl XXIII with the "The Drive," Cincinnati receiver. Chris Collinsworth said: "Joe Montana is not human. I don't want to call him a God but he's de-

To a fellow Bengal who thought they had the big game won. Collinsworth said: "Have you seen who's quarterbacking the 49ers?" All Montana did - just three years after potentially carrer-ending back surgery in 1986 — was march the 49ers 92 yards in 10 plays, completing seven of eight passes including the winning touchdown with 34 seconds left. He took San Francisco to four Super Bowls and won them all, without throwing a single interception.

Montana was named Most Valuable Player of the NFL's big show a record three times. His favourite receiver, Jerry Rice, was named MVP of the 1989 Super Bowl. But even Rice acknowledged that his quarterback was MVP of that game too.

The following year, Montana engineered the biggest blowout in Super Bowl history, a 55-10 humiliation of Denver, and rewrote the Super Bowl record book in the

Easter At

With the kind of poise and grace under pressure that only the great ones possess, montana dominated his sport in the 1980s and continued to strike fear into the hearts of opponents into the 1990. Two years away due to elbow surgery late in his career did little to dampen his competitive spirit. With nothing left to prove, the eighttime pro bowl selection demanded a trade to Kansas City rather than take a back seat to rising superstar Steve Young in San Francisco.

In his first year with the Chiefs he came within one victory of another Superi-Bowl

Other had greater natural athletic ability, but none could read a defence and pick it apart with the surgical precision of Montana.

FOR RENT

Fully-furnished ground floor apartment consisting of 4-bedrooms, spacious salon, Danish kitchen, Europeanstyle furniture, 400 sq.m. garden, independent utilities, telephone, satellite dish.

Location: Um- Uthayna. Call Tel.:863117.

GOREN BRIDGE

NO PLACE FOR ACES

Opening lead: Jack of *
When this hand was played in a team match, a grand slam in spades was bid at both tables. Both declarers found spectacular lines to bring in all the tricks. Once South, who was known to hold poor trumps, could look for trols to make it a visble proposition. The grand slam was then reached At one table declarer won the club lead in hand, cashed the ace of hearts and ruffed a heart with the ace of trumps. A diamond to the king provided the entry for another heart ruff, again with a high trump. The four of trumps to the nine was the entry for a third heart ruff. Dr. arer came to hand by ruffing the ace of chube with the low trump! Trumps were drawn and the rest of the tricks were claimed. This line

The other declarer did even better, unearthing an approach that would make even if trumps were 4-1, as long as diamonds were 3-2. After winning the king of clubs, declarer cashed the king of diamonds, then crossed to the ten of trumps and discarded the see of diamonds on the acr of clubs!

A diamond was ruffed high and, when West showed out, declarer now had to find trumps 3-2. The ace of hearts and a heart ruff provided the entry for another diamond ruff, setting up the suit. Declarer's last spade was overtaken in dummy. Trumps were drawn and the table's diamonds took the rest of the tricks.

MAID REQUIRED

Required live-in Filipina maid for an English family.

Please call 811041

ANNOUNCEMENT Royal Army of Oman

1-The Royal Army of Oman announces that it is in need for doctors to work as general practitioners in the army's medical services in accordance with the following conditions and qualifications:

 A. Applicants should be of Jordanian nationality. B. Should be medically fit and under 35 years of

C. Be of good conduct and never had been indicted in any case involving honour or integrity. D. Holders of medicine and surgery bachelors

E. Should have a minimum of three years experience after internships in various sections.

F. Experience with military institutions is a prefer-

Those selected will be given the rank of captain. 2- Fringe benefits can be obtained in detail from the military attache at the Omani Embassy in Amman. Applications, along with a CV in English, photocopies of certificates of experience and scientific degrees as well as a recent

photo of the applicant, should be sent to: P.O.Box. 211945 Amman 11121 Jordan

Within less than 15 days since the publication of the advertisement, mentioning the full mailing address clearly along with the telephone number. Dates for interviewing the applicants at the military Attache's office will be set later.

Ministry of Labour approval No. 7/1/13/116 date April 18, 1995.

Easter at the Marriott is a special feast. You and your family can enjoy our delightful lunch buffet at Al Mansaf Restaurant, with live entertainment. Three prizes will be given to the children who find the golden, silver and chocolate eggs in the egg hunt. Al Mansaf Restaurant Price: 12,500 JD + 10% Government Tax + 10% Service Charge. Children Half Price. AMMAN Marrioff Gifts from Zepter P.O.Box: 926333 Amman-jordan Tel: 607607 Fax: 670100

NEWS IN BRIEF

Iran convicts 3 Americans of spying

NICOSIA (R) — Iran said on Wednesday three Americans have been found guilty of spying for the United States and their case would be reviewed by Iran's supreme court. Iranian Television quoted the head of Iran's supreme court, Ayatollah Mohammad Mohammadi Gilani, as telling reporters in Tehran that the three unnamed Americans had "been found guilty by an Islamic revolution court, and their cases were now under review by the supreme court." Mr. Gilani described the three Americans as "mercenary agents who spied for America and its accomplices during the (1980-88 Iran-Iraq) war." Mr. Gilani did not say when the Americans were arrested or give any information on them. It was the first reported news on the three.

20% of ex-Soviet emigres to Israel not Jewish

TEL AVIV (AFP) — One in five immigrants to Israel from the former Soviet Union is not a Jew, the Jewish Agency announced Wednesday. The agency said 19.8 per cent or 110,283 of teh 557,370 immigrants who have flooded in since 1989 were not Jewish. Israel's "law of return" allows any Jew to immigrate and grants immediate citizenship and a range of benefits. It also applies to spouses and third generation descendants of Jewish mothers, which explains the figures for non-Jews. Avraham Burg, chairman of the agency, which oversees immigration, told reporters the policy would not change and Israel would continue to take in non-Jews.

Egypt to hold elections in Halaib

TENDENT TO CONTRACT TO CONTRAC

CAIRO (AP) - Egypt has taken the first step towards holding elections in a border region disputed with Sudan. which is likely to increase tensions between the two neighbours. On Tuesday, Egypt's consultative Shura Council approved a bill creating election districts in Halaib, a triangular patch of desert on the Red Sea. The National Assembly, or parliament, is expected to follow suit shortly. The move is in response to Sudan's announcement in February that it would hold elections in Halaib. Under an 1899 treaty, the land was incorporated into Egypt, which later gave Sudan administrative powers there. In 1991, Sudan tried to lease Red Sea oil rights off Halaib to a Canadian firm, triggering the present dispute in which both countries claim the land.

Talibans block fuel supplies into Kabul

KABUL (AP) — The Taliban militia, a leading opposition group in the civil war, has imposed a blockade on fuel coming into the capital in a bid to weaken the nominal government. Gasoline prices have doubled to the equivaent of $3.50 a gallon since the blockade began Monday, but it is unlikely to undermine President Burhanuddin Rabbani's government. "We have cut supplies of gasoline and diesel, but we are not stopping anything else such as flour," Taliban commander Haji Ubaiduilah told the Associated Press in an interview in Maidan Shahr, 30 kilometres southwest of Kabul. "The government is using the fuel to run their tanks and military hardware in their fight against us," Mr. Ubaidullah said in explaining the motive for the blockade. Mr. Rabbani's troops and their allies have driven all their opponents, including the Talibans, out of rocket range of Kabul and the city has been calm for the past month.

Jewish extremists call for murder of "K"

TEL AVIV (AFP) - Hardline Israeli nationalists called Wednesday for the murder of the new head of the internal intelligence agency Shin Beth whom they consider opposed to Jewish settlement on occupied territory. Israel military iid said it had received a statement from the "David's Shield" group calling for "the execution of the traitor who persecutes settlers." The group, which says it is linked to the outlawed Kach movement, gave the full name of the Shin Beth chief, which is banned by military censorship. He is identified only by the code letter "K." An expert on Jewish extremism, he took charge of Shin Beth in March. A Kach leader went to court to try to have the appointment

Three sentenced to death in Egypt

CAIRO (AFP) - Three militants were sentenced to death on Wednesday for killing a policeman and wounding two civilians in February 1992 in south Egypt, court sources said. Six other extremists were sentenced to life of hard labour while another was acquitted by the criminal court of Esna, 750 kilometres south of Cairo. The members of the outlawed Samaa Al Islamiyyah group were found guilty of murdering Mokhtar Ahmad 40, a member of state security, and injuring two civilians who tried to stop them during the attack in Esna. Badri Makhluf Hussein, who was already in prison, was found innocent of issuing orders from his cell to the others to commit attacks against police. Hussein is serving multiple sentences amounting to 60 years in prison for participation in attacks against tourists in 1992.

EU seeks Iranian pledge on Rushdie

TEHRAN (AFP) — European Union (EU) envoys met a senior Iranian official here on Wednesday and asked Tehran for a pledge not to harm British author Salman Rushdie, diplomatic sources said. The ambassadors of France, Germany and Spain - representing the past, present and futue presidents of the EU — presented Deputy Foreign Minister Mohammad Javad Zarif with a demand not to carry out the religious edict condemning Mr. Rushdie to death, the sources said. Their visit marked a new attempt by the EU to minimise the impact of the fatwa pronounced by former Iranian leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini on Mr. Rushdie in 1988 following publication of his book, "The Satanic Verses," judged blasphemous to Islam.

Tunisia sets up office in Gaza

GAZA CITY (AFP) - A Tunisian envoy presented his credentials to Yasser Arafat on Wednesday bringing to three the number of Arab countries with representatives in the Gaza Strip. Mohammad Al Munji Al Ajnaf told Mr. Arafat at his sea-side headquarters: "I will try to shoulder this responsibility until we reach the shores of peace." Tunisia joined Egypt and Morocco from the Arab World while Germany, Denmark, Norway and the Netherlands also have opened offices here and in the West Bank self-rule enclave of Jericho. "Tunisia has everlasting value for us and we will remain together until we pray together in Jerusalem as capital of independent Palestine." Mr. Arafat

Adel Imam's play highest earner

CAIRO (AP) - He is Egypt's leading comedian and star box office attraction, and now Adel Imam's latest play "The Leader" has become the highest earner in Egyptian theatre history. The comedy opened in the fall 1983, and after playing for 318 nights, it has made nearly 20 million pounds ($5.8 million). A quarter of that figure was paid to the government as taxes. Egypt's newspapers published pictures of the Monday night celebration by the cast of 'The Leader" after the figures were announced. The play. written by Farouk Sabry, is a political satire set in a fictional Third World dictatorship. The dictator dies and imam, his look-alike, winds up running the country and rejects the old system. As Egypt's leading comedian, Imam's movies are guaranteed box office successes and his plays usually have lengthy runs.

Iraqi trade unionists protest on Wednesday in front of the U.N. office in Baghdad a U.N. resolution to allow limited oil sales

Iraq protesters reject U.N. plan

BAGHDAD (Agencies) — Brandishing anti-U.S. banners, thousands of Iraqi demonstrators crammed Baghdad streets on Wednesday to voice their rejection of a U.N. plan allowing Iraq to sell limited amounts of oil.

About 10,000 people took to the streets in a demonstration reminiscent of anti-U.S. protests in the build-up to the 1991 Gulf war, when a U.S.led allied force drove Iraqi troops out of Kuwait.

This resolution is American, the Iraqi people do not accept it," read a banner hoisted by a group of Iraqi workers, It was the largest demonstration so far against the U.N. resolution, already rejected by the Iraqi cabinet since it was passed by the Security Council last Friday. The U.N. plan would allow

Iraq to sell up to $2 billion of oil over 180 days, renewable for another six months, to raise funds to pay for urgent-ly needed foodstuffs and

U.N. sanctions applied to

ltanian Piesident Akbat

Hashemi Rafsanjani said on Wednesday Tehran had no

plans to build atomic weanons and accused the United States of trying to block

its peaceful nuclear energy

Mr. Rafsanjani told a news conference in the Indian capital he expected Russia to provide four nuclear reactors valued at between $800 million and $1 billion to Iran

despite U.S. objections.
"So far we have no plans to build atomic weapons," Mr.

"We do believe that the application of this type of weapon will have a devastating effect on humanity," Mr.

Rafsanjnai said. "I believe what the Americans have done by bombing Hiroshima.

they can never get rid of the

Asked if Russia would deiver the four reactors despite

U.S. pressure, Mr. Rafsan-iani said: "I find it difficult that the Russians will accept such slander and insult from the Americans as they play with the dignity of a great

Rafsanjani said.

Iraq after the 1990 invasion of Kuwait have devastated its economy, but Baghdad says the terms of the resolution infringe on its sovereignty.

Iraqi trade unions, led the demonstrators. "As trade unions, we cannot accept this resolution and

Fadhil Ghareeb. head of have written to the govern-ment about it," Mr. Ghareeb told Reuters. "It (resolution) will not operate a single factory, not employ a single worker and not lesson inflation." he said. "It is like slow death. Therefore we cannot accept Mr. Ghareeb said. adding that Iraqi trade unions will confront the plan "with all possible means."

The ruling Baath Party newspaper on Wednesday dismissed the resolution as 'mean and vicious" and said Iraq would settle for nothing short of a total lifting of the ban on its oil exports.

"Our rejection of this conspiratorial, vicious American resolution stems from the fact that the Iraqi people shall not state visit, said his views on the nuclear Non-Proliferation

Treaty (NPT) were at odds with New Delhi which says the pack, up for review, discriminates against non-

"We do agree with the extension of the NPT," he said. "But there are conditions and words that need to be expressed. You shall be hearing our position in this

Mr. Rafsanjani jokingly

dismissed a remark by a senior U.S. official who said he would have postponed a visit to India if he had known that it coincided with a trip by the United States not to know of my visit to this country since it was known for many months," Mr. Rafsanjani said when asked about the comment by U.S. Treasury Secretary Robert Rubin.

gence (the Americans) are receiving is like this than they have a difficult task on their hands," he joked.

"If the rest of the intelli-

"I think it is quite ugly for the Iranian head of state.

on the last day

nuclear states.

regard.

Rafsanjani: No plan to build A-bombs of a unree-cav

NEW DELHI (Agencies) - Mr. Rafsanjani, speaking Mr. Rubin, who arrived in referring to $17 billion Iran allow foreigners to make use of its national wealth until doomsday," the paper said in a front-page editorial.

Iraq's cabinet at the weekend flatly spurned the U.N. plan and Baghdad newspapers carried an address by President Saddam Hussein in which he said Iraq's enemies were "astonished with the Iraqi people's attitude rejecting the American resolution.

The Baath Party paper said the only way out of the impass was for the U.N. to acknowledge that Iraq has complied with Gulf war ceasefire terms requiring it to dismantle its weapons systems and to lift sanctions entirely.

Babel Newspaper said the resolution was a conspiracy which Iraq flatly rejects. Iraq preferred further "tightening of belts" to accepting such a resolution, it said.

Iraqi parliamentary committees are discussing the resolution pending a formal session Iraqi legislators are to same day as Mr. Rafsanjani, told reporters here Tuesday

he would have postponed his trip if he had known ahead of time that the Iranian presi-

Mr. Rafsanjani said his country would consider strengthening strained relations with the United States if

Washington first released billions of dollars of frozen

in the United States," Mr.

Rafsanjani told the news con-should first prove they do not have any misintentions in their behaviour so that we could have further consideration for our future refer-

Mr. Rafsanjani said: "We feel one such indication of goodwill from the United States could be the release of our frozen assets of our country. That would be a good

Iranian Foreign Minister

Ali Akbar Velayati told Reuters that Mr. Rafsanjani was

"We believe that they

"We do not have any trust

dent would be here.

In Abu Dhabi, Organisa-tion of Palestine Exporting Countries Secretary-General Rilwand Lukman said Iraq's return to the oil market if U.N. sanctions are eased would not weaken prices.

Mr. Lukman, on his arrival in the United Arab Emirates (UAE) as part of a Gulf tour. said, however, that OPEC oil ministers would hold emergency talks if the United Nations allowed Iraq back to the market.

"I do not know what the result of the U.N. resolution will be but I think that Iraq's resumption of oil exports according to OPEC rules till not affect oil prices," Mr. Lukman told reporters.

"After the sanctions are lifted, OPEC will hold an emergency meeting to discuss Iraq's comeback to the mar-

"We hope such a return will be compatible with the organisation's rules and policies on production quotas assigned to each member state so the market will not be destabilised," he said.

the 1979 Islamic revolution.

offered to mediate in a dis-nute between India and Pakistan over Kashmir, but said the United States must not be allowed to get in-

The Iranian leader, speaking warmly of India's secular tradition, said the issue of Kashmir and a Hindu-

Muslim dispute over the demolition of a mosque should not be used for propaganda against New Delhi.

"I am not satisfied nor happy with the situation in Kashmir," Mr. Rafsanjani readiness for mediation with India and Pakistan and the people of Kashmir," he said.

"But we are also aware of

"We have announced our told a news conference.

volved.

Mr. Rafsanjani also

PLO-ruled territory.

compromise.
"Our decision is to reject

lated in Gaza.

the statement said. Mahmoud Zahar, a Hamas political leader, said the two sides were not close to an is trying to give the impression that a deal is being made to show the Israelis that they have done something," Dr. Zahar told the Associated

Dr. Zahar said Egypt was trying to mediate between the militants and Arafat. He said he and other Hamas leaders met Tuesday night with the Egyptian representative to Gaza, Mohammad Кагіт.

Mr. Arafat last week set a May 11 deadline for militant groups to surrender their weapons.

The ultimatum was part of a crackdown carried out after back-to-back suicide bombings on April 9. Seven Israelis and an American were killed in the explosions near two Jewish settlements in Gaza.

reports of American involvement in the dispute which must not be allowed." Mr. Rafsanjani spoke as U.S. Ambassador to India Frank Wisner prepared to visit Kashmir next month, the highest ranking U.S. official to set foot in the Himalayan region in five years. attacks on Israelis.

Hamas rejects Arafat order to disarm

GAZA CITY (Agencies) — The militant Hamas group, which has tried to halt Israel-Palestinian peacemaking with a series of suicide bombings. said Wednesday they would not surrender weapons or stop attacks against Israel.

Izzedine Al Qassam, the military wing of the Islamic Resistance Movement. Hamas, issued the leaflet after reports that a deal was being worked out between Hamas and Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat to end the Officials in Mr. Arafat's self-rule government met several times over the past few days with Hamas leaders to head off a confrontation and work out an understand-

Arafat spokesman Nabil Abu Irdeineh said Wednesday that some progress was being made.
"There are positive signs, and they are talking in a different language these days," Mr. Irdeineh said. "We are encouraging them. and we are waiting for them to join us and to respect the signature of the PLO (on the peace accord).

Mr. Abu Irdeineh said that as a first step, Mr. Arafat wanted a pledge from Hamas and the smaller Islamic Jihad that they do not carry out attacks against Israelis from

However, the Izzedine Al Qassam leaflet ruled out the disarming of our fight-ers," said the leaflet circu-

"The holy war will continue in every part of our occupied Palestinian land where (Israeli) soldiers and settlers are present, whether in Gaza, the West Bank or in the occupied lands of 1948," agreement.

The attacks resulted in fresh Israeli and U.S. pressure on Mr. Arafat to rein in the militants. Israeli has warned it would not pull troops out of West Bank towns, as stipulated in the peace accord, unless Mr. Arafat did a better job foiling

Japan's Princess Sayako turns 26 _

TOKYO (AP) - Princess

Savako, the only daughter of Japan's Emperor Akilito and Empress Michiko, turned 26 Tuesday. And, though rumours may abound, she says she is in no hurry to get married. Princess Sayako is the youngest of the imperial couple's three children, and the only one still single, Over the past few years, rumours have had her on the verge of marrying several times. "I would prefer to take it at me own pace," she said in a written response to questions posed by the media. Unlike her brothers — imperial heir Naruhito and Prince Akishino, who is second in line to the throne - Princess Sayako cannot assume the throne. If she marries, she also will lose her status as an imperial princess, and must relinquish her annual stipend and residence with her parents at the imperial palace.

Winnie Mandela enters hospital

JOHANNESBURG (AFP) Winnie Mandela was admitted to a private clinic here suffering from stress Tuesday, a day after resigning her South African government post, public SABC television said. The Linksfield Park Clinic confirmed Mrs. Mandela had been admitted but refused to comment on her condition, saying it had to protect the privacy of its patients. Friends and family members of the estranged wife of President Nelson Mandela pleaded with journalists waiting at the hospital to leave her alone as she needed rest. The SABC report said tests were being conducting on Mrs. Mandela but gave no details. Mrs. Mandela Monday resigned from her position as deputy minister of arts, culture, science and technology, just hours before her official axing from the post was due to come into effect. Reading a press statement at her home in Johannesburg's main black township Soweto, Mrs. Mandela sounded hoarse and was suffering from flu.

" es

de Golan

 $\Re r_{i,j} = \omega_{i,j} = \omega$

Protest

Membassy

The state of the noience in

Italy's bleeding Madonna freed from custody

CIVITAVECCHIA, Italy (R) — Judicial authorities said they had lifted a "custody order" on a statue of the Madonna whose reported tears of blood have caused thousands of Italy's faithful to flock to this port city. Magistrate Antonio Albano lifted an injunction ordering the local bishop, Girolamo Grillo, to keep the statue locked in a sealed closet in his home pending the results of an investigation into the whether the bleeding was a hoax. Mr. Albano did not say. why he had revoked the order. Earlier he had said allowing the statue to remain the subject of veneration while the scientific verdict was still pending risked violating laws forbidding "abuse of public sensitivities Since the 40-cm (15-inch) the at high statue of the Virgin 🚜 Mary first reportedly wept tears of blood in February. thousands of people have visited Civitavecchia hoping to witness a miracle. Initial testshave shown that the red is: quid on the face of the statue, which was purchased at the religious shrine of Med jugorje in Bosnia, was male blood. But so far there has been no conclusive evidence of how it got there.

of how it got there. N. Zealand police threw baby from car

WELLINGTON (R) — New ...

Zealand Police searched Wednesday for a man alleged to have thrown his baby daughter from a moving carried killing her. Police quoted will nesses as saying the five month-old girl was thrown from the car Wednesday from the car Wednesday afternoon, near the North Island town of Wairoa. The child died on impact. The had no idea of a motive for the incident. When we were the surprehend the guy we were the surprehend the guy we were the surprehend the surprehe the incident. When we may apprehend the guy we may looking for, we'll ask him. detective Sergeant Rei Page Said. Five people, including the baby's mother and the said other infants, were in the said when the infant was thrown the infant was thrown the said of the s

Lloyd's observation at Aqaba proceeds smoothly

By P.V. Vivekanand Jordan Times Staff Reporter

AMMAN — Agaba-based independent observers have not spotted any Jordanian violation of the trade sanctions against Iraq since they took up post in August, and the observation arrangement at the Red Sea port is firmly in place. senior officials of the Lloyd's Register of shipping said Wednesday.

A.J. Sanders and A. Whitehead, director and manager respectively of the London-based organisation, also said the U.N. Sanctions Committee had expressed high satisfaction with the observation procedures at Agaba.

Lloyd's Register, a nonprofit organisation, sent an-eight member observer team to Aqaba in August to replace offshore inspection with a land-based regime to monitor Jordan's adherence to the international sanctions against

The offshore inspection was carried out by a multinational force led by American warships carrying inspectors who used to check all Aqaba-bound shipping.

The end to the inspections came after intense Jordanian efforts prompted by substantial losses that Jordanian importers suffered as a result of the costly and time-consuming process.

The inspections were also seen as an affront to Jordan since they were conducted despite the Kingdom's repeated reaffirmation of its respect for all United Nations decisions and resolutions.

Mr. Whitehead, one of the key Lloyd's people involved in the behind-thescenes efforts that led to the land-based regime setting up base at the port, said: "Since the Lloyd's Register team took position, we have not spotted a single violation of the sanctions at Agaba

"We have established an excellent working relationship with everyone con-cerned," Mr. Whitehead told the Jordan Times on the fringes of a Lloyd's Register seminar in Am-"Everyone, particularly the Ports Corporation, the customs people and shipping agents, are extending full cooperation, and we have not encountered any problems," he added. Mr. Sanders said Lloyd's Register had reported twice to the U.N. Sanctions Committee on its activities at the port. "The sanctions committee chairman and members were very happy with our performance, said Mr. Sanders.

All the eight members of the observation mission at Aqaba are Lloyd's Register International staff in line with the organisation's determination to prove its "independence, impartiality and integrity - the three 'i's," Mr. Whitehead said. "What we are doing at Aqaba is a clear application of these principles to the satisfaction of all people concerned." hè said. "We are not policemen trying to impose anything on anybody," he added. "We are here under an explicit agreement among al the parties concerned. and we will remain there until the concerned parties ask us to leave.

Another sign of the three "i's" that Lloyd's Register abides by is evident in the payment arrangement for its services, Mr. Whitehead said, noting that the organisation does not get paid directly from Jordan.

The Ports Corporation collects a token fee based on tonnage and volume of the cargo coming to Aqaba and remits it to a special U.N. account. Lloyd's Register prepares its own invoices and sends it to the U.N. General Secretariat. which makes the payment from the special account.

"This is aimed at ensuring the transparency of the whole arrangement and to make it clear that there is no money passing directly from Jordan to Lloyd's Register." Mr. Whitehead added.

Mr. Sanders estimated the total cost of Lloyd's Register servides at Aqaba at around $2 million per year. That compares with the tens of millions of dollars that Jordanian importers had to pay in extra freight cost and for delayed/rerouted shipments. Lloyd's Register surveyors at Aqaba take part in the routine customs inspection procedures that govern all cargo coming to and leaving Jordan and ensures that the goods correspond with the accompanying documents.

Since customs inspections are mandatory in Jordan for all incoming and outgoing cargo, the Lloyd's Register observation has no bearing on the sovereignty of the King-

The surveyors are not authorised to stop any cargo coming to lordan or any Jordanian consignment leaving the port since the Kingdom is not under any embargo: they could only make note of any possible

(Continued on page 7)